REMOVAL NOTICE.

MR A. K. J. PRACTICAL TAILOR, Begs to notify the residents of the surrounding district that he has removed to the premises of the next Mechanics' Institute (next to the premises), and would be pleased to receive their patronage. He is extending to them the same good workmanship and prices to all classes, to merit a continuance of their support, and the favour of a recommendation to their friends. A choice collection of English, Irish, Scotch, and Colonial Tweeds and Coatings always on hand. Hunting, Riding, and Bicycle Outfits a speciality. My motto still the same, "NO FIT, NO PAY." Note the Address—A. KILGOUR, PRACTICAL TAILOR, Haycock-street (next Mechanics' Institute).

The reputation for keeping the best quality of goods at the keenest prices will be more noticeable this season than ever.

To our Readers and Patrons.

THE PROSPERITY OF A DISTRICT DEPENDS chiefly upon the support and encouragement that is given by the population to local enterprise and industry. Every venture is a test of local enterprise, but each, whilst aiming at the success of the promoter, must offer certain returns to those whose support is necessary to achieve these advantageous results on both sides.

Therefore, Support Local Industry and Local Enterprise.

The law of exchange was in its working; thus it was buying and selling, using a value as a paper money, and there is more than one kind of useful, but not every kind retains value. The "paper" money must be supported by a real value. A newspaper proprietor is that value.

"Subscribers and Advertisers," and he will do his utmost to entitle him to a good share of it.

REPORTS ON MINES AND MINERAL PROPERTIES, containing Cyanide Chlorination, Supervision and Management of Mines and Mineral Properties undertaken. Social Mining ventures introduced to British and other investors. AGENT—MR JOHN HUMPHREYS, Belmont.

ALL DISORDERS AFFECTING THE LIVER, STOMACH, AND BOWELS.

These Pills can be confidently recommended as the most certain remedy for indigestion, flatulency, acidity, heartburn, colic, constipation, and all the many mal-effects resulting from disordered stomach or bowels. These Pills are alteratives and strengtheners of the stomach. They may be taken under any circumstances.

Weakness and Debility, Nervous Irritability.

The wholesome effect exercised by these admirable Pills over the blood is like a charm in dispelling low spirits, and restoring cheerfulness. Their mild purgative qualities will fit them for a domestic medicine, particularly for females of all ages and periods of life.

To Regain Health, Strength, and Vigour.

Whenever persons find themselves in that state termed a "little out of health," it is necessary that Holloway's Pills should be perseveringly taken, as they not only rid both solids and fluids of all morbid matters, but regulate all disordered actions, and thoroughly strengthen the frame.

Chronic Coughs, Colds, and Asthmatical Affections.

These Pills, assisted by rubbing Holloway's Ointment very effectively twice a day upon the throat and chest, will be found the most effective remedy for all pectoral diseases. This treatment has proved wonderfully efficient in not only curing chronic coughs and colds, but asthma on many years standing.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:—

Age	Female Irregularities	Bleeding
Acidities	Fever of all kinds	Sore Throat
Bilious Complaints	Flatulency	Stomach and General Debility

THE LEADER-TUTHILL CASE.

ENQUIRIES FOR JOHN BARR STEVENSON.

From the time when John Barr Stevenson made the sensational confession that he had committed perjury when giving evidence against Mr Tuthill in the trial of the latter for alleged criminal libel on Mr Leader, P.M., the public have been anxiously awaiting the next development in this extraordinary case.

In regard to the forthcoming enquiry by the Public Service Board into the charges made against Mr Leader, P.M., arising out of the letters sent by Mr F. H. Tuthill, there is little to report. Mr Leader has retained Mr A. Phillips to conduct the case on his behalf.

The chief and, in fact, only witness for the prosecution in the criminal libel action Leader v. Tuthill, which was heard before Mr Justice Williams, in Ballarat, has got himself into hot water.

The yields from the few small co-operative parties working in the locality of Beaufort were poor again last week, and want of water for puddling purposes has caused one or two parties to suspend work till rain comes.

THE GOLDFIELDS OF WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

A GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

The goldfields of Western Australia are very alluring to those at a distance. The following interesting letter from Mr A. Ansalidi, a practical miner of Wat-rioo, who recently returned from Coolgardie, should have a checking influence upon those residents of the district who think that they have only to go to W.A. to make a fortune.

