Business Notices.

NOTICE.

THE Proprietors of the "Riponshire Advocate," in thanking their numerous patrons for past favors, respectfully solicit the renewal of support, and desire to state that increased attention will be given to all matters of local and general interest. As a record of news they will always endeavor to make their columns as comprehensive and readable as possible. In all departments, and therefore, confidently appeal to the public for increased support.

They have resolved to reduce the subscription to the "Advocate" (with which is published a 14-column supplement containing well-selected reading matter) to 3s 9d per quarter, and trust that this concession will be largely taken advantage of. The Advertising Rates have also been considerably reduced, and advertisers will find it to their benefit to avail themselves of the columns of the "Riponshire Advocate," which is the only newspaper in the district printed and published within its boundaries. As the Advocate of the interests and welfare of the district, it has a claim on a considerable amount of support, and has a greater scope for extending its usefulness than any other newspaper or journal within a given radius of Beaufort.

Job Printing, plain and ornamental, of every description, is executed with neatness, accuracy and dispatch, and on the most reasonable terms.

HENNINGSEN & KLUNDER,
Proprietors.

Diseased Nature often times breaks forth in strange eruptions.—Act iii. Scene 1.

TO THE PUBLIC.

SOME patients suffering from nervous affections are afraid, from sheer foolishness and modesty to PERSONALLY consult a medical man; other patients have not the self-possession and coolness, when in the consulting room, to accurately describe their symptoms, their habits of life, and the nature of the disease they suffer from.

Let such person (he or she) sit quietly down in the privacy of their own apartments, and with a pencil describe each symptom of their disease, or other statement thus written, and laid before me, is far preferable in nervous diseases to personal consultation. Where, however, a disease is of a peculiar and exceptional character, a personal consultation may become necessary; but my success in correspondence is so great, that the thousands upon thousands whom I have treated during the last thirty-two years, not a single mistake has ever occurred, nor a case has ever been made public—in fact, the very similarity of my system of correspondence prevents publicity.

At the same time medicines are sent to my patients in such a form as to defy detection. How many thousands have I not brought up!

How many have been enabled to enter into marriage state, who previously could not do so, and been blessed, and their marriages made fruitful and happy!

How many have been cured of their diseases, who have been refused to be cured, and thanked their manhood for having consulted me by me!

How many questions arise where the family physician is unable to unravel the case, and, often, the patient improves on, not daring to tell his family medical attendant of his complaint, until consumption, wasting, or other diseases set in, and the sufferer gets to feel the curable curable stage, and is left a helpless wreck!

A letter, written in the privacy of the room, dropped in the post box, reaches me quietly, the answer is returned as quickly and unobtrusively, and the patient, without stepping on his chamber, except to post his letter, is by turn of post put in full possession of the nature of his case. His hopes are raised, his doubts removed; and he is comparatively a new man—fact, in many cases, a new being altogether.

The only addition to the great body of written letters, is the age, occupation, habits, and symptoms—nothing more. The usual consultation of a medical man must be enclosed, otherwise no answer will be returned.

There are thousands of cases in daily life where a consultation with one at a distance will answer by a single letter, a great deal, and it often solves what appears as an insuperable mystery. Many a soul has been made joyful on receipt of an explanatory letter from me.

To those who are about to marry, I would say, consult me before doing so, and prevent many a dire trouble, and remove many unnecessary fears and prejudices; to those more especially who have suffered in early years from disease, or who have yielded to their passions—those who say at once, consult with me—do not tarry days are dangerous, and, as an expert, my time may not be always at your service. You can, by simply enclosing one pound, have the benefit of my experience in the same manner as if I lived in your own town, and with the additional advantage of the remotest privacy.—Yours truly,
LOUIS L. SMITH.

CONTAMINATIONS
Of the Blood, whether the after effect of Contagious Diseases, hereditary taint, or the matter of any description are positively carried out of the system by taking "CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMOUS BLOOD MIXTURE," the great Blood Purifier and Restorer. For cleansing and clearing the blood from all impurities it cannot be too highly recommended. For Scrofula, Scary, Eczema, Skin and Blood Diseases, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent cure. It is the only specific for Rheumatic Pains, for it removes the cause from the blood and bones. Of Chemists, etc., everywhere at 2s 6d and 1s per bottle. Thousands of testimonials.

CAUTION.

PURCHASERS OF CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE should see that they get the genuine article. Worthless imitations are sometimes peddled by unprincipled dealers.
The words "Lincoln and Midland Counties Drug Company, Lincoln, England" are engraved on the Government "Warrant" blown in the bottle; without which none are genuine.

"KEATING'S POWDER" destroy BUGS, FLEAS, MOTHS, BEETLES and all other insects, whilst quite harmless to domestic animals. In exterminating Beetles the success of this powder is extraordinary. It is perfectly clean in application. See the article you purchase in "KEATING'S" as imitations are numerous and deceitful. Sold in this City, 1s. and 2s. 6d. each by all chemists.

THE Riponshire Advocate.

