Mr. THOMAS HOGG - 1821 - 1891

Mr. Thomas Hogg was a native of Scotland. He was born at Merton, near Edinburgh in February, 1821 and spent his early years in and around that city. He worked for eight years in the Edinburgh Post Office. Shortly after marrying, he migrated to Australia, arriving in Sydney in 1853. Two years later he moved to Victoria where he settled in Brighton for several years before moving to the Parish of Yering.

Early in 1866, Mr. Hogg selected land in Victoria Road - Lot V11 A Parish of Gruyere, and associated himself with the early life of Wandin. He was a member of the Methodist Church from its inception, and did the carpentry work on the first church building which opened in 1869. He was a foundation Trustee of the church property and a member of the Board of Advice and Correspondent of the Common School. He was one of those instrumental in starting the first Sunday School in Wandin, and was Superintendent for 18 years until failing health compelled his retirement.

For a number of years, Mr. Hogg operated a private jam factory on his property which provided a welcome outlet for much of the fruit of the district, particularly raspberries. His products were high quality and enjoyed a wide sale.

Mr. Hogg died after a long illness on November 23, 1891 aged 71 years. He was survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters, James, John, Thomas, Mary, Isabella and Janet (Mrs. Thomas Rouget). Members of his family later acquired property in Queens Road where they lived for many years.