Coolgardie, distant 351 miles from Perth, is by far the largest place on the goldfields, and is generally regarded as the main centre, but is overdone. The mines in the vicinity have not come up to expectations, and there are hundreds of unemployed. The aspect is gloomy.

Provisions are dear—8d and 9d for a small loaf; small tin jam, 11d; onions, 3 for 6d; meat, 10d and 1s 2d per lb; water (it depends where you are), prices range from 4d to 9d per gallon.

BLACK DOUGLAS was bought in Melbourne by John Dunnet, Esq., of Stawell, for 550 guineas.

BEAUFORT. GEO. H. COUGLE, HAVELOCK STREET.

BOTH SIDES.

(By Lady Cook, nee Tennessee Chaffin.) Partiality is more frequently a misfortune than a vice. Men are partial by habit, by education, by their locality, and by the religious and social prejudices which they acquire from their infancy.

We have seen men shudder at the suggestion of a change of opinion, just as they might shudder at impending disgrace. They were afraid to hear the other side, afraid to read certain books, afraid to have their ideas submitted to the conflict of reasoning and facts.

There are others who theoretically admit the wisdom of one-sidedness and yet adhere to it. Some among them are constant trumpet-blowers. "Hear both sides," but when put to the practical test they still only want to hear one—their own.

We call ourselves Christians because we have been brought up among those who call themselves by this name. Had we been born and bred Arabs in Arabia we should have been Mahomedans, and if of some other breed in another part of the world, then something else. It is a little humiliating to think that our faith depends upon our blood or geographical distribution, and that the sublimest truths should be confined to our locality.

No one can hear both sides properly unless he does it with an open mind. For impartiality is the rarest of gifts, and can only be possessed by a clear head, and a sound heart fired with a quenchless love of truth. Once these are attained the rest is easy.

A celebrated Doctor, who must be naiveless, being overweighed with his gigantic labours in Scriptural translation, said the other day, while in warm discussion with a notable Jew: "I wish to heaven Moses had never been born."

The greatest advantage to be derived from the hearing of both sides is not only an advantage to ourselves but to others also. In this way alone can we become enlightened and just. There are many social questions of great interest being discussed just now, questions which will have an important bearing on the welfare of future generations. But instead of considering them in a candid and fair spirit, with a generous willingness to listen calmly to opposite views, we see the partisans, for or against, intolerant of criticism, heated by passion, and often blind with polemical fury. We see them eager to suppress the facts against themselves and to magnify those in their favor. Nor are people of the greatest pretensions to learning, goodwill and piety exempt from these weaknesses. In their eyes the sacredness or intended beneficence of their cause excuses everything. Thus we notice that the members of Oxford University—grave professors, clergymen, and Fellows, many of them—have determined by a majority to refuse academic degrees to the women students who have studied or qualified for them.

Again, there is the drink question, a subject of momentous consequence, but not to be settled by intolerance, injustice, or compulsion on one side or the other. Treaties hold meetings and bolster each other up, and licensed victuallers and their friends do the same. But we never hear of both parties coming together to discuss their differences amicably and to find a reasonable and common line of action.

Wherever we turn, it is just the same. The questions in which women are vitally interested are scoffed at and pooch-pooched by those men who have never studied them and know nothing about them. The very term "women's rights," which should appeal to every man's sense of justice and to every woman's sense of indignation, is a term of reproach. But men of the highest intelligence, who have approached them with an unbiased mind, have become their warmest advocates.

We call ourselves Christians because we have been brought up among those who call themselves by this name. Had we been born and bred Arabs in Arabia we should have been Mahomedans, and if of some other breed in another part of the world, then something else. It is a little humiliating to think that our faith depends upon our blood or geographical distribution, and that the sublimest truths should be confined to our locality.

For blood is the life. If the blood is laden with impurities it spreads disease as it circulates through the organs of the human body—Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Kidneys, Brain, etc.—and the result is a general debility and weakness. Clark's World-famed Blood Purifier is warranted to cleanse the blood from all impurities from whatever cause arising. For Scrofula, Scurvy, Eczema, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseases, Pimples, and Sores of all kinds its effects are marvellous. Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it. Sold everywhere at 2s. 6d. Beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

A suggestion has been made by a medical authority to cleanse the teeth with alum. He backs up his opinion by stating that Horace Walpole, obliged living to an extreme old age had a perfect set of teeth at the time of his death. He attributed this to the habit he had of dissolving a very small piece of alum in his mouth three times a day. The recipe was given him by a Mrs. Grosvenor, in her day a celebrated beauty, who also by the same means retained a flawless set of teeth up to her death, at the age of 80.