Published every Saturday Morning. SATURDAY, JUNE 6, 1891.

The ordinary monthly committee meeting of the Beaufort District Rifle Club, which was held on Monday night, passed for want of a quorum. It was, therefore, postponed to Monday, 8th inst.

The rainfall in Beaufort for the month of May amounted to one inch and 96 points.

Once more we would remind horse and property holders in Riponshire that if they do not wish to be disfranchised all rates must be paid on or before Wednesday next, the 10th inst.

We would direct attention to the fact that public meetings, in aid of repairs to the Presbyterian church and manse, which are to be held in the Societies' Hall, Beaufort, on Wednesday evening next. Chinese singing and an address by an Indian Zenana lady missionary are amongst the attractions.

At the Beaufort Court of Petty Sessions on Monday last, before Mr. J. W. Harris, J.P., The Dockyard charged with having no lawful visible means of support, was sentenced to 14 days' imprisonment in the Beaufort Gaol. John Olsen, charged with having been drunk and disorderly on Saturday, was fined 5s.

The manager of the Saxon Consols, Waterloo South, reports as under:—Yield of gold for week under 5 machines. 93oz. All the faces in the south end of mine are wet, and the progress in driving is slow. No. 4 bore for Beaufort gutter is now down 200 feet in cemented gravel.

The players to represent Beaufort in the football match against Strathmair on Saturday, 13th inst., for the Strathmair cup, will be chosen from the following:—Anders, Bailey, Baker, (2), Cheaney, Fraser, Gray, Harris, Ison, Johnston, Laney, Lilley, (2), O'Callaghan, Parker, Sinclair, R. Stewart, Shields, Thomas, (2), Tromp, (2), Thompson, White, (2), R. Wilson, Welsh, (2).

The secretary of the Beaufort Football Club writes to acknowledge with thanks the several parties in that district last week. The following gentlemen:—Mr E. H. Austin, LL1s; Captain Bridges, 10s; Mr W. Lewis, LL1s; Hon. W. S. Osmund LL1; Mr W. Owen, 5s; Mr G. White, a ball.

Our Waterloo correspondent writes that a very fair amount of gold was obtained by the Beaufort district last week. The yields were:—Baxter's, 96oz.; Tank, 14oz. 13dwts.; Banyip, 6oz. 3dwts.; Prospectors, 7oz. 14dwts.; Waterloo, 7oz. 16dwts. The last-named company, I am sorry to hear, met with a serious mishap, which will cause a stoppage and spoil the week. Some part of their pumping gear gave way, and had to be sent to Ballarat to be repaired.

Considerable interest was evinced in a match played in the Beaufort Park on Wednesday last between the senior and junior footballers of the town. The latter were allowed ten extra players, but they had one short of the 20. W. Tromp captained the seniors, and W. Baker the juniors. The game afforded a fine afternoon's practice. The seniors won by 2 goals to 1. The juniors did not treat the youngsters as gently as they should have done, as they were a number of roughness being introduced into the game. Mr A. Bentley proved an impartial central umpire.

The date of the dramatic entertainment to be given in the Societies' Hall, Beaufort, in aid of the Ballarat Hospital, has been fixed for Wednesday, 22nd July. It has been chosen on account of there being a full moon, thus giving the country people an opportunity of being present. The general manager hopes that local institutions will not hold their anniversaries to clash with this entertainment, and as the object is such a deserving one, it is earnestly desired that the entertainment will be given to make the entertainment a success.

A venerable-looking old man named Richard McKay was placed in the dock at the Criminal Sittings of the Supreme Court, Ballarat, yesterday afternoon, charged with having, on the 6th May, taken away the railing-bench of one of Thomas Shields, near Snake Valley, and so on a quantity of jewellery and clothing. A lot of evidence of a substantial nature was taken, and his Honor briefly summed up, and the jury retired, and shortly after three o'clock returned into court with a verdict of "guilty." Prisoner then admitted two former convictions and was remanded for sentence.—"Post."

At the conclusion of the usual course of religious instruction imparted by the teachers in the Presbyterian Sabbath School a very pleasing ceremony took place on Sunday afternoon, namely the distribution to the scholars of 100 books as prizes and rewards, by the Rev. A. Adam, M.A. As might be expected there was a good attendance of children and friends. Mr Adam read a list of donors to the prize fund, and showed that £8 5s had been expended in prizes. With reference to the attendance, he reported an increase from 80 to 100, expressing his pleasure at the school not standing still. The average attendance was about 50 for the morning, and 70 for the afternoon. Although they had 12 teachers, there was room for more. He regretted that Mr Archibald had been compelled through sickness to resign as superintendent, and was sorry he was not able to be present that afternoon, which he (Mr Adam) was sure they all regretted. He hoped Mr Archibald would be soon restored to health and strength. He mentioned that Master Archibald acted as librarian, and that his father helped him in keeping the accounts square. Mr Adam referred to the noble work done by the teachers, who deserved the well wishes of parents and children, and said that when scholars left the district they liked to send books after them. He hoped the children would appreciate the kindness shown them, and advised them to form a circulating library by lending each other their books. Mr Adam then distributed the prizes and rewards, three prizes being given to the best scholars in each class. Some very pretty hymns were sung; Miss Adam presiding at the organ with her well-known efficiency. The meeting closed with prayer.

