Magazine and the school. It has been a year of many achievements and many new ideas. It has been a year of many new friends and many new enemies. It has been a year of many new experiences and many new adventures. It has been a year of many new memories and many new lessons. It has been a year of many new friends and many new

FROM THE OFFICE

Early this year I was as new to Ashwood High as the 180 of you who also joined it then. Now, as our first year nears its end, we are all beginning to feel that we belong here. It takes time for a newcomer to be accepted, and time for him to adapt to a new home. Sometimes we still envy those of you who have grown with this school and helped to make it, but we are sure now that we like Ashwood and can look forward to our second year with more pleasure.

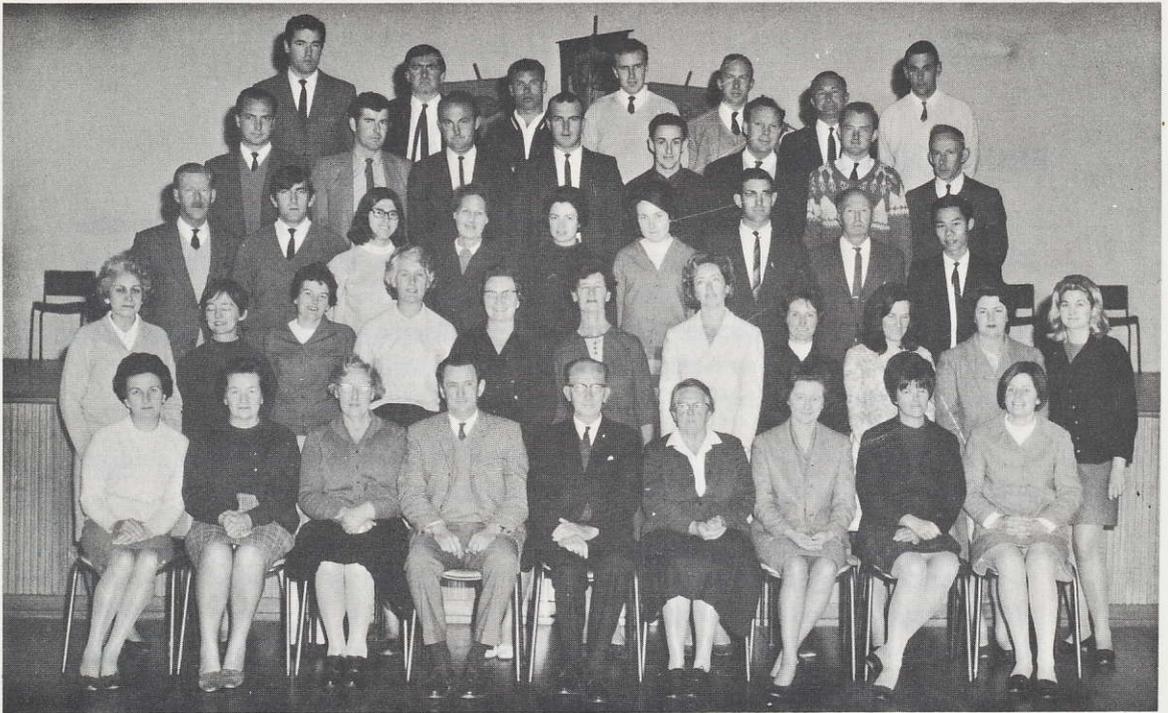

We would like to thank you senior members of the school — all you students and teachers who were here before us — for making us feel welcome.

In February another contingent of newcomers will arrive, all very proud of at last being High School students and all a little scared of this new world they are entering. I hope you will think more of them than of yourselves during the first school weeks of 1969. They will need your help and you will have the power to make them feel happy — or miserable.

Next year should be the best year yet for Ashwood High, but it will depend upon our eagerness to make a good beginning and our willingness to help each other.

M. McKay.

THE ASSEMBLY HALL

On Sunday, June 23rd, our Assembly Hall was officially opened by Mr. L. Matthews, President of the Advisory Council.

Mr. Matthews introduced the guests of honour, including Mr. H. Butler, the school's first Headmaster, Mr. Ian McLaren, M.L.A., and the little group of parents and friends who had worked untiringly for the project since the school's earliest years. He spoke of his own great interest in the Hall and of his satisfaction in seeing it completed so handsomely. He looked back over the years of loyal support given by parents, teachers and students and then, on behalf of these and the present Advisory Council, he placed the care of the Hall in the hands of the Principal and of all those who would use it.

The cost of the Hall, with curtains to be added later in the year, would be almost $100,000. Part of this, obtained on loan, still had to be met by annual payments and would require the continued interest of parents.

Prefects were then presented with their badges of office and Robyn Morrison and Jim Ross were especially congratulated by Mr. Butler on being elected to the positions of Head Prefects and School Captains.

Staff Notes

This year has seen many changes in the composition of the Staff, the number of newcomers to the school being 21, some of whom stayed for only a short time. Mr. Doessel soon departed for the warmer clime of his home state and Mr. Hutchison left to join the Commonwealth Public Service. To our sorrow, Mr. Boa left to take up a teaching post in Canada. Mr. Kennedy made a flying visit from Rushworth, found the cuisine to his liking, and is now departing with one of the cooks. Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Teasdale opened up an espresso bar in the new Science block, while Messrs. Blackman and Thompson were recruited from Seymour and Mt. Waverley respectively — especially to teach IVC.

Other arrivals included Mesdames Abbott, Mercer, Flanagan and Strangward; Misses Power, Glasscott, Corrigan and Townsend; and Messrs. Schultz, Inglis, Wong, Laughton, Quinn and Lawson, the latter having thrown up his work in the Rutherglen area to join our staff.

At the time of writing it seems certain that we shall be losing Mrs. Davies to Glen Waverley, Mr. O'Hanlon to Brunswick and Miss Jackson to Traralgon where a warm welcome awaits her. It is also rumoured that a neighbouring High School is eliminating every subject except Geography from its curriculum in preparation for its Principal-elect.