An advertisement is a paper man's marketable commodity, and it is quite as much so as a side of bacon, a pound of butter, or a ton of flour. No man can afford to give away the things he sells for a livelihood, and the man who does so in order to get business is generally in a bad way. Don't try to get the paper man "in a bad way."

Two lady candidates, Mrs Joan Cameron and Mrs Annie Dorothy Allen, headed the poll as candidates for the Mildura Board of Advice. FLORIDINE.—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH. A few drops of the liquid "Floridine" applied on a wet tooth-brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, loosens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly whiteness, and is an all-potent odoriferous breath. It removes every stain caused by food, drink, and tobacco, and is delicious to the taste, and the greatest discovery of the age. Price 2s. 6d. of all Chemists and Perfumers. Wholesale depot, 33 Paragon Road, London, England.

LOOKING FOR THE LONELY ROCK.

The island of St. Paul is merely a great rock in the Southern Ocean. It is the top of a volcanic mountain. There are no means of sustaining life to be found on it. The nearest habitation is the Antarctic continent, and it is a long and desolate voyage to reach it. The island is a mere rock, and is only visible from the sea.

My foot seemed to give me no strength," says a man who was in a hospital, and as the hopeless, starving days passed slowly by I grew weaker and weaker. By-and-by my legs trembled and bent under me, and I could no longer get about.

There was a nasty bitter flavour in my mouth, and a headache, and a kind of nervousness, which was new to my experience, as it was depressing and cheerless.

In this state I was, when in March, 1894, a friend advised me to try Mother Seely's Syrup. On account of the very reasons I have mentioned, I started to experiment with any number of remedies. But I overcame this aversion (most fortunately for me) and got a bottle of Mother Seely's Syrup from Mr. Judd, the chemist in Leamington, and after taking it I felt a marked and great improvement. I had no pain after eating and my food felt right, digested, and gave me strength.

THE question, What is the record shearing tally in Australia? is often asked. Two years ago Messrs Coleman and Sons, of Coomandoo, New South Wales, announced that they would present two gold medals to any shearer in the Australian colonies whose tally by hand-shearing topped the poll.

Holders of electors' rights hearing date on or before the 2nd December, 1895, are reminded that they must obtain renewed "rights" in lieu of the old ones, in order to have their names placed on the new general lists to be made up on the 1st December next.

KEATING'S POWDER destroys BUGS, BEES, MOTHS, BEETLES, and all other insects which get into the clothes, and animals. In exterminating Beetles the success of this powder is extraordinary. It is perfectly clean in application. See the article you purchase of any of the chemists and druggists in the colony.

Dutch fishermen make astonishing catches by means of the following very simple plan:—They put a number of live worms and insects in a bottle partly filled with water, and then cork it securely. The bottle is dropped into the water, the fisherman sinking his lines alongside. It appears that the sight of the wriggling contents of the bottle so excites the appetite of the fishy tribes that they fall easy victims to the baited hooks.

Wedding rings were used in Egypt 3000 years before Christ. The greatest advantage you can give your newspaper is your job printing; if you do not feel able to run an advertisement, surely you can afford to give the newspaper your cards, dodgers, bill-headers, letter-heads, envelopes, and all business printing to execute. The newspaper needs it, and it helps him to pay his printers for setting up the thousand and one free notices he gives you and your town; but don't give it to the printer or job printing office that can give you no such return, and is spending neither time, money, nor brains in helping you to build up your town. The time may come when a newspaper can live simply upon the revenue derived from advertising and subscriptions, but no ordinary newspaper in any ordinary town can exist without the auxiliary support derived from job printing. Therefore, if you want a good newspaper—one that can still further help you and your town—give it your job printing.

In the organism of man, as in that of all the higher animals, the nutrition of the entire body is dependent upon the blood. If the blood is diseased, the body is diseased. Clark's World-famed Blood Purifier is a guaranteed cure for all Blood and Skin Diseases. It is the most searching blood cleanser ever discovered, and it will free the blood from every impurity, whether arising from Scrofula, Scurvy, Eczema, Bad Legs, Pimples and Sores of all kinds, its effects are marvellous. Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it. Sold everywhere at 2s. 6d. per bottle. Beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

HINTS TO FRIENDLY READERS.