At the Criminal Sittings of the Supreme Court, Ballarat, before his Honor Mr Justice Molesworth, yesterday (viz the Post) George Nicholson, a young man of most respectable appearance, and evidently of good education, was charged with having on the 13th April last, at Beaufort, stolen the sum of £7, the property of George Bell. The prisoner conducted his own defence. It appeared that the prosecutor and prisoner had been staying at the (George hotel), and had s.o.d. in the same room. On the following morning Bell missed the money out of his pockets; and discovered that the accused had disappeared. It was shown that the prisoner had had no money on the night of the alleged larceny, but had afterwards been spending money in Ballarat. A quantity of evidence was taken and his Honor summed up very carefully and impartially. The jury retired, and after a few moments' consideration, brought in a verdict of not guilty. Prisoner was therefore discharged.

WATERLOO BRANCH A.M.A.

The quarterly general meeting of the Waterloo Branch A.M.A. was held in the Mechanics' Institute, Waterloo, on Saturday evening last. Fifteen members were present; Mr S. Charlton presiding. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and confirmed, the standing orders were suspended so that the election of officers might be proceeded with. The result of the ballot previously taken was declared as follows:—For president, C. Gray, 88; J. H. Harris, 24; For secretary, W. Sneddon, 67; R. Laney, 83. Messrs Gray and Sneddon were therefore declared duly elected to the respective offices mentioned. Messrs W. K. Shaw and C. J. Leadbeater were returned unopposed as secretary and treasurer. The chairman passed a few congratulatory remarks to the officers on the confidence reposed in them, and felt sure they would conduct the business to the satisfaction of the branch. He also congratulated Mr Laney on the close contest for the vice-presidency, advising him not to be discouraged. The following were elected, and also the following members of the committee:—Messrs J. Brown, R. E. Costick, W. Harris, A. Ansdai, and R. Robinson. Two auditors being required, Messrs Charlton and Ballantine were then nominated. The voting was—Ballantine, 6; Charlton, 6. The committee of the meeting also included, Messrs J. Brown, R. E. Costick, W. Harris, A. Ansdai, and R. Robinson. Two auditors being required, Messrs Charlton and Ballantine were then nominated. The voting was—Ballantine, 6; Charlton, 6.

The balance-sheet showed a loss for the half-year of £12 10s; the receipts amounted to £81 10s; and the expenditure to £93 10s. £7 10s 10d was paid for accident relief. The assets showed the branch possessed of £140 9s 4d in cash, against which the liabilities totalled £120 16s 3d.

The auditors (Messrs Charlton and Ballantine), reported having found books, vouchers, &c. in good order and correct. Both were received and adopted.

The balance-sheet was then conversationally discussed, and satisfactorily explained, as per officers' report.

Regarding the boring shafts, on which £200 was expended, the committee received, members expressed their satisfaction at keeping the rods so long as they cleared themselves, as they were a benefit to the district in being of great assistance in finding gold.

(Two additional members here put in an appearance.) The president and secretary (Messrs Gray and Shaw) reported that for the half-year ending May 10th, 1891, the number of members were—contributing, 101; non-contributing, 25; honorary, 25. Total, 151. The balance-sheet will show the state of the fund. During the half-year a chief council had been formed. The secretary will read a report of its first annual meeting. They regretted having to state that returns from the mines in this district were far from satisfactory. They might mention the Waterloo claim, which had been in the hands of working in it 10s per week for many months past. Out of such dividends it can hardly be expected that levies can be paid, but they wished members to bear in mind that levies must be paid by the branch according to number of members returned. As far as this branch is concerned, there has been no trouble or unpleasantness between employers and employed during the half-year, and at present there does not seem any probability of such arising. They sincerely hoped the ensuing six months will bring about a more prosperous state of affairs.

The official report of the first meeting of the chief council was read and adopted, obstacles before imagined being cleared away, and the regulations framed giving every satisfaction.

An account of £2s for cab hire to the last monthly meeting in Beaufort, which had been ruled out of order at a committee meeting, provoked some discussion.

Mr Charlton characterized a motion passed by the committee, but since rescinded, that every member attending the quarterly meeting at Beaufort must pay his own cab fare, as a very foolish one, and a disgrace to the association. He firmly believed it had been carried in fun. The officers had been compelled to go to Beaufort to carry out the business, and it was only right that their travelling expenses should be paid. He moved accordingly.

Mr Edwards asked by whose authority the secretary engaged the cab and Mr Shaw replied that when business had to be attended to, it was thought the secretary had not power or sufficient authority to order a cab to attend to that business without calling the committee together, the sooner they dispensed with him the better. He would pay the 12s himself so as to let the association have nothing to do with it.