SCHOOL ORGANISATIONS

Advisory Council

At the triennial election held on June 26th, the following members were elected: Mrs. M. Rusch, Mrs. K. Hayes, Mr. P. B. Jackson, Mr. W. K. Williams, Mr. W. Storey. The following were appointed by the District Inspector, Mr. A. Hird, and the Principal, who are also members of the Council: Mr. L. Matthews, Mr. P. Hallo, Mr. W. J. Giblett, Mr. J. Currie and Mr. H. Waters.

Municipal Councils are represented by Cr. J. Van Staveren (Waverley) and Cr. J. Jackson (Camberwell) and the Mothers' Club by Mrs. S. Larsen and Mrs. R. Carlton.

Mr. Len Giddings, one of the original members of the Advisory Council, and Mrs. Jean Fraser who had given six years of service did not stand for re-election, and since then the Chairman, Mr. Len Matthews, who had been on the Council since its second year, has retired as his duties frequently take him out of the state. We are greatly indebted to these good people for their services to the school and trust that they will be frequent visitors.

In addition to the completion of the Assembly Hall, which is reported elsewhere, the Advisory Council arranged for the fencing of the basketball courts so that they could be used also as tennis courts, advanced funds for the furnishing of the Sixth Form Common Room and arranged for a great deal of repair work and renovation in and around the school.

It has been a year of achievement and progress, due very largely to the interest and good judgment of members of the Council and the Co-operative Society, to all of whom the school extends its grateful thanks.

Behind the Scenes

People who are partly responsible for the smooth running of a school but who are often unknown parents and students are the maintenance team members that look after the school buildings and grounds so well.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham live in the caretaker's house on High-street Road and take a keen interest in the general welfare of the school. Mr. Jones has his own special sections of the school, including the Science block, and we rely upon him for emergency repair work. Mr. S. Cunningham jnr. is in charge of the Hall and takes a pride in keeping this in excellent condition. Mrs. Kolk is well-known to the Cookery classes for her work in the Domestic Science section. A familiar figure out of doors is our Groundsman, Mr. J. Howard, who takes a keen interest in keeping the playing fields and plantations in good order.

To all these people we offer our compliments on jobs very well done and their happy relationships with the rest of the school.

Better known to the students are Mrs. W. England and Mrs. J. Gregory in the school office. The former has been associated with the school since its beginning, at first as a busy member of the Mothers' Club. The school depends upon them for a great many of its activities which centre upon the office where we always receive very willing and cheerful assistance.

Mothers' Club & Canteen Committee

As usual, the Mothers' Club has been the mainstay of the school in matters concerning the day-to-day welfare of students. It has met regularly on the fourth Tuesday of each month at 1.30 p.m. and will continue to do so next year. To these meetings it invites all mothers, assuring them of a warm welcome and a pleasant association as well as the opportunity to be of direct service to the school.

Mrs. Pat White is now the President, with Mrs. Marj. Rusch and Mrs. Ruth Carlton as Vice-presidents, Mrs. Betty Long as Secretary and Mrs. Kath. Hayes as Treasurer. Mrs. Joyce Smyth has looked after the Canteen Roster most efficiently. Other members of the Committee are Mrs. Alva Wilson, Mrs. Val Sykes, Mrs. Etta Ferres, Mrs. Claire Hood and Mrs. Avie Morrison.

As well as its annual contribution to the success of the Fete by running the Fancy Goods, Cakes, and Sweets Stalls and assisting with the Plants, the Club has conducted a Street Stall and several very enjoyable social occasions, some of which contributed to its funds. On its birthday, March 18th, the club handed over to the Advisory Council for school use its cash balance of $250.

Mrs. Long and Mrs. Rusch have continued to provide services to parents by the sale of second-hand uniforms and raincoats.

The Canteen Committee has worked in close co-operation with the Mothers' Club and the Canteen Staff, under the able leadership of Mr. P. Hallo, Mrs. Storey and Mrs. Perriman, and has ensured the continued success of this very useful amenity. With the Mothers' Club and all members of the school, the Committee acknowledges the pleasant and very able management of the Canteen by Mrs. Peg Clarke and her assistant Mrs. Joyce Buchanan.

P. & C. Association

Meetings of the Parents and Citizens Association have been well attended, but more members and wider interest of parents are always sought. This is the welfare organization that, among other things, runs the annual School Fete and thereby provides funds for many of the school's needs.

This year the Fete showed a profit of almost $1650. For the first time, several of the stalls were held in the Hall and this innovation made the Fete more enjoyable for everyone. Interesting features this year were an exhibition of marching by the Waverley Marching Girls Club and a rocket-launching display by a group of our own students. Funds were greatly increased by a successful Popular Pets Contest and the interest shown by students in the collection of groceries. As usual, prefects and other seniors assisted on the day of the Fete at the refreshments stall and by providing a car-wash service.

President of the Association is Mr. Merv. Hill and Treasurer Mrs. Lerch, who is noted for her clear and detailed presentation of accounts. The resignation of Mr. Fildes as Secretary was accepted with regret following his valuable service to the Association and the school over a long period.

PREFECTS

 Second Row: D. Voon, J. Bradshaw, R. Woods, L. Nelson, P. Trantallis, J. Cook, D. Little.
 Third Row: G. Perry, D. Marks, J. Harding, M. Jordon, R. Wilkinson, R. Searle, G. Mawby, P. Grant.
 Seated: J. Fildes, R. Munro, R. Morrison (Girls Head Prefect), J. Ross (Boys Head Prefect), G. Wade, P. Gormann, I. Kotoukis.

Students' Representative Council

The S.R.C., inaugurated in August, represents a significant advance in the administration of the school. It provides students with an orderly and united way of voicing their opinions and recommending any changes they consider necessary in the running of the school.

The council cannot be expected to bring about radical changes however. Nor is it a pressure group, forcing issues. It operates only on an advisory basis, enabling the headmaster to gain a broader view of student opinion, and act accordingly. Some may discount it as static and achieving nothing. However, with the support of every student, it can initiate changes which will make our school a better one all round. Next year we hope to see an increase in general interest and support.

