White and party are down about 70 feet with their new shaft. The Perseverance Company have made a start with their sixth shaft, and it is hoped they will succeed in finding the gold. Thompson and party are down about 80 feet, and expect to bottom next week. Tromp and party obtained 1 1/2 oz. for a fortnight's work, which is very poor. They intend to give it another fortnight's trial, when, if it does not turn out better, it is probable they will draw the shafts. Irrede and party are at a standstill for want of water to puddle with. Their last week's yield was a trifle short of an ounce. The usual poor yields are reported by fossickers and puddlers. The total yields for the past week amounted to about 30 oz. Besides those mentioned, the Last Chance obtained 5 oz.

BALLARAT v. BEAUFORT.

The Ballarat 1st eleven visited Beaufort last Saturday and played a match against 15 of the locals. Beaufort were the wicket-keepers, and were disposed of for 82 runs; the Trompf showed good form for 23, and E. and H. Trompf also played well for 15 each. Dr. Champion took 7 wickets at the small cost of 28 runs, Greaves for 26, and Bailey for 23. When time was called Ballarat had lost 5 wickets for 63 runs. Dr. Champion and Kissing played sound cricket for their respective sides of 23 and out of 14. W. C. Trompf was in fine form, and his dismissal of three batsmen was a great service to the cause. The Ballarat players paid the Beaufort bowlers a compliment, and it was the best county bowling they had played against this season. Beaufort were without the services of several of their best players, A. Trompf in particular being sadly missed behind the wickets, where several easy catches were dropped. The game thus ended in a draw. Appended are the scores:-

of the Park so that they could not have tea with the picnickers, over which there had been a soreness. He explained that he had been told there was to be no match, and as the ground was wanted for the use of the children, he had accordingly applied for it. The cricketers had always been warmly welcome to the best of the picnickers had, and he cordially invited them then to come to tea. But very few accepted the invitation.

Mr. Cole v. Amphitheatre. A very enjoyable game was played between the above clubs at Elmhurst on Saturday last, and resulted in a win for Mr. Cole by 7 wickets. The scores were:- Amphitheatre, 69 and 17; Mr. Cole, 62 and 27 for 3 wickets. Robertson 17, McLaughlin 14, Burston 17, scored well for Amphitheatre. Parker 31 not out and 11, and Baker 20 and 12 not out, made most of the runs for Mr. Cole. In bowling Baker took 4 wickets for 19 runs and 7 wickets for 6 runs got the best average for the other side.

The North Melbourne Club has definitely decided to play 18 of the locals in the Park during the Xmas holidays.

The Australian Eleven have lost 3 wickets for 133 runs in the first test match against Scotland's English Eleven. Giffen and Iredale are both not out with 71 and 48 respectively. Richardson bowled Lyons (1), Trott (12), and Darling (0).

THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

The question of free State education has lately attracted so much attention that the committee of the Financial Reform League presents to the public a few facts and figures which are not readily accessible. The history of State education is well known. Statute from a fairly moderate charge on the revenue it increased by leaps and bounds, until in the year 1890-91 no less than £896,680 was expended. The magnitude of this amount causes attention to be given to the necessity of reducing the annual expenditure, and successive reductions have been made until £308,536 is the Treasury's estimate for the year 1894-95.

MIDDLE CREEK NOTES.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.) The Middle Creek Mutual Improvement and Debating Association held its closing meeting on Saturday, 1st December, at the residence of Mr. J. Russell, in the chair. This meeting, should have been held on 17th November, but on account of the absence of the secretary on that date had to be postponed until the above date. The attendance of members was rather small, being mostly composed of the junior members of the society. But the attendance of visitors was very large, and the evening was most enjoyable. The subject for the night was "Impromptu speaking," but on account of the absence of the older members only a few speeches of any importance were given. After the debate followed one of the best social evenings that has yet been spent, when Mr. W. Kelly gave a song entitled "The Hat McGinness wore"; Mr. Larassee, song, "Meet me by moonlight"; Mr. J. A. Lewis, song, "Molly Anty"; Mr. Grompton, song, "A little nipper"; Mr. J. Panther, song, "Kiss me and go to sleep"; Mr. J. O'Brien, song, "Tom Corrigan"; Mr. J. McDonnell, song, "Try till death." The singing was most successful, and the chair and visitors, and the meeting closed for the summer months.