This, however, was not allowed; it being decided, with one dissentient, on the motion of Mr Ansdai, that this meeting authorizes the committee to pay the account.

The committee afterwards resolved to apply to one of the publishers for a room to hold the meeting in; the hall being too chilly.

BEAUFORT FIRE BRIGADE.

Sixteen members attended the monthly meeting on Tuesday evening; Captain W. Humphries presiding. The correspondence included a letter from County Fire-Brigade's Board with ballot paper for election of a member of the local committee for the Western district; from Casterton V. F. B., soliciting vote and support in favor of Captain Webb on the above committee; from Stawell Brigade, thanking them for their action in nominating Captain Martin for a seat on the local committee; and a subscription list towards erecting a memorial stone to the late Capt. Kelly, of Prabah; and from Campbell, Glatbridge and Co., intimating that the whistles ordered would be forwarded as soon as they came to hand by steamer, and the swinging torches were 5s 6d each complete. It was decided to procure two swinging torches. The secretary was instructed to record the Brigades' vote in favor of Captain Martin, of Stawell; and to inform the Casterton Brigade that they had pledged themselves to support this candidate. The subscription list was ordered to lie on the table for a month. The balance sheet of the Boxing Day sports was submitted, showing the receipts to have been £146 10s 1d and the expenditure £96 1s 1d leaving a credit balance in the bank of £50 9s. The auditors (Messrs J. H. Humphreys and A. Parker) reported having examined the accounts and found them correct. The balance sheet and auditors' report were received and adopted, and the secretary instructed to tender the auditors the best thanks of the Brigade.

Considerable discussion arose over the reading of the minutes. Cr Oddie submitted that the threat held out by Cr Cushing at last meeting should not appear in the minutes, nor should it have been published in the papers, and in answer to Cr Andrews as to why he did not consider it as business then, the President said he thought it was intended for a notice of motion, to be considered at next meeting. Cr Cushing explained that it was merely a statement, which the Press were justified in reporting, and that he had only written it and handed to the President to read so that no mistake might be made. Cr Murray expressed his surprise at not seeing the motion on the notice paper sent to him. After further remarks, it was decided, on the motion of Cr Cushing, seconded by Cr Austin, to expunge the offending paragraph, the minutes then being confirmed.

RIPONSHIRE COUNCIL.

TRUESDAY, 4th JUNE, 1891.

Present—Cra. Beggs (president), Lewis, O'Ddie, Austin, Cushing, Andrews, Murray, and Bridges.

The president said he was sure they all regretted the absence of Cr Russell owing to his accident. Cr Lewis had informed him that morning that he was improving, and he trusted Cr Russell would continue to do so. A resolution expressing the council's regret at Cr Russell's absence owing to the unfortunate accident, was carried on the motion of Cr Oddie, seconded by Cr Murray, the mover particularly regretting Cr Russell's absence as important business was coming on today, and it would be better if the whole council were present.

Considerable discussion arose over the reading of the minutes. Cr Oddie submitted that the threat held out by Cr Cushing at last meeting should not appear in the minutes, nor should it have been published in the papers, and in answer to Cr Andrews as to why he did not consider it as business then, the President said he thought it was intended for a notice of motion, to be considered at next meeting. From Chief Inspector under Vermin Destruction Act, stating that the late a severe case of rabbit plague in the State forest for a short time by the Inspector pending the completion of the wire netting fence, when they will be sent put to work where required.—Received.

Cr Andrews repeated the action of the inspector in taking of the men employed in rabbit destruction at Mt. O'Connell forest because the rabbits were costing 1s per head to kill them; whilst at the same time he was forcing the common managers to put on extra men in country where the rabbits were not so accessible, and the destruction of which was costing them more than the Government had knocked off for. He would like to know if the Government were prepared to extend the same privileges to the common managers. Cr Cushing recommended the adoption of the principle previously in vogue, to pay for scalps at 30s per hundred. Cr Bridges spoke of the necessity of putting a second man on the common, the southern part of the common, from Sailer's Gully to Stockyard Hill road. Cr Murray concluded with the managers, and referred accordingly to the Minister of Lands having promised when on a visit to his portion of the district, recently that the forests would shortly be let in 10 to 20-acre blocks to clear superfluous timber, and laborers employed to kill the vermin.

From Secretary for Lands, stating in reply, that an inspection of the shire had been made by an officer of this department, and by the attached report it would be seen that rabbits have not increased, which was borne out by their President.