Social Service

The students through the Social Service collections have once again carried out community service in 1968. This year three main projects have been supported — the Berry St. Babies Home, the Tally Ho Boys Home, and Kalpona Sahan, an Indian girl in Calcutta. Many schemes have been mounted to raise the total of $500. 28 students carried out a Door-Knock appeal in the Ashwood area. Over 100 students participated in the "Long Walk" to raise money for the Australian Aborigines Advancement League.

Sixth Form Social Club

With a $250 debt, and a sixty-strong membership, the Sixth Form Social Club began operation in the Assembly Hall Foyer in June. Now there is only a $180 debt, and still sixty members, we are happy to say.

The aim of the club is to foster a liking for that "school on the top of the hill" and to allow students to have a place for respite from those dreaded boxes south-west of the foyer. Coffee and tea are served by competent waitresses and dishes are washed by members of both sexes. A game of table tennis was occasionally permitted and with the aquirement of a somewhat battered machine, we were allowed to hear Stan Rofe beating out the drums. There can be no doubt, this did encourage people to remain at school for afternoon classes.

Mrs. Boyd, Sue Hall's grandmother, allowed her home to be bombarded with fifty Tarax-swilling, hip-swinging students all in a good cause — 12.00 was raised. A similar occurrence at "Lila Smith's Humpy" succeeded in raising another $12.00 for the kitty.

Proposals have been made in future for parties, film nights, beach parties and more parties.

So to the future, Sixth Form Social Clubbers, we hand on a debt of $180, an urn, six laminex tables, two dozen chairs, two dozen plastic spoons and our heartiest good luck.

Margot Paull.

FROM THE SENIOR SCHOOL

Junior and Senior High Schools — A Promised Fairytale?

Over the past few years there has been considerable discussion (and consequently, little action) concerning the proposal to introduce a scheme of Junior and Senior High Schools into the State Education System. School Principals, teachers and students have all welcomed this scheme, in general, perhaps envisaging something akin to the plan which has been introduced into New South Wales schools. As the cynics (or realists, as you wish) predicted, this scheme was considered by the usual "select committee", passed in principle, and quietly placed in one of the darkest pigeon-holes.

In New South Wales, this junior-senior scheme is being introduced as part of a totally new education system — in Victoria, the method seems to be to try new schemes out in pilot runs and then only after great pressure from the people (and usually too late). As Gwyneth Dow said in "The Age" National Review in July — "Hence we may expect one senior high school to be set up in 1970 at Broadmeadows". Such is the price of change, at least in Victoria.

While the introduction of these schools may seem geared to benefit our great-grandchildren, at least we can be sure that they will benefit, even if this is only because the present "rulers in the education kingdom" will be definitely out of office and power by then!

The benefits of such a system are largely for senior students: a main feature of this scheme is that it will be less school-like or prohibitive and will offer more freedoms to senior students who suffer greatly under a disciplinary system that also caters for 12-year-olds. Curriculum changes are also anticipated—changes that will give a wider variety of subjects and that will not be geared to passing a Matriculation exam (or any other name they like to give it).

However, all this can only be done if there is great co-operation between government, teachers and students. As a soon-to-be ex-student, it is obvious to me that the government is the hardest to convince of the three.

The vast majority of teachers and all students, certainly believe that the proposed new scheme is worthwhile.

The benefits mentioned have been slanted towards the senior students — no mention has or will be made of benefits for junior students as this involves a topic all to itself. What can be said is that many changes are being made in primary schools and these changes are directly affecting junior secondary students; hence, they will be well taken care of, but the senior students are the group that, at present, is being well and truly neglected.

The quick introduction of a junior-senior high school system could solve many problems at all levels — there would be obstacles to be surmounted, some difficulties would arise, others would be deliberately placed in the way, but all could be dealt with by quick, thoughtful and direct action by the proper authorities.

But, perhaps this is too much to expect from the present system which has already shown itself to be outmoded, outdated and outpaced by its own products: a system which will not teach change, which is frightened by change and which will never accept change, even for the common good. Could it be that the whole system should be replaced completely, and not just altered by some petty name changing here and there? Is it possible that the supposed intelligence of this, "with it" modern world could create a system of effective and practical learning, or is it true that we have the type of education system that we deserve?

J. Harding, 6B

Science Talent Search 1968

This is conducted by the Science Teachers Association of Victoria, and is open to all secondary school students under 19 years of age. Cash bursaries are awarded according to the merit of the project submitted.

Aims of Science Talent Search

1. To make students aware of the need for independent research along lines of individual interest.
2. To encourage the development of experimental techniques and manipulative skills as an essential part of scientific training.
3. To stimulate greater interest in science students and to encourage embryonic future scientists by means of bursary awards and opportunities for them to display their talents.

This year's entries were as follows:—

	No. of Entries	No. of Awards
State Schools	72	40
Private Schools	198	86

Although there were far more entries from private schools, the entries from State Schools seem to be of a higher standard (over 50% of entries were granted bursaries).

Another interesting trend arises out of the 1967 results shown below:—

	No. of Pupils	No. of S.T.S. Awards	Total Value of Awards
State Schools	187,498	52	$1,003
Private Schools	69,505	105	$1,333

Surely this shows another example of the lack of interest shown by science teachers in State Schools towards this type of activity. However, teachers are not entirely to blame, but the education system, which places too much emphasis on passing exams, leaving little time for students to indulge in such activities.

Students should however, be encouraged by their teachers to engage in activities such as this, thus developing their own fields of scientific interest.

Are private schools better than state schools in the teaching of science? Perhaps the number of awards in the S.T.S. is not a proper measure. Yet, these would appear to be obvious and tangible measures of the effectiveness of the different school systems. Private school science teaching should be better than in state schools, thanks to the taxpayers' (perhaps unwitting) support. (Australian private schools have received 27% MORE Commonwealth Science Grant than State schools over the past four years.)

EXCURSIONS

The National Gallery

On the whole, I found the Arts Centre an attractive structure — attractive from the inside and unique from the outside.

The outside of the gallery, I found very interesting although it did not impress me to the extent that the inside did. The first impression that I gained from looking at the exterior was one of plainness. In my opinion, a few large murals could have been incised in the outer front wall to break the monotony of the grey, rather forlorn-looking bricks. The idea of the moat is a very unique one for a gallery, but again it seemed to look rather forlorn—perhaps a modern sculpture or statue could have improved this. Generally speaking, the castle effect is truly interesting.

