

THE GODS AND GODDESSES OF ANCIENT GREECE AND ROME.

The mythology of the Greek gods and goddesses were later adopted by the Romans with a change of name .

JUPITER or JOVE/ ZEUS was not able to appear to "non divine" (i.e.) mortals as his appearance in full glory was too overwhelming causing death to the mortal.

The statues purchased by Stoddart at Carrara have the Roman/Latin name'

The statues in the Gardens were not as originally Stoddart intended as Apollo and Minerva were unavailable so Bacchante and Flora Farnese were purchased instead.