[COPY OF REPORT.] "In obedience to your instructions I last week made inspection of the Shire of Ripon, particularly of the parishes of Erambeen, West Erambeen, and Banger, complained of by the Riponshire council as being badly infested with vermin. Between Beaufort and Mount Cole I saw a few rabbits, and also two or three on Crown lands. From this point I followed the Crown lands and French Creek to the boundaries of the shire adjoining Glenelg, west of the Fierly Creek. I saw no rabbits. Between that creek and the shire boundary two or three were seen. The southern boundary of the shire is passed through Crown lands and fields, in the parish of Ragnan, towards Beaufort, and this part of the shire has been much infested with rabbits, and they were therefore a nuisance. Between Beaufort and Beaufort I did not see more than half a dozen. In parish of Beaufort I saw a great number of rabbits, and also a few on the harbour on Mr Beggs' property at a place called the 'Red Rock'. The property is owned by Mr. Beggs, and Mr. Beggs has been asked by me to Mr McFarlane's grazing block in Burwood and also on 'Sheep' in West Erambeen. In the last-named parish on 16th inst. I saw a patch of burrows, which were seen by Mr. John Lee, and Thomas Lee (names of late shop of Mount Cole) I saw a good many rabbits and burrows, particularly on ground owned by the two last-named. From this point I proceeded down from Mount Cole to the parish of Argyle, in Glenelgshire, and did not see more than 20 rabbits. Near Mount Cole I saw a patch of burrows, which were seen by me. Burrows are all dug out. From observations made by me, I am strongly of opinion that the vermin have been much reduced since this point down they now are. This is shown by the growth of grass over the 'Red Rock' and the fact that the shire is now free from the plague of rabbits. These places were inspected by me with a view to the fact that Mr Beggs informed me that rabbits are not more numerous than they were, but are more distributed over the shire.—C. C. FRASER, Chief Inspector."

The President denied the statement. He admitted to the inspector that the rabbits had been considerably reduced since the council began the sanitation, but told him if he had come on 6 weeks or 2 months ago he would have seen them in millions; that they were no worse now than 5 years ago, but were distributed more over the shire; and that nowhere in the colony was the Rabbit Act carried out. The secretary explained that the officer called at his place at 6 o'clock in the evening, saying he was going on his inspection early in the morning. He was therefore unable to get anyone to go with him at such short notice. Cr Andrews thought the council were coming out of it very badly in not being able to repudiate the complaints, and as a matter of fact the President's land was the worst. He thought when the inspector called on the President he should have shown him the places which he had complained of. They had complained of the administration of the Act by Mr Rae, and when he took Mr Fraser over the land it was not likely that a proper inspection would be made, or that the landholders would say in front of Mr M'Rae how bad the rabbits were. Cr Bridges did not agree with Cr Andrews that the council were coming out of it badly, the boot being on the other foot. After the silly way in which the officer had rushed up and made his report, he agreed with Cr Russell that an officer should be sent up to canvass for a time. If plenty of notice had been given different steps could have been taken to show the officer the worst places.

Cr Austin spoke of how easily it was to take a man all round where the rabbits were in thousands and never see one. It was decided, on the motion of Cr Lewis, seconded by Cr Bridges, to ask the department when sending an officer up in future to give the council timely notice, so that arrangements could be made to accompany him on his inspection.

From Cr Topper, Beaufort, applying for permission to erect three wire netting gates in parish of Erambeen, at Long Gully road and at corners of Brentnally and Church's paddocks.—Granted.

From Public Health Dept., requesting reply to former letter respecting the registration of dairies, &c.—As a result of dairies would mean additional expense, the matter was allowed to stand over for a month.

From A. Bain, Stockyard Hill, drawing attention to road south of his property, and wishing the same made.—Referred to west riding members.

RE-SUBDIVISION OF RIDINGS. On the motion of Cr Andrews, the standing orders were suspended to hear a deputation of ratepayers of the west riding on the above question. The deputation consisted of Messrs G. Hannah, D. and W. Sutherland, G. Dannett, R. Boyle, M. and R. E. Patrick, R. Ward, and M. F. Adams.

A petition to the following effect was read:—From J. Hannah, chairman of a meeting of ratepayers at Stockyard Hill, and 9 others, protesting against the west riding funds being handed over to the north riding, and requesting the necessary alterations may be made in the riding boundaries to add Skipton to the west riding and equalize the funds with the responsibility of the ridings.

Cr Andrews then introduced the deputation.

Mr Hannah said the meeting was quite enthusiastic in wishing to have the arrangement carried out in accordance with the petition.

Cr Oddie said the meeting decided, further than his suggestion, to have alterations to the discretion of the west riding members, so as to equalize the income and have a fair amount of revenue for themselves. The east riding members would be pleased to see Skipton added to the west. They were not going to dictate to them further. Councilors were responsible to their ratepayers for their actions—he would carry out everyone's wishes—and the request of the deputation was a reasonable one. There was no disposition on the part of the east members to hand over all the shire to north riding, but they were willing to assist them constitutionally in getting a fair share of revenue. Things were different now to when the ridings were laid out 30 years ago, there having been larger populations both in Carhamton and Beaufort. He gave the west riding members credit for having done good, substantial work on the roads, but in the east riding there had been 20 applications to comply with where there had been one in the west, and they were therefore not able to do the same. If councillors at the end of their term of 3 years did not wish to be shunted, they must comply with the requests of the ratepayers. He was therefore pleased to endorse Mr Hannah's remarks.