On crossing the moat and seeing the water flowing down the huge frontal glass panes, I gained a really sensational feeling. I just had to stand and marvel at this beautiful rippled glass wall, for it looked really excellent. Automatically, I was tempted to touch the glass and see if the water was real. It was!

The first impression that the visitor gains from the outlook of the gallery is a very important one — the impression must be good for this influences you in your outlook on the rest of the building and its contents.

Another thing which did not impress me very much, was the courtyards. When I first saw them they seemed incomplete and reminded me of a type of prison and produced a heavy atmosphere. A few trees should be planted to relieve this doleful subdued scene of the grey walls, and to introduce some colour. The sculptures these (at the court-yards) also could have been improved — perhaps more impressive ones should have been placed in the court-yards.

The inside of the gallery was very attractive indeed, a perfect setting for the various masterpieces displayed. Nothing seemed cramped and the visitor could move about the various passages and halls with ease. The paintings and pottery displays were set out so that you could easily see them. Lighting however in some places could have been improved, for in-between the gallery sections, it was rather dark, and as a result, the various works of art there could not be seen to their fullest beauty. Changes in floor coverings were also a good thing — different coloured carpets, sections of tiled wood, etc., relieved the eye and gave you a 'fresh start' at looking at a new section of paintings or such. The rather low ceilings, with the geometrical wooden panels hanging from them gave the feeling of firmness, and made the paintings and various cabinets seem more solidly placed. A high soaring ceiling would not give this feeling of firmness and closeness.

With the aid of carpeted ceilings and walls, a quiet and relaxed atmosphere was maintained and one could therefore browse amongst the various places with comfort and ease.

Shell Oil Refinery Excursion

On Wednesday, 25th September, accompanied by Mr. Nicholson, Miss Jackson and Mrs. Abbott, we were taken on an all-expenses-paid tour of the Geelong Shell Oil Refinery.

We left at about 9.00 a.m. and arrived at approximately 10.15 a.m. We were then introduced to Mr. Morrison, our guide, who within a few minutes took us into the canteen for morning tea.

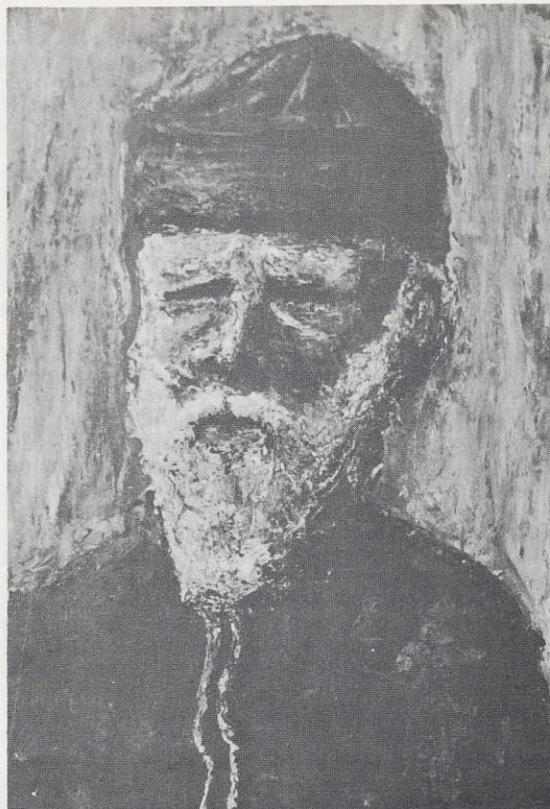

After this, we were taken up several flights of stairs past what looked like a very modern library, into the lecture room. This was a large room, equipped with comfortable seats; also there were large pictures and charts in key positions around the room. The predominant chart was one which was spread over the top half of one wall. On the bottom half of this wall were bottles of samples.

It was in this room that we found out most about the actual working of an oil refinery, which consists mainly of the process of distillation.

We spent three hours in this room, after which we were given safety helmets and guided around to see the fascinating things we had been told about. From there we returned to the canteen and had a very nice lunch before leaving to return to school.

I would like to thank the teachers and the Shell Oil Company for a very enjoyable and interesting day out.

What fools these mortals be

How like children some adults are when one listens to the news of President Johnson's honest attempt to bring peace to Vietnam, only to hear Ho Chi Minh use this attempt like a spiteful child to gain face and to goad the United States and their allies into continuing the horrible war. In the meantime American and Vietnamese, both north and south, will go on being slaughtered. If Ho's attitude does not change the full might of the United States could be turned against him and the risk of a nuclear holocaust increased.

Gai-Louise Campbell.

The Tiger

*Through the jungle I tramped,
Hunting endlessly for the game,
That meant peace for the natives
But not for me.
For when I shot the vicious beast,
It seemed it was helpless,
And my untailling gun was no fair match.
As the striped fur of the animal
Ruffled in the wind,
I thought
Had I the right to kill what nature had helped create?*

Joy Adcock, 4B.

The Old Woman

*Wrinkles of worry, hard work and sadness
Cover her face, especially her brow.
The man she loved,
The children she had,
She lost them all,
Thinking of them makes her sad.
All the years she worked so hard,
To survive without even a birthday present or card,
Now she's grown old and lives in an empty room,
Where she shivers from the cold as there is no heater.
Every day her sickness worsens.
This long life is so bleak and lonely
With no-one to care.*

Louise Barker, 2A.

Jill Monette, 3B.

The Negro

*His love, no more loyal than one can find,
His colour he does not seem to mind.
Who cares for a negro, with dark black skin,
In America, where racial violence is discriminating,
Careless of a Negro hell,
The whites live happy, rich and well.
No wonder Negro crime has increased,
It would subside if hatred ceased.
Why are we thoughtless towards our black brothers,
Living through life with unconcern for others.
What care have we for the Negro's rights,
They have as much right to live as we . . . The

and Janie Davey represented the school at the athletics sports, Janie came a successful second in her event. Stuart Quinn, Terry Watkins, Stephen Atkins, Graeme Williams, Christopher Anderson and Ray O'Brien helped to make the junior football team. The girls also helped in making junior sports teams. Glenda Campbell, Kathy Osbrough and Judith Thorne were in the hockey team, Jill Monette and Barbara Watson were in the volley ball team, Wendy Lehman was in the 1st Basketball and Janie Davey was captain of the softball team which went on to winning the premiership.