Halloway's Ointment.—The great climatic variations which soldiers and sailors experience render them liable to a variety of diseases, the most common of which are skin diseases, and rheumatism. It is to be feared, by their own carelessness as well. Halloway's remedies are safe and easy means of cure for these constitutional and local ailments, which are so frequently rendered by residence in unhealthy climates and by ineffectual living. The Ointment is a wonderfully healing application, as it cleanses the surface of the skin, and soothes the inflamed parts, and checks the progress of skin diseases. The Pills purify the blood, cleanse the liver, and remove all noxious matter from the system.

"They are not village settlements," said Mr. Longmore in the Assembly on Tuesday; "they're pinch-gut settlements; he (Mr. McIntyre) has murdered men there; he has driven them into lunatic asylums." That's where you ought to have been long ago," ejaculated Mr. McIntyre, whereat the House laughed. Mr. Longmore shot another characteristic barb, and then collapsed.

Lord Brassey states that he has no official knowledge that he is to succeed the Earl of Hopetoun as Governor of Victoria. He, however, declines to give the report that he is to receive the appointment.

One of the inherent weak features of an income tax is brought out by the late proposals of the Government. The Treasurer declares that he will be so much money short in consequence of the amendments made in the land tax. There is no attempt to look about to see if the money cannot be made up elsewhere, but amid a chorus of approval of non-taxpayers, the order goes forth for a further 2d and 4d in the 1s in the income tax.

The record for the sitting of the Legislative Assembly yesterday (says Thursday's "Argus") would have been good for August, but it was not much to boast about for December when the pressure is on to prorogue before Christmas. Collectively members want to close up quickly; individually they are endeavoring to prevent that being done.

Yesterday afternoon two hours were spent on the Harbour Trust Bill, which, but for extraneous discussion, ought to have been passed in three minutes. After the dinner hour Sir James Patterson resumed the debate on the second reading of the Land and Income Tax Bill, which provides the means whereby the taxes are to be collected. The specific enforcement of the taxes for this year will be made in a small separate bill. The Ministry declined to debate the measure before the Chair, and it appeared as if the vote would be taken after the Premier and Mr. Harper had spoken, but Mr. Moonie gave impetus to the discussion, and an interesting contest followed. Finally, at 11 o'clock, the second reading was agreed to by 48 to 36. The suggestion of an adjournment at that hour was scouted; the House was eager to tackle the clauses in committee. By 25 minutes to 12 the opponents had disappeared, and the Premier not unwillingly consented to close for the night. It is evident that the House is fatigued.

The Assembly rose yesterday morning shortly before seven o'clock. Land Tax and Income Tax Bill passed through committee. Mr. Murray moved an amendment with the object of suspending entirely the old land tax from 1st July, 1894. The effect of this would be, of course, that only the newly imposed tax should be paid. On a division the Government were beaten by a majority of 10. The Premier signified that he did not intend to accept it if he could get the House to reverse the decision on the third reading. The alteration, he said, would make a difference of £100,000 to the Treasury, but he would consent to accede to the decision if the House decided to sustain the committee on the matter he should have to bring forward some new taxation proposal to make up the amount.—Herald.

USEFUL HINTS.

TO WASH CLOTHES WITH PARAFFIN SOAP.—Cut down 1lb. paraffin soap and put it into a boiler of water to melt. Rub the clothes with the soft water, in which they will be previously soaked, for half an hour; then put them into a tub with plenty of cold water; wash them thoroughly, then rinse in blue water and dry.

TO CLEAN DRAPERY.—Gold and silver fancy-work of this description may be most easily cleaned with spirits of wine, either alone, or diluted with an equal weight of water. The common practice of using alkaline or acidulous liquors is very injurious, and frequently destroys the beauty of the articles, instead of cleaning them.

TO RESTORE SCORCHED LINEN.—Ingredients: Two ounces, 1/2 oz. white soap, 2oz. of fuller's earth, half a pint of vinegar. Boiled extract of henna, 1/2 oz. of turpentine, and 1/2 oz. of pressing them; cut up the soap and fuller's earth, and boil all together. When cool, pour the scorched linen with this mixture, and let it dry. Wash the linen, and the scorches will disappear, if not so bad as to damage the texture.