Mr Ward was present in support of the memorial; and knew for a certainty that the Skipton people were prepared to join them. Their request was reasonable, fair, and just. There was nothing to complain of about the rate in the west riding, there being material enough around Lake Golfsmith to maintain them for the next 20 years. The ratepayers of the west riding would not object to have Beaufort or Mount Cole included in it, if the money were properly laid out, which was not being done in keeping heaps of metal lying idle on the roadside for years.

Mr Boyle said they had more money

A special meeting of the above was held on Tuesday evening. Twelve members attended:—Capt. Humphries presiding. Correspondence was received from Stawell Brigade and Capt. Martin, returning thanks for support given to the Western district; and from D. Hayes, Beaufort, warmly thanking them for turning out to rescue his boy on the 27th inst. Considerable discussion took place regarding the giving of marks to Brigadiers C. Driver and Pierce for going to the fire at Gilloch's slaughteryard without reporting themselves at the station, and to Lieut. Baker and Brigadier Pierce for remaining on the bell-sall after the stipulated time, when Mr. Hayes' child was lost.

So aries went there. When the ladies arrived they could not enter the Z-mans doors, but they tried to reach the ladies' women through their children. It was "Home Rule" in India, and the home-ruler is a very old woman—the great grandmother of grandmothers is the head of every house. A man may use his wife as he likes, but he must pay attention to what his grandmother says. She knew one family of 70 that lived in the same house. They had opened schools for the children, but it was a long time before any came. The men said: "Why educate women? They are not fit for anything but to cook food for us." But at last one brave man sent his children, and by-and-by more came. Now there were nearly 100 mission schools in which the Bible was read and children taught to pray to the Lord Jesus Christ. In every household was a little idol which men and women worshipped, and the children were taught to bow before the idol before they could understand anything. The missionaries therefore tried to get the children to get them away from home influence. Boxes of toys were sent out from England, and a room was fitted up with the playthings and babies 2 and 3 years of age were brought to play. You never see a little girl on her father's knee in India. As soon as she comes into the world she is unwelcome. But a mother's heart is the same there as here. A long time ago female children were thrown into the Ganges and offered up as a sacrifice to the heathen gods; but this had been abolished since "The Queen's Law," as it is called in India, came into force. The women never learned to read; they played cards and counted their jewels. They had all the influence on their side, and if they had it as heathens what would it be when they were christians? The children were taught in the mission schools everything that a girl learned at home. Six hours instruction was given per day—Bible lessons, sewing, reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar, &c. The great cause of India was the infant marriages, and the great barrier against Christianity, caste, which is a social hereditary doctrine. For instance, a doctor's son had to marry a doctor's daughter, and so on with other professions and occupations. If they did not do so, they were turned out of caste. On this account they could not give the girls at school anything to eat or drink. There were no social dealings in different classes. Whenever a school was opened old women of high caste had to be engaged to take the children to and from between their homes and the school. The speaker here gave a graphic description of the violent opposition shown by a girl's friends to her becoming a Christian of her own free will, and of a court case over the affair, and stated that if the girl had been given food, baptized, or her husband not sent for, the missionary would have been put in prison. The inspector of police had told her the girl would have had her tongue burnt out so that she could not tell she had been with christians, had her friends released her. The girl was now working as a Z-mans missionary. Girls were known to be married by the strings they were around their necks. Every man and girl in India must be married, the parents contract the marriages when their offspring are children. If the betrothal dies, the girl becomes a widow for life and the word widow is a term of contempt. There were 21 millions of widows in India, childless children, who had never known their husbands. They were not allowed but one meal a day, which must be cooked by another, neither could they see the face of a man outside their own house. She was led to lay the woman of India on the hearts of the women of Australia. How much ought and social religious freedom would like to see a meeting like this in India. The day was coming when it shall be seen. The speaker then gave the object of her visit to Australia—to raise £5,000 to extend the work by building additional schools, making an earnest appeal for help and sympathy in prayer. She had left it with the Lord, and would raise the money before she returned, and concluded a most interesting and touching address by hoping the collecting cards would be taken up and a liberal support accorded.

Four Chinese then rendered the well-known hymn, "Rescue the perishing" in their native tongue, and created quite a furore. Later in the evening they sang, "There is a fountain filled with blood," to the intense delight of the audience.

Mr. J. R. Wetherpoon sang "Calvary" in his usual gifted style, effort being much appreciated. The Rev. Mr. Morton, of Malvern, spoke feelingly on "Work at Home," as practised by himself in the establishment of a home at Hastings for the redemption of drunks.

A duet by Miss Adam and Miss Pessy Ison was charmingly given, Miss Adam playing a zither accompaniment. A vociferous encore could not be overlooked. Votes of thanks were accorded by acclamation to the speakers, ladies praying the tea and presiding at the Hasketon and W. H. Youlton and Messrs Hughes and Green being the proposers and seconders.