Janie Davie and Christopher Anderson are the "brains" of the form. Social Service representatives are Graeme Williams and Janie Davey. (We did our best to help in this way). Form captains are Wendy Lehman and Rodney Lazer, vice captains Kathryn Osbrough and Terry Watkins. Although Mrs. Hewson is our form teacher we only see her at assemblies but we would like to thank her anyway for coping with us.

The next part of our notes we would like to dedicate to two dear friends who left us to live in Queensland at the end of second term. They were of course Gaye and Denise Southwell who before leaving were very successful at sporting activities. They were outstanding at swimming and went on to represent all the High Schools at the "All Schools Sports". They were in the premiership softball team and Denise was junior captain of Mawson House. Although they have now been gone for quite a while now, they still are remembered by all.

Last of all 3B would like to thank all the Teachers who so willingly coped with us throughout the year.

Form — 3C

Our form consists of thirty-four girls,
That's why our lunch monitor has so many curls.
Mrs. Meo is our leader.

And I tell you, we REALLY need her.

Our teachers are quite sick of us,

Because we made such a fuss.

Room 7 is our hideaway,

There we sweat and toil all day.

Our form captain's name is Cheryl McGrath,

I think she's done a good job so far.

Under her is Robyn Knights,

She talks to boys and often fights.

For Social Service the girl is Lynn,

But for the amount she collects, it needn't be handed in.

When the Athletic Sports began,

Sue and Val always ran.

When the teams lined up to play,

Our girls were in to win the day.

There were — Wendy A., Loretta L., Annette B.,

Cherylynn C., Alison M., Cheryl McG., Patricia H.,

Kay P., Robyn K., Joy K., Valerie W., Rhonda L.,

Helen Y., Lynn W.

And now signing off from Form 3C

Our secrets we have told to thee.

Anon.

Form — 3D

What is a FORM 3D?

Between the time you start school and finish, you are bound to come across a thing called a 3D.

It comes in all shapes and sizes . . . all ridiculous. 3D things are found everywhere; on the basketball court, footy oval and the athletics track.

A 3D can be easily recognised. It appears intelligent, has one common binding force . . . GIRLS and functions (?) in a total state of hysteria.

A 3D likes their jolly form teacher between period brawls, paper pellet wars and cruising through the top corridor.

A 3D dislikes work, social service collections, form and vice-captains and a punctual maths teacher.

But at the end of the year when it drifts into the school holidays, the one question remains . . . Will there be a 4D next year?

OH, HORRORS!!

B. Lewis, G. Mitchell, D. Lewis.

Form — 3E

This year our form teacher, Mrs. Wadge, has been very patient and lenient and all of us thank her greatly.

Some of our outstanding members were:—

Representative and a member of the junior football team; Liz Malseed (Girl vice-Form Captain and a member of the junior girls' basketball team); Robert Campbell (Junior boys' basketball team).

Our social service representatives are B. Lock and J. Waslin.

As a form we did quite well and all hope to be in fourth form next year.

Michael Jordan — Form Captain (boy).

Faye Hickman — Form Captain (girl).

Form — 4B

Form Teacher — Mr. McDonnell.
 Form Captains — Wendy Mulvaney, Tom Piper.
 We have had a very united form this year, due mainly to the efforts of Greg. Munro and Michael Hamill who have set a fine example for the others to follow in both sport and study.
 We had very few sporting personalities in our form except Gregory and Michael who excelled in Cricket, Swimming, Football, Athletics and Baseball. Wendy Mulvaney was in the school basketball team — a fine effort. Our long distance runner, Edgar Gaujenieks, came last in the school sports, but a fine effort considering the amount of food he ate before the event.
 Our lunch monitors were Greg. Munro and Michael Hamill; the Blackboard monitor was Greg Munro; the Social Service monitors were Karyn Wood and Michael Hamill; Window Monitors were Greg. Munro and Michael Hamill.
 Others in sporting teams were Ken Chaffey (Baseball, Karyn W. and Rhonda W. (Tabletennis), Vicki Britain and Vicki Roulent (Basketball). During the year Wendy Mulvaney, Margaret Tiley and Peter Brien have proved good scholars and during the third term, Michael Hamill and Greg Munro came to the fore.

We would like to thank Mr. McDonnell for his patience during the year and Greg Munro and Michael Hamill for carrying the form during the year.

Form — 4D

Our advisers for the year have been Senators Healy and Martin and our tribunes, Miles Caesar and Marcus Brutus Scott who have striven valiantly to control their crowd of conspirators and citizens.

In the games, our athletes and sporting personalities have done well — more than half our number have represented the school in at least one team. Laurel wreaths go to Ian Miles (Football, cricket, athletics); Alan Baxter (Athletics, basketball, football); Robert Aitken (football, cricket, athletics, swimming); David Timms (football, swimming); Noel Luxford (Tennis, swimming); Adrian Giffin (Cricket, football); Bruce Scott (Athletics, football, tennis); James Hall (basketball, athletics); Don Perriman (victor of Senior Cross Country Run); and Michael Higgs for daring to declare his love of Shakespeare; and lastly Gordan Morrissey for organising a conspiratorial assembly.

Ably led by Publius B. Duffy, our victorious armies have brought back from their fete and other campaigns, much food and riches to fill the general coffers of the state.

With or without a word from Antony, our turbulent citizens have caused much fever and fret to our Senators, who have sought to keep the peace while hoping always for something ere the end, some work of noble note which may yet be done before that final and decisive battle on the plains, not of Phillipi, but Ashwood.

Cicero Gary Barns, 4D.