You want to see the local paper a successful institution. Talk about it wherever you go. Mention it to the tradespeople with whom you do business.

If they don't advertise in it, try and induce them to do so. If you are induced to buy anything from what you have read in its advertising columns mention the fact to the tradesman.

Don't lend your paper to any person who can afford to become a subscriber, but is too mean to support local enterprise.

No further step will be taken with regard to fixing the date of the federal elections until it is definitely known whether Queensland intends to join with the other colonies.

A man may as well sit down in a meadow and expect a cow to come and be milked, as to sit down in his store and expect to get trade without advertising. An occasional customer may stray in, inquire for something, and buy it, but most people go where they have been informed that the goods they want are to be found. Furthermore, a considerable proportion of business is made by advertising. An advertisement often suggests to a reader his want of an article, and he goes and buys when he would not have realised his need if he had not been put in mind of it.

At present the population of the seven Australasian colonies is estimated to be 4,233,360, and it has deposited in the Savings Banks the nice little sum of £26,097,176.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pangs of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. WINDOLIN'S SWEETENED SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little child grows as bright as a button. It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery, and diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. WINDOLIN'S SWEETENED SYRUP is sold by Medicine Dealers everywhere at 1s. 6d. per bottle.

The question, What is the record shearing tally in Australia? is often asked. Two years ago Messrs Coleman and Sons, of Coomandoo, New South Wales, announced that they would present two gold medals to any shearer in the Australian colonies whose tally by hand-shearing topped the poll. The contest was conducted by the Shearers' Union, who have declared Mr. R. J. Howe, of Blackall, Queensland, the winner of both medals with a record of 321 by hand shearing and 237 by the machine in eight hours. This tally was made at Alice Downs Station, Queensland.

An unaccountable ignorance appears to still prevail as to the relative numbers of electors for the Legislative Council and Assembly. The number of voters for the Lower House is 229,036, of whom 205,436 are ratepayers and 23,600 holders of electors' rights. For the Legislative Council there are 153,442 voters, of whom 503 are holders of electors' rights. The qualification of electors for the latter is—1. Freehold in the lands situated in any one province, rated at no less than £100 (not £1000)—that is the qualification for a member a year. 2. Leasehold rated at no less than £25 a year. 3. University graduates, matriculated students, certificated schoolmasters, and naval and military officers. It will thus be seen that the Upper House represents within a fraction of three-fourths of the voters represented in the other chamber.

AS A SAFE, PERMANENT, AND WARRANTED CURE FOR PIMPLES, SCROFULA, SCURVY, BAD LEGS, SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES, PIMPLES, AND SORES OF ALL KINDS, AND ALL OTHER AFFECTIONS OF THE SKIN AND BLOOD, see the advertisement of Clark's World-famed Blood Purifier. It is certainly the finest Blood Purifier that science and medical skill have brought to light. Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it. Sold everywhere at 2s. 6d. per bottle. Beware of worthless imitations.

Electoral rights should be taken out this week. Nearly 350 passengers came back from the West by the s.s. Adelaide. Robert H. Jones, 11 years old, of Caraghman, was treated at the Ballarat Hospital on Saturday for severe burns on the face, caused by playing with gunpowder.

At Bendigo Joseph Lenthall, aged 12½ years, whilst bird nesting, fell 70 feet down an abandoned shaft, and was killed instantaneously. A bill for a reduction in the number of members of Parliament has been drafted, and will be placed before the Cabinet shortly.

Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it. Sold everywhere at 2s. 6d. per bottle. Beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

COTTON SEED AS MANURE.

Composting the Seed as Manure.—The Greater Ahead of the Compost. A number of experts in different states have expressed themselves on the subject of composting the whole seed in the columns of The Rural New Yorker. F. W. Massey, writing from the North Carolina station, says: "The man here who would propose to compost whole cotton seed would be considered little short of a lunatic. Cotton planters do not compost seed now, but sell it to the oil mills and buy the meal and hulls back for feed or manure."