The meeting closed with prayer. We are informed that it is anticipated a sum of £20 will be realized towards the much needed repairs. The usual fortnightly committee meeting of the Waterloo Branch A.M. was held on Monday evening at Shaw's private residence, presence of C. Gray (president), and Messrs Harris, Charlton, Corrick, Edwards, Anasidi, J. Harris, Robins, Sheridan, and Shaw (secretary). C. Gray reported having attended Executive Council meeting in Ballarat on the Friday and Saturday previous. The position of the A.M.A. of Victoria and the several branches thereof occupied the attention of the council to some considerable time, as the formation of the Chief Council to govern the A.M.A. in the several colonies rendered it necessary to better define the association in Victoria. It was decided that Victoria be called the New Colonial District and a committee of five was appointed to draft a constitution suitable to the newly named district. The council had also to deal with a proposal on a small scale at Melbourne, but the matter was under discussion at a gram was received from Melbourne that the strike had been settled in men's favour. The news was received with applause, and strike pay also a letter was read from Mr. L. Dennistoun Branch, who expressed the very unsatisfactory position of the branch owing to the bitter hostility of the mine-owners to the union and a determination to crush the branch. After the matter was discussed, it was referred to the executive officers to bring up a report to the executive council meeting to be held on 24th inst. Account of a meeting on 11th 1891. Present:—Accident pay, L3; Sewing society, L2 2s; rent of hall for 6 months, L1 15s; C. Vowles, L2s. It was decided that the meetings be held in Mr. Shaw's for the ensuing three months, as it was felt that the hall of the Free Lantry was rather out during the winter months.

I understand that a considerable number of our people are expected to pass some weeks, may be extended to some months, in Waterloo this week. I am glad of this, as they will always a small percentage of persons who in absence of authority will make themselves disagreeable. Whooping cough is still prevalent in Waterloo, and a good number of children are prevented from attending school from that cause. As it is the sufficing bone by the children, the disease is very annoying, as it sometimes the children have to remain in hospital for months, thus losing the benefit of the instruction they would receive at school, and so far from being their future prospects.

In the District Court, Sydney, on Wednesday, before Judge Murray, Alice Kelly, a milliner, sought to recover £100 from one Frederick Davis, a butcher, for alleged breach of promise of marriage. The plaintiff stated that the defendant three years ago at a friend's house at West Maitland, in which town he was then following his occupation as a butcher, on the occasion in question he asked permission to see her home, and she consented. After meeting on many other occasions they became engaged, and under this promise of marriage she allowed him to be intimate with her. Soon afterwards he left for Sydney, and when she met him again he declined to marry her. The defendant in his evidence in chief denied that he had promised marriage or that he had had any relations with the plaintiff, but he admitted it in cross-examination. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed, with costs.—Argus.

A young girl named Julia Cronnie has been arrested in Melbourne for the desertion of her illegitimate child for extraordinary circumstances. Last Saturday she left in charge of a porter at Marmambra railway station a brown paper parcel. A peculiar noise subsequently issued from it, and it was opened, and found to contain a newly-born child alive and well. Queen Victoria, though not seriously ill, causes her friends much anxiety. She is visibly ageing, and is greatly disturbed by the baccarat scandal. On the conclusion of Sir Edward Clarke's address for the plaintiff in Sir William Gordon-Cumming's action for slander against Mrs. Arthur Wilson, and others, the Lord Chief Justice, Lord Coleridge, proceeded to sum up the case to the jury. His Lordship's address was generally adverse to Sir William Gordon-Cumming. An innocent man, he said, placed in the position of the plaintiff, and accused of so contemptible an offence as cheating at cards, would not have signed a confession such as Sir William Gordon-Cumming did under any representations. The Lord Chief Justice deprecated the comments made by the Solicitor-General in his speech with reference to the Prince of Wales and General Owen Williams, to the effect that, if the plaintiff's name were struck off the army list, the names of both the Prince and General Williams should also be removed. On being directed to consider their verdict the jury left the court, but were only absent for the space of seven minutes, when they returned with a verdict for the defendants. The announcement was received in court with hisses, and as the defendant made their way out of the building they were purposely hustled by the crowd of spectators. All the daily papers contain leading articles commenting upon the particulars of the trial and its result.

THE Riponshire Advocate. Published every Saturday Morning. SATURDAY, JUNE 20, 1891.