Form — 6B

All students launched themselves into this, their last year at Ashwood with naive enthusiasm and dedication, with the exception of the minority who, through previous experience, knew what lay ahead. However, as we pressed onward, into an endless sea of knowledge, even the strongest amongst us faltered and one by one prac. books became neglected, slide rules went rusty and social gatherings increased, both in frequency and intensity. After the mid-year exams, most were still vaguely optimistic, but with the majority of averages below 40 after the October tests and the final exams drawing closer, the general opinion is that all that can save us now is a final burst of 24 hour cramming.

All of this serves to illustrate a point which our teachers have for six years been trying to make clear; which is that in the senior forms, a certain amount of sacrifice is necessary. Briefly then, the moral of this year's typical sad saga is:—

1. If you are abnormal and deplore any form of social activity such as surfing, orgies and generally "operating", try and get your Matric.
2. If you are reasonably normal, leave after fourth form and become a jackaroo, beachcomber or a teacher.

To be serious for a moment though, we must join in thanking our teachers for giving of their all in a blind effort to help us pass. The patience and sheer self-control displayed by these superhumans is sometimes amazing.

And now, the part you've all been waiting for, a tabulation of 6B's various personalities (among which lie eleven boy prefects, three girl prefects, three boy house captains, one social service representative, myriads of footballers, two table tennisers, the odd basketballer and many others of notable academic and sporting prowess).

Form 6 Europe-Historians

*A lass, by name Emma Dronseika,
Is not known to be much of a speaker.
When they'd ask what she thought
Of amour, she'd retort,
"Why ask me? but — c'est magnifique!"*

*Bev. Harper at first sight seems staid.
You never would guess, I'm afraid
That those flowers on the board
It is she who hath drawn,
And with flowers her hair she doth braid.*

*M. Phillips quite often feels throaty.
Otherwise, she's a well-known devotee
Of Art. In Geog.,
It's her artist's prerog.
To sit picturing Bill's face with a goatee.*

*L. Simpson's a lass of strong views —
She knows her what's whats and who's whos.
I'm not sure she'd adore*

*The soap-opera next door,
But debate on it she'd not refuse.*

*Barbara W. says, quiet and subdued,
As her eyes on her work she keeps glued—
(Her classmates, all chatty,
Acting up, a bit ratty)—
"Just to-day I am not in the mood."*

*Shirl. and Cheryl are new girls this year,
Inseparable and laconic, I hear.
The long and short is,
They say, "Meet you?" "Gee-whiz!"
"Roger!" and "See you, old dear!"*

*A young lady student named Grace
Is concerned for the whole human race.
She can't cast a spell
(For she doesn't spell well)
So to save them, she prays, just in case.*

*About this young Marilyn Gale
I could tell you a very long tale.
She remembers her history,
(How she does is a mystery)—
There are times when her memory's quite frail!*

*A sweet little miss, name of Robyn,
Came to class all a-sighin' and sobbin'.
She said, "Try as I may
I can make no headway—
Bee a honey and help me with Cobban."*

*An essay of style writes Bruce Gale,
The beginning comes after the tail.
The middle's a muddle,
His head's all a-fuddle,
And he hits the head hard on the nail.*

*Another tall youth, name of Hadley,
May quite hope that he won't do too badly.
Only once did he cry,
"How I try, try and try,
And my teacher still looks at me sadly."*

*Long famous for effort and sweat,
Peter Hearn'll get het up and tret.
If he questions too much
About this, that, and such,
It's because on success he is set.*

*Philip Slade is a blade, I'm afraid,
Who has long his intentions delayed
To show his true mettle;
A delay which I bet'll
Leave Philip on E-Day dismayed.*

*A new chap named Adrian Wells
Comes to school on and off, like, in spells.
He's exclusive in class—
He could easily pass
For one of them 18th C. swells.*

*Alan Dalton's a stalwart of Flynn,
Which it seems is the House he is in . . .
A mistake, though, it's said,
For it's Truscott that's red—
All that's gold, to young Alan, is sin.*

*A tall youth by the name of Graeme Duffy
Has a giit, that he never gets huffy.
Friday's, when he's off meat

HOUSE NOTES

Flynn Senior Girls & Junior Girls

House Mistress: Mrs. Meo

Captain: Jan Cook

Vice-Captain: Lyn Stevens

This year, Flynn, although lacking in sporting ability made up for this with enthusiasm. Besides coming second in field events in the Athletic Sports, we also rose to great heights in winning the Senior girls' novelty race.

Yard Duty has also greatly improved this year and thanks go to the girls who helped keep the yard clean and the Supervisors happy.

Both senior and junior girls were well represented in all school teams; namely, Basketball, Softball, Hockey and Cricket. To all those girls who represented both the school and their house, keep trying, for Flynn shall succeed!

Special thanks go to Mrs. Meo for her leadership throughout the year; her attempts to lift Flynn were greatly appreciated by all house members.

The names of all the girls who gave Flynn special services in the sporting and scholastic fields are too numerous to mention, but Flynn as a whole wishes to thank them.

All girls leaving Flynn this year wish their house good luck! We hope that next year Flynn will receive more or as many honours in all aspects of house competition.

Flynn Senior Boys

Captain: David Little

Vice-Captain: Ian Miles

Secretary: Ron Searle

House Master: Mr. Kennedy.

Although this year has not been over-successful in regard to house competition, Flynn is certainly a happy house. The outstanding event was Ian Miles' selection in a team to play Duntroon. At the start of the year in the swimming sports, the house fared fairly well, the most successful competitors being; Philip Horner, Max Grenfell, Peter Kearn and David Timms.

In inter-school football, Flynn was well represented by Ian Miles, David Little, Edgar Gaiyenicks, Philip Horner, Brian Westgarth, Phillip Bayley, Max Grenfell and Bill Beattie with Flynn thus being a real force to be reckoned with.

In the school basketball team, our representatives were Geoffrey Booth and Jerry Speiser; in the school cricket team, Ian Miles was our representative and in the school baseball team was Don Perriman. It was in soccer that Flynn really shone for half the school premiership side was made up of Flynn boys. These were Bennet Ong, George John, Thomas John, Andy Cheak, Freddie Chang and Sonny Tan. In the athletic sports, Ian Miles, David Little, Jerry Speiser and Edgar Saiyenicks were our star performers. The sports side of the house competition was very satisfactory, but in the duty field, Flynn fell down badly. Mr. Kennedy, our devoted housemaster, valiantly tried several times to raise house spirit with respect to yard duty, but this did little. It is hoped that next year, with an influx of new blood, Flynn house will be able to raise itself to its rightful position.