TO CLEAN BRUSSELS CARPETS.—Brussels carpets may be cleaned in the following manner.—First, stretch the carpet tightly on the floor, nail at the sides, and sweep it clean. Procure an ox gall from a butcher, and mix it with a pair of cold water. Have another pail ready with cold water only. Have also two woolen cloths and several dry towels. Commence by dipping a woolen cloth in the gall water, and then rub the carpet with it. This will produce a froth on the carpet, and you will then take the other woolen cloth dipped in clean water, and with which you rub the carpet till no more froth rises from it, rinsing the cloth occasionally in clean water. The water in this pail should become so soapy as to become dirty. You then rub the carpet as dry as possible with the towels.

TO WASH FLANNELS.—In washing flannels (notice particularly), to keep them a good colour, and to prevent their shrinking. Get from the grocer 1lb. or 2lb. (according to the size of your washing) of soap parings, which you will get clean by dipping in cold water, put three quarters of water; boil to a jelly, and with this wash your flannels. Be sure you have plenty of warm water, not too hot; put in a handful of your soap jelly, and mix thoroughly in the water; then take the flannels and rub them out of the water, and then first; then squeeze the articles up and down well; rub as little as possible, for rubbing knots the little loops of wool together, and thickens the flannel; wring them in a machine, if you have one; if not, squeeze them well. Dry in the open air, if the weather permits, as quickly as possible. In washing scarlet or blue flannel, put one tablespoonful of spirits of ammonia in the rinsing water.

Lime-washing is a much more efficacious mode of purification than white-washing, but is not so often used, as few persons know how to make lime-wash. If you use it, it is destroyed by the lime, and the wash easily rubs off the walls when dry. This also happens if the lime is simply slaked in water and used without any fixing material. Lime-wash should be made by placing some freshly burned quicklime in a pail, and adding an sufficient water to cover it. If the lime is fresh, great heat is given out; boiled oil (a preparation of limesed oil, sold by all oilmen) should then be added, one pint to each gallon of wash. For cheapness, any refuse fat, such as tallow, may be used instead of the boiled oil. The brush should not be dipped in the lime-wash, or the bristles will be destroyed. Should coloured wash be required, 1lb. of green vitriol added to every two gallons of wash gives a pleasing tinge. Quick-lime slaked with skimmed milk, and afterwards thinned with water, makes an excellent wash for out-door walls, as it is not acted on by the weather.

WORKING DRESSES.—It is best to wear washing dresses to work in as much as possible; of course washing them or having them washed is troublesome and expensive, but they are clean and do not ruin them, and they look fresher and better than stuff dresses, especially in summer. Never trim a washing dress with flounces or frills; they look out of place, are soon crumpled, and are very troublesome during made long; it is waste of stuff, and would be very much in the way. Keep your working dress clean and tidy by wearing over it a large thick apron with a bib, and turning up your sleeves.

"You see the coat is three shillings?" "Three shillings, mine friend." "And you warrant it all wool?" "All wool except do puttons and do putton-holes." "Ah! But how can you afford to sell an all-wool coat for three shillings?" "Mine friend, I can't afford to sell it for more; it is worth more as mine shillings." "Then you lose money on it?" "Mine friend, I don't lose money on it." "I tell you you lose it, and doated you get it away." "Do deeces do was made, and she sheeps wool great reductions."

WOMAN'S HIGHEST MISSION.

It has been truly said that "if modern knowledge is power, it is not wisdom"; and therefore, with increased education, the social status does not always improve, crime does not diminish, nor suffering grow less, and thus the levels of life are not lifted.

How shall she best attain it? she asks. But right here, in the answer, she gives herself, it is actually the mistake that she makes, and that perhaps explains in part the hostile attitude of many men and the shrinking of certain women when equal claims and rights are asserted.

But surely here is no freedom in its true sense, because no deliverance and enlargement of spirit, giving birth to new individuality and initiative.