I could never see enough in compost making to warrant the great labor involved in the practice. I always preferred to get out what manure I had as fast as possible, then supplement it with the cheaper forms of mineral fertilizers and grow my composting material in the shape of clover or peas vines already spread over the land. Cotton growers who do not already know should be taught that the oil in cotton is of no value to them as manure, and the meal is far more available as a fertilizer than the whole seed. If I were growing cotton where I could not sell the seed, I would crush it and spread it once on the land. In this way there would be less loss of nitrogen than in any other way which I know of.

R. J. Redding of the Georgia station writes that the crusher is ahead of the compost. He says: "In our own practice at the station we use a simple cotton-seed powder, which washes the seed sufficiently to prevent germination. The crushed seed is then distributed directly in the bedding furrows, the other ingredients being spread along in the same furrows and immediately covered by the bedding plow. The direct application of cotton seed as a fertilizer is rapidly falling into disuse and discredit for the reason that the cottonseed meal for seed exchange outsooned meal for seed on terms that justify the farmer in making the exchange."

A. W. Smith of Georgia writes that for years he has discarded cotton seed and bought bone, tankage, dried blood and nitrate of soda. Tankage containing so large a percent of phosphoric acid and nitrogen and being in such dry, fine powder form, to any other fertilizer, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little child grows as bright as a button. It soothes the child, it softens the gums, allays pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for dysentery, and diarrhea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. WINDOLIN'S SWEETENED SYRUP is sold by Medicine Dealers everywhere at 1s. 6d. per bottle.

The Brown Leghorn is a meritorious fowl. It is a fowl that represents dollars and cents and increases the value of the farm poultry wherever introduced. This writes an enthusiastic admirer of this popular breed to Southern Cultivator. He further adds: "The great laying qualities of this breed of fowls are worthy of our earnest consideration from an economic point of view. We see in this breed increased returns from the poultry yards and increased prosperity for the poultry keeper. We see no reason why the farmer should not introduce Leghorns among their farm poultry. But we see many reasons why they should. The south is the natural home of the Leghorn. Here they are profitable and prolific. They thrive and multiply rapidly in the south. They increase egg production wherever they go. There are many valuable breeds of thoroughbred poultry, but for the south and for profit we strongly advocate the Brown Leghorn."

A portable beef hoister. Here is a portable beef hoister originally sketched for The Farm Journal. It can be taken apart easily or folded up and carried to any part of the farm or loaned to the neighbors: Four 2 by 4 scantlings 16 feet long fastened together

FOR HOISTING BEEF. at the top with a heavy iron bolt, the front pair of uprights braced across with a crosspiece, making them a feet at the base. Use a buggy axle for the wheels placed below the crossbar. With block and tackle this hoister can be relied on to handle and load the heaviest beaves with ease. As the block and tackle is part of a farmer's outfit, it will need no description.

Sown in August, winter oats furnish in Tennessee the best of grazing from October to the latter part of April and then yield far more bushels than spring oats do. The Kalamazoo (Mich.) district has acquired a good reputation in preparing colery for not only the western markets, but eastern cities as well. The stalks are tied in parcels of six dozen small bunches. Each of these individual bunches is attached to a single root. This root is carefully trimmed to a blunt point with the stalks nicely bunched a distance of 8 to 10 inches.

HOW IS IT THAT 'CLARK'S BLOOD PURIFIER' has obtained such great popularity? The question which has perplexed many is answered by the fact that it is unquestionably the finest blood purifier that science and medical skill have brought to light. Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it. For Scrofula, Scurvy, Eczema, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseases, Pimples, and Sores of all kinds, its effects are marvellous. Sold everywhere at 2s. 6d. per bottle. Beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

THE FARM FIELD AND GARDEN.

IN THE TOBACCO FIELD. Directions Given in a Brief in From the Georgia Station on Pruning and Topping. The rule varies according as the tobacco is to be "stalk cured" or "leaf cured." If the entire stalk is to be cut and the leaves cured on the stalk, it is usual to leave a number of leaves on each stalk, varying according to the time when the stalk arrives at the topping stage, and its apparent vigor and promise. Early plants are allowed to remain as high as 12 leaves—later 10 and 7.