Ronald Searle.

Truscott Senior Girls

House Captain: Kathleen Haeusler

Vice-Captain: Vicki Roland

House Mistress: Mrs. Wadge.

"Tremendous Truscott Truly Tries"

The true red-blooded spirit was quite evident again this year in Truscott House, and proof of this can be given by our convincing win at the Swimming Sports at the Southern Pool. Some of our best swimmers were D. Skillern, R. Clarke and R. Hill, but it was the juniors that showed great promise for the years to come.

Truscott has excelled with respect to yard duty, a feature of the house system which is not very pleasant. However, despite this, the girls have done really well in cleaning the yard at lunchtimes. Truscott has come top for two terms in yard duty and we hope that we can do even better in third term. Thanks must go to all the supervisors who have been a big help throughout the year.

Many talented girls have represented Truscott in school teams.

Hockey: K. Haeusler, G. Eddy, S. Auton, P. Michael, D. Peters and A. Young.

Basketball: P. Hall, R. Hill, D. Skillern, V. Roland.

Softball: R. Clarke, L. Osborne, P. Albon.

Volleyball: E. Wilkinson, A. Orlowski, C. Spencer, S. Thompson.

Congratulations go to all of these girls.

One of our major downfalls for the year was the loss of the Athletic Sports, but compliments are extended to the athletes who so willingly took part and who also represented the school at the Inter-school Sports at Olympic Park.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL 1st

Standing: Wendy Lehman, Carol Sturdy, Annette Baker, Cheryl McGrath.
 Front Row: Diane Knight, Robyn Knight (capt.), Val Wood.

We all hope that term three can give us enough time to gain those few extra points to enable us to take away the coveted cup at Speech Night. Thanks must go to the "Red-blooded Truscottian Barons", i.e. the whole House, the officials and of course, Mrs. Wadge, our illustrious House Mistress who has been the most ardent supporter of the Truscott girls during the year.

K. Haeusler (Leader of the "Truscottian Barons").

Truscott Senior Boys

- House Master: Mr. Morris
- House Captain: Ray Woods
- House Vice-Captain: Brian Waters
- House Secretary: Ray Wilkinson

Truscott senior boys have had mixed success in sporting and other activities this year. Truscott's early optimism was well founded when we easily won the swimming sports, our nearest opponents, Mawson being 100 points behind. Those who excelled in these sports and were rewarded by a place in the school team were:— Neil Swann, D. Slade, Colin Cruse, Robert Strickland and Ted Land.

Truscott was highly successful in the inter-house football matches and due to their fast play-on type of football, were able to win the majority of their matches.

Truscott members who gained a position in the school's first football team were Neil Williams, Colin Cruse, Vin Campbell, Ray Woods, Neville Wood-Bradley, Ian Noble and in the second team Brian Waters, Doug Parker, David Anderson, Adrian Figin, Keith Jackson, David Jamieson and Ted Lang.

We were also well represented in the premiership soccer team this year with Graeme Lock (goalie), Stephen Grail and Robert Stirckland, Ray Wilkinson acting as referee for many games. Members skilful enough to be placed in the school baseball team were Greg. Cook (Captain), and Ken Chaffey.

In the athletics, Truscott did very well to come second after being placed last in the field events. Those who performed well and earned a place in the school side were Greg. Cook, Jeff Jenkinson, Neil Williams, Geoff. Wood-Bradley, Ian Alger, Ted Lang and Ray Woods.

In the cross-country, Truscotts took the greatest number of points in the overall tally. Those who finished well up the list in the senior race were Michael Barclay (2nd), Neil Williams (2nd for the open and 6th overall) and Chris Clark, Ray Woods and Peter Syle.

Truscott's success was not confined to the sporting field. We achieved notable success in the way in which yard duty was done and consequently finished up with the highest marks.

We were unfortunate midway through the year in losing our house captain Neil Swann and later Martin Cavanagh who had been elected as vice-captain. Ray Woods was then elected captain with Brian Waters as vice-captain. Despite the loss of valuable members, Truscott was still able to be a dominating force. Special mention should also go to the enthusiasm and help given by the House Secretary, Ray Wilkinson.

It is doubtful if Truscott could have achieved the success it has without the dedicated and enthusiastic support which our house master, Mr. Morris, has given us this year.

Mawson Senior Girls

- House Mistress: Mrs. Jenkins
- Captain: Jenny Fildes
- Vice-Captain: Joanne Cover
- Secretary: Margot Paull

This year Mawson has swum, stooped and run with great enthusiasm to lift the House higher up the ladder of success.

Swimming:

Although we could only manage to swim to second place in the sports, we provided great competition with our rousing cheer squad consisting of most of our juniors. Stars: the Southwell sisters.

Yard Duty:

All the year we have really struggled against insanitary conditions in the schoolgrounds, even though our ulterior motive was to gain points for the Aggregate Shield. Congratulations to the Supervisors.

School Matches:

In typical Mawson fashion, we have been well represented in school teams this year.

Athletics:

We starred brilliantly as competitors, cheerers and supporting spectators. We won! Although we had terrific stars such as J. Cover, H. Withers, P. Junker, L. Nelson, G. Collins, S. Smith, C. Hanon (who also represented the school in the Inter-School Sports) to spur us on, our unique but breathtaking "Get Fit Campaign" held on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays led by Jo. Cover and Heather Withers certainly guided us to first place.

Mawson Senior Boys

House Master: Mr. Blackman

Captain: J. Ross

Vice-Captain: G. Mawby

Secretary: G. Perry

This year has proved to be a great success for Mawson in many fields. Swimming has never been our strong point, but this year great improvement was shown and we finished second in the final analysis. Good performers were R. Skinner and G. Mawby.

There were few cricket matches this year, however, two players represented us in the school team. These were R. Wilson and J. Ross.