Undoubtedly there are women gifted to excel where men have excelled in scientific and professional pursuits; but these women are necessarily exceptional. There are reasons deep-seated in her own constitution, and in the constitution of society, why it is not easy nor always to be advised that young women should be subjected to the mental strain and strict training required to fit them for a profession, nor is it well, or often possible that girls as a rule should leave their homes and be sent into the world like boys.

But even under the most favouring circumstances, and when good result has been accomplished without too great sacrifice or injury in any other direction, it is seldom that a woman is able to devote herself without interruption, and to the exclusion of the more intimate interests of life, to the callings that require unremitting and absorbed attention.

Marriage comes in as so paramount a factor; an episode in the life of a man, it is a career for a woman, in most cases incompatible with any other career. And for women who do not marry, the claims and duties of home are often quite as pressing and incumbent; the family tie is stronger, the dependence more subtle, and the whole affectional side of life has greater stress and obligation with women than with men.

But apart from these practical considerations, no woman who has sounded the depths of her own nature can help feeling that a profound deception awaits those who imagine that the outward extension of privilege, the liberty of the arena and compete for what the world prizes, will satisfy the deep inner craving, the vague but keen longing, the unknown want which the world cannot fulfil.

Women even more than men are restless, unsatisfied, seeking they know not what, they know not where; for a great hope has gone out of the world, a great light and presence once seen and felt by all. The world cannot and need not go back to its primitive beliefs, but spiritual growth must keep pace with mental growth.

In proportion as the realm of matter is explored and brought within the compass of mind the realm of spirit must expand to receive it, filling and making radiant with its presence the whole visible universe.

USEFUL HINTS.

TO WASH CLOTHES IN PARAFFIN SOAP.—Cut own siphon into soap and put in small boiler of water to melt. But the clothes wash out of the soda water, in which they have been previously soaked, put them into the boiler and let them boil for half an hour; then put them into a tub with plenty of cold water, wash again thoroughly, then rinse in blue water and dry.

TO CLEAN BRUSSELS CARPETS.—Brussels carpets may be cleaned in the following manner:—First, stretch the carpet tightly on the floor, nail it at the sides, and sweep it clean. Proceed on a rug from a butler, and mix with a pint of cold water and another pint ready with cold water only. Have also two woolen cloths and several dry towels. Commence by dipping a woolen cloth in the gall-water, and then rub the carpet with it. This will produce a froth on the carpet, and you will not take the other woolen cloth dipped in clean water, with which you will rub the carpet till no more froth rises from it, rinsing the cloth occasionally in the clean water. The water in this pail should be changed when it becomes dirty. Then rub the carpet as dry as possible with the towels.

TO WASH FLANNELS.—In washing flannels (notice particularly), to keep them a good colour, and to prevent their shrinking. Get from the grocer 1 lb. or 2 lb. (according to the size of your washing) of soap parings, which you will get cheap; for 1 lb. of soap parings, put three quarters of water; hot to a jelly, and with this wash your flannels. Be sure you have plenty of warm water, not too hot; put in a handful of your soap jelly, and mix thoroughly in the water; then take the flannels one at a time, shake out dust out of them first; then sluice the articles up and down well; rub as little as possible, for rubbing soots the little loops of wool together, and thickens the flannel; wring them in a machine, if you have one; if not, squeeze them well. Dry in the open air, if the weather permits, as quickly as possible. In washing scarlet or blue flannel, put one tablespoonful of spirits of ammonia in the rinsing water.

Lime-washing is a much more effectual mode of purification than white-washing, but is not so often used, as few persons know how to make lime-wash. If lime is used it is destroyed by the lime, and the wash easily rubs off the walls when dry. This also happens if the lime be simply slaked in water and used without any fixing material. Lime-wash should be made by placing some freshly burned quicklime in a tub, and pouring sufficient water to cover it; if the lime is fresh, great heat is given out; boiled oil (a preparation of limesed oil, sold by all oilmen) should be added, and the mixture stirred as dripping, may be used instead of the boiled oil. The whole should then be thinned with water. The brush should not be left in the lime-wash, or the bristles will be destroyed. Should coloured wash be required, 1 lb. of green vitriol added to every two gallons of wash gives a pleasing drab. Quicklime slaked with skimmed milk, and afterwards thinned with water, makes an excellent wash for out-door walls, as it is not acted on by the weather.