If the "leaf cure" has been determined upon, or the "show process," more leaves may be left—say 12, 14 and sometimes as many as 16 or 18, according to the vigor and earliness of the plant. Pruning is done two or three of the bottom leaves, and the leaves are done at the same time as the topping is done. Some planters prune the stalk leaves to remain, and they constitute "hand leaves." But it is probably better to pull them off and throw them away. Whatever the process of curing the operator must determine how many leaves on each stalk will probably make a difference of 100 or 200 lbs. per acre. It is best to wait until one-third or one-fourth of the top leaves begin to turn red before commencing to top, and the most careful hands. First prune the stalk. Then fix the eye on the bottom leaf and the one that stands in the perpendicular above it in the third or fourth leaf. This will make nine leaves, and it will be easy to reduce or add to that number without actually counting. Remember, as the season advances, to reduce the number of leaves left to mature.

Sacking should be attended to, commencing when going overtopping the second time or whenever the stalks are 2 or 3 inches long. This is usually done when weeding the plants, but may be done whenever the field is gone over for any purpose. Working is another point at which the beginner will fall if he is not made fully to appreciate the danger of frost loss from this source. The most reliable safeguard against the horrowers is to have the crop to mature early. The moth makes its appearance as early as April, and the few worms that result from the first eggs are apt to be overlooked by the beginner. But it should be remembered that one farmer worm destroyed in May is equivalent to the destruction of 200 worms in July or August. It is the second brood that does the work of destruction, and the fight should be made on the first brood. The old method of poisoning the moth has probably not been improved on, it consists in planting out early a few dozen plants of the jimson weed, and when the flowers commence to open the insect to each of a few drops of a sweetened solution of carbolic acid. The moths are fond of the flowers, and the poison will prove the least feast. Lamps are sometimes disposed over the tobacco field suspended over vessels of sirup or kerosene to catch the moths.

The grasshoppers and cutworms that infest the young tobacco plants may be effectually destroyed by dusting the young plants with paris green mixed with cheap flour in the proportion of a pound of the former to 25 pounds of the latter or spraying them with a solution of a pound of paris green in about 100 gallons of water.

FOWLS FOR THE TABLE. An English authority says: Of all table fowls the well bred Dorking still stands pre-eminent. The reason for this are: First, it is a large sized bird, and its meat is tender, savory and juicy, and at the same time sufficiently firm in texture. Second, the breast is very broad, deep and projecting. This is the most valuable part of the fowl, and the Dorking enables one to extract wide slices from it. The shoulders are also quite full, which is another good point in its favor. Third, the body is a long parallelogram, thus making it of comparison to other fowls like that of the Saucierhen cattle. The Hogman is the nearest approach to the Dorking of all other breeds, both in size, good shape and qualities of meat.

The game fowl is first quality, but its meat is of different flavor from the above, resembling that of the pheasant, and for this reason many prefer it. The size varies from large medium to small, and it does not carry so much meat on its breast in proportion to its size as the Dorking or Houdan. This is deep, but more rounded and less projecting. Some other breeds of fowls are well shaped and moderately full in the breast. Among these I found the Domestic superior. Most of the eastern fowls are deficient in a good breast, give the Lamshean, which is said to be pretty good in this point. The other, except the Brahma, now and then run too much to rump, where they are extra legs. As the neck here is not equal to that on the breast and is rather coarse, they do not excel as table fowls. But the chickens grow large rapidly.

IRRIGATION FOR STRAWBERRIES. El. Stewart of Virginia writes to Country Gentleman concerning his experience in the irrigation of strawberries and says the tiles are laid 12 feet apart and not so deep as for draining. The large size of the berries and the average yield of a number of hills of three plants each set three feet apart each way was seven quarts of selected berries. With too high a surface the water will be forced to the surface. We have seen strawberries doubled in size by free irrigation and have no doubt of the success of the above mentioned experiments.

Ulcerated Udder.—A Bad Case Cured. Newmarket (Vic.), 25th Nov. I have used Mr. Cox's Solignum for a cow's ulcerated udder (or by mistake a calf's) and in a week or two it was cured all right. I also used it on a calf's udder for two years; it cured the calf's udder as well as ever. Mrs. J. J. JONES.

IMITATION IS THE SINCEST FLATTERY.

Why? Because they have the best reputation and are most in demand by the public to trade on their fame and respect. It is really wonderful that the people are so stupid as to see the difference between the original and the imitation. The original is the only one that is guaranteed to be the best. The imitation is only a cheap copy and will not stand the test of time. The original is the only one that is worth the money. The imitation is only a waste of money.