This year we did not perform well on the football field. This was because of the lack of interest shown by many boys and the bulk of the work was left to a few individuals. Players who made the school teams were C. Haddon, M. Hammill, S. Henderson, G. Mawby, R. Wilson, J. Ross in the 1st XVIII and R. Skinner and J. Stewart in the 2nd XVIII.

We were again successful on the athletics field and won by 90 points from Truscott. In this case, team spirit was shown by a number of boys and in the end this proved advantageous. Congratulations should go to the successful relay teams as well as the good individual performers. These were J. Hall, D. Marks, G. Mawby, K. Kish, K. Allerding, M. Hamill, B. Gale and J. Ross.

For the second successive year, B. Gale won the "big jog" in a very determined manner. Others to do well were D. Marks, P. Mihaly and R. Wilson.

We were also represented in other sports by the following: J. Crane, D. Marks and K. Allerding in Baseball; G. Perry in Tennis; and in Basketball, K. Kish and E. Dronseika, J. Hall and G. Cullis.

We have led in Service all year and one of the main factors in this has been the attention shown to yard duty. This arduous task was performed quite well.

In conclusion we would like to thank Mr. Blackman for his advice, assistance and rousing speeches during the year. We all hope that we can retain the premier position again this year.

Hillary Senior Boys

House Captain: Rod Munro

Hillary has well represented the school during the year and has had a very successful year. We started the year with high hopes but these were dampened slightly when we finished third in the house swimming sports. Congratulations must go to the students who took part in the sports and did their best. A little later in the year, the school cricket team played a match against Balwyn High School and Hillary was well represented by John Powell, Greg. Munro, Bill Feltes, Robert Aitken and Rod Munro, making up nearly half the side.

Our talents were not limited to the cricket but overflowed on to the football field. Once again, the Hillary machine was in action, with good teamwork and the side laced with talent. Hillary had many members in the school's first and second football teams. In the finish, we had John Powell (Captain), Phillip Grant, Michael Jordon, Greg. Munro, Bill Feltes and Rod Munro. Representing the school second's were Graham Smith, John Mills, Robert Aitken and Alan Baxter. Hillary also had members in many other school teams as well; in Basketball we had Alan Baxter, Gary Elliot and Gordon Charles; on the soccer field we had Paul Trantallis (Captain) and Freddy Hoong; and in Baseball we had Bill Mitchell. From this, it can be seen that Hillary had many able sportsmen of the standard needed to represent the school.

The talents already mentioned helped Hillary greatly in the House athletic sports and we were unlucky in finishing third, not far behind the second place getters. Two members of our house won their events in the House sports and represented the school in the Eastern Division Sports; these were Michael Jordon and Alan Baxter.

Even better things can be expected in the future as the Junior House is quite strong. In ending the house notes, I would like to thank Phillip and John for their help during the year.

Ron Munro.

Gymnastics Group

This year a gymnastics group has been formed under the supervision of Miss Boas, who has put much of her own time into training the girls. The main activity has been combining gymnastic exercises with music.

The new assembly hall has been a great help and without it rehearsals would have been difficult to organise. The equipment consists mainly of tumbling mats, mini-tramp and vaulting horse.

Linda Charter.

High School 1994

Scene: The Inner Committee Room of the Student Underground Movement. The Leader speaks to His Deputy.

The Leader: I'm worried about Barnett. It's over a month since he protested publicly, I'm sure he's made no serious effort to read the writings of Chairman Jim or to grow real side-burns, and yesterday I saw him being pleasant to a teacher.

His Deputy: Yeah, you can't understand it. A third form boy he is, yet he doesn't seem to have taken any notice of our directions about being a free individual, unshackled by the petty bourgeois restrictions imposed by fascist dictatorial teachers.

The Leader: Well he'll just have to be taught not to conform. I'll suspend him for three weeks from school. The Central Committee will have to ratify it, of course, at tomorrow's meeting. Tell them about it, will you, so they'll know how to vote. And you'd better notify the Principal.

His Deputy: Do we have to? I think it's a sign of weakness to let him know. After all, we run the school, don't we? This sort of thing gives them the idea that they have some control, and Chairman Jim has warned us of the dangers of counter-revolution. We must be always revolting but they cannot be allowed to counter this.

The Leader: That reminds me. We must do something about that new teacher, Johnson's his name. He suggested to the fifth form last week that they should develop habits of work and study.

His Deputy: What on earth are they?

The Leader: You don't remember that poor old crank who taught us in Form 1? He only lasted three weeks, but he used to go on about this sort of thing. He sometimes spoke about topic tests and once about exams.

His Deputy: Aren't all these things now forbidden by student law?

The Leader: Of course, but there are rumours of a teacher underground movement trying to keep alive such barbarous practices. And this Johnson fellow, I suspect, is trying some rather informal testing, asking questions and expecting answers from the students.

His Deputy: (Shocked) I didn't believe that sort of thing could happen. It must be stopped. Otherwise our whole wonderful system of education will disintegrate and we'll be back to the old undemocratic days. Oh, I nearly forgot. This is most important. On the book list for next year, we need a compulsory copy of $1.00 for "Scandal-smell", our monthly newsletter. Tell the bookstall teacher about it today, if you can.

The Leader: I wasn't consulted about that! Are you trying to challenge my authority? How many times do I have to tell you? Before any important democratic decisions are made I must be informed. How do you expect me to run this . . .

EXTRA SPORTING ACTIVITIES

An innovation this year has been the introduction of extra-sporting activities for those less keen on the usual things such as cricket, softball and basketball; these included typing and dressmaking. They were intended also to satisfy those students who had to drop such subjects in previous years.

Much has been achieved under the guidance of Mrs. Vincent, in the typing lessons. After a series of lessons where we studied the fundamentals of this professed art, we moved on to the typing of business letters and later on to tabulation. This venture has been an astounding success, with one of the students accepting a typing position for the Christmas vacation.

Approximately eighteen girls have attended the dressmaking classes in room 14. Several attractive jumpers were knitted, and needlework included the making of tray cloths, skirts and frocks.

Thus the introduction of these new activities has enabled those "not so keen" sportswomen to gain new enjoyment out of the last two periods on a Wednesday.

Margot Paull.