WORKING DRESSES.—It is best to wear washing dresses to work in as much as possible; of course washing them or having them washed is troublesome and expensive, but dirt and grease do not ruin them, and they look fresher and better than stiff dresses, especially in summer. Never trim a washing dress with flosses or frills; they look out of place, as soon crumpled, and are very troublesome to starch and iron. Do not have a working dress made long; it is waste of stuff, and would be very much in the way. Keep your working dress clean and tidy by wearing over it a large thick apron with a bib, and turning up your sleeves.

"You say the coat is three shillings?" "Tree shillin', mine fren!" "And you want it all wool?" "All wool except do buttons and do buttons-holes." "Ah! But how can you afford to sell an all-wool coat for three shillings?" "Mind fren, I doan wonder you was surprised; y'd wool in de goat is worth more as tree shillin'." "Then you lose honey on it?" "Mine grasshew? Mine fren, tell you von beetle segret, and deansen you if it wavy. De flosses on de packs of dose habes von tree dot wot was misfit, and had to be sold at great reductions."

TO CLEAN EYEGLASSES.—Gold and silver fancy-work of this description may be most easily cleaned with spirits of wine, either alone, or diluted with an equal weight of water. The common practice of using alkaline or caustic liquors is very injurious, and frequently does away with the articles, instead of cleaning them.

A curious human phenomenon has just found his way to London in the person of a young man named Spanner Pierre, a native of Augsburg, Bavaria, who possesses the peculiar power of distending his skin in a very remarkable way. By mere exercise of the will, assisted, of course, by the lungs, Pierre can expand his skin from the chest completely over the head, from the forehead so as to cover eyes and nose, and from the cheeks so as to cover the ears, and so on. It is not clear to what cause this singular physical peculiarity is due.

For the last day, two gales of terrific violence have been raging in Great Britain. Numerous damage has been done, and many wrecks are reported. The steel turbine Kirk Michael, 933 tons, owned by Messrs J. Steel and Son, of Liverpool, bound from that port for Melbourne, ran on to the rocks at Howland, and eight persons were drowned. The Manchester and London express, which was crowded with holiday passengers, came into collision at Chelford, near Manchester, with some goods trucks which had been blown across the line. The consequences were most disastrous, 13 passengers were killed and 40 more or less injured.—Argus, Monday.

COUGHS, COLDS AND ASTHMA.—The Ointment should assiduously be rubbed at least twice a day on the chest and between the shoulders, when the symptoms will quickly abate. No medicines are more efficient in chest complaints, none can be used with equal safety and certainty.

GOUT AND RHEUMATISM.—These are undeniably Blood Diseases, and the poison manifests its presence in the well known symptoms. The only certain means of cure consists in overcoming this Gouty in the blood, which is rapidly purified by the use of the Pills. The Ointment, when rubbed upon the skin, penetrates through the pores, acts in unison with the Pills, and soon effects a cure.

DROPSY, SWOLLEN LEGS.—These remedies act directly upon the absorbent system with a power that no dropsy, however inveterate, can long resist. They regulate the circulation, they filter out everything that is noxious or injurious, and they give tone to the system.

BAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS AND OLD ULCERS.—This invaluable Ointment is an infallible cure for any wound, sore, or ulcer, of however long standing. For pimples, blotches, scald heads, and scorbatic humors, it is equally efficacious. Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Old Ulcers, Cancers, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Gout, Gravel, Rheumatism, Stiff Joints, Dropsy, Swollen Legs, Wounds, Ulcers, Yaws.

PRACTICAL JOTTING.

BY THOMAS LANG & CO., Nurserymen and Seedsmen, 435 to 441, Melbourn, who supply garden and farm requisites. CALENDAR OF OPERATIONS FOR DECEMBER.—A long spell of dry weather culminated in the hottest day on record, 101° in the shade, and the sun, will have had considerable effect on the ground. In dry weather there are three ways to water:—1. Watering the ground. 2. Watering the plants. 3. Watering the soil.

Watering the ground is the most frequent watering. The rule is:—If the soil is dry, water the ground. If the soil is wet, do not water. Watering the plants is the most important watering. The rule is:—If the plants are dry, water them. If the plants are wet, do not water them.
