

NOTE BY PRESIDENT MELBOURNE LEGACY

1988

Perhaps the worst thing the newly-nominated President of Legacy can do is to look at the Honour Board that lists Past Presidents. The thought of following in their footsteps for a year is a daunting prospect.

However, from the very beginning, whether visiting locally or country Groups and Clubs or in the day-to-day activities, one again soon sees and feels evidence of what one always knew but only perceived from a lower level - the Legacy movement is comradeship and assistance. This makes the President's task so pleasant and rewarding.

In addition, we are fortunate in having a dedicated and friendly staff. Without them behind us, we could accomplish little.

Like my predecessors whose names appear in the front of the Diary and on the Honour Board I thank Melbourne Legatees for the privilege of being their President in 1988.