In the report of the last meeting of the Riponshire Council, which appeared in our issue of the 6th inst., it will be seen that an animated and, at some points, acrimonious discussion took place over the question of the re-subdivision of the shire, as brought on by the introduction of a deputation by Cr. Andrews. The deputation proposed that the re-subdivision of the shire could take place on a more equitable basis than at present existed, the boundaries being so altered as to make the responsibilities of each riding of similar nature. The facts of the case are that for some considerable time past the north riding has been infringing upon the funds of the west riding until it was feared complications might arise. The most casual glance at the topography of the shire shows that the present boundary lines do not bring about a fair and equal distribution of the shire's territory, and the proposal that has now been made, to more equally cut up the ridings so that the rates derived therefrom will more nearly square with the outlay demanded, is even at the present time occupying the attention of the ratepayers, and, generally speaking, is a consummation devoutly to be wished. In all shire councils throughout the colony it is a notorious fact that the riding within which a township is located has to bear the greatest burden of expenditure, and it is an equally notorious fact that the councils which seek to improve their townships in every way are well rewarded for their efforts, by the increased interest a more solid town excites outside its immediate surroundings. The President said, during the heat of the discussion, that "it had been too much the custom of this council to consider each riding as a shire in itself." Such a way of looking at shire matters is, we regret to say, altogether common to Riponshire; but in throwing in his casting-vote on the negative side of the question, he acted in a way which he inferentially deprecated being done. The Local Government Act makes no provision whatever for each riding working on its own bottom, but such an arrangement is made by mutual agreement among the councillors; in fact, so common has that way of working shires become, that it is looked upon as sanctioned by the Act. The whole matter at issue was very pertinently put by Mr. Boyle, a member of the deputation, when he said, "We want an alteration in the boundaries of the ridings, so as to equalize the revenue. There lies the gravamen of the matter." As matters stand at present between the north and west ridings, the larger revenue is derived by the west, but the larger expenditure has to be borne by the north. This expenditure is, we confidently assert, almost equally as beneficial to the west as to the north riding ratepayers. Now, looking the thing fairly in the face, can it for one moment be reasoned that by re-subdividing the shire any hurt or injury will accrue to the shire as a whole? No falling-off in the revenue will take place, nor will any increase in the working expenses of the shire be brought about. On the other hand, what will the gain be? The revenue of the different ridings will be such as to allow of work being carried out by each riding having the representatives of the one riding having to go "cap in hand" to be assistance from the other. Each riding will then be able to bear the burden of its own expenditure, and the objections that are now offered to one riding borrowing from another will be done away with. Then, also, very necessary works may be undertaken by the north riding, and it need not temporarily repairing—or, more correctly speaking, patching—the roads leading into Beaufort, which are used by the whole of the ratepayers of the shire, improvements of a permanent nature could be effected. The drainage of the town has been sadly neglected, owing to the impoverished state which the finances available for township works have for a long time past been. We have repeatedly called attention to the abominable state of the drain running down Pratt-street, and once again it is badly in want of purification. The only wholesome way of treating it, is to lay down a stone drain similar to that recently made in Willoughby-street. This one also requires extending. It should be by no means the object of the councillors to raise up barriers to the proper working of the Local Government Act. Their aim and purpose should be to try and make the provisions of that Act work smoothly and without friction; and on this point, we say, the deputation ought to teach the Riponshire Council a salutary lesson. They have grown weary over the borrowing-by-one-riding-from-another difficulty, and seek to obviate it by an amicable, judicious, and wise arrangement—the re-subdivision of the shire. "We trust that councillors will give this matter more serious consideration, and after looking at it in all its bearings, decide to comply with the wishes of the ratepayers.

WATERLOO.

A very fair amount of gold was obtained by the several co-operative parties last week. The yields were:—Prospectors, 22 z; Tank, 17 z; Duvy, 5 z; Baxters, 11 z. Waterloo tributors have got their machinery in order again, but are working very short-handed, only one shift being employed; consequently very little gold is being obtained.

The usual monthly meeting of the Waterloo Free Library was held on Wednesday evening. Present—Mr. Shaw (president), and Messrs. Milligan, Martin, Gray, Harris, Flynn, and S. Charlton (secretary). The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and confirmed, the report of the book committee (Messrs. Shaw and Charlton) was read, which showed the library to be in a satisfactory condition, every book as per catalogue to be accounted for. It was recommended that about 70 books be returned; and the numbers of the various journals in the library to be handed into yearly and half-yearly volumes. The report was adopted, and an offer from a Ballarat firm to do the work was accepted. The resignation of the secretary, who is leaving the district, was accepted with deep regret, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Charlton for his gratuitous services to the institution. Mr. C. Gray was appointed as his successor. The general meeting was ordered to be held on the 8th July.

At a meeting of the Sunday school teachers held in the Church on Thursday night, the resignation of the superintendent, Mr. S. Charlton, was received with great regret. Mrs. Milligan was appointed superintendent, and Mr. Robert Charlton secretary; one satisfactory item in the parting was that the school is left in a financial position.

An event of a very pleasing nature took place in the Sunday school here last Saturday at the close of the school, when Miss Kewley, on behalf of her sister, Miss Louisa Kewley, presented with a beautiful silver watch, a gift from the teachers, scholars, and other sympathetic friends. Miss Louisa Kewley, the young lady referred to, who was a teacher in the school, left somewhat suddenly for Melbourne three weeks ago to occupy a position in the Government service, and the teachers on the marks of respect usual on such occasions, took the matter into consideration and resolved that a parting gift of some sort should be forwarded to their late fellow teacher. With a little exertion on the part of the teachers, the necessary funds were quickly available. The selection was intrusted to Mr. Milligan, who happened to be going to Melbourne on business, and having a friend in the trade there a very handsome watch was procured at a great reduction on retail prices (wholesale).
