MIDDLE CREEK.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.) A friendly football match was played in Mr. D. McDonald's paddock on Wednesday evening at Middle Creek.

Mr. D. McDonald's paddock on Wednesday evening at Middle Creek. Ararat, winning the toss, started quickly scored two goals, after which Middle Creek settled down to work. But from the first it could be seen that Ararat had by far the stronger team, and the game ended in their favor by 2 goals to 1.

NOTICE.

We have resolved to reduce the subscription to "THE RIPONSHIRE ADVOCATE" (with which is published a 14-column supplement containing well-selected reading matter) to 3s per quarter, and trust that this concession will be largely taken advantage of.

The Advertising Rates have also been considerably reduced, and advertisers will find it to their benefit to avail themselves of the columns of "The Riponshire Advocate," which is the only newspaper that is printed and published within the boundaries of the Shire. As the advocate of the interests and welfare of this district, it has a claim for a considerable amount of support, and has a greater scope for extended usefulness than any other journal or magazine within a given radius of Beaufort.

A country paper kindly supplies this beautiful simile. "You might as well try to shampoo an elephant with a tumblerful of soapuds as attempt to do business and ignore advertising."

A man may as well sit down in a meadow and expect a cow to come and be milked, as to sit down in his store and expect to get trade without advertising. An occasional customer may stray in, inquire for something, and buy it, but most people go where they have been informed that the goods they want are to be found. Furthermore, a considerable proportion of business made by advertising. An advertisement often suggests to a reader his want of an article, and he goes and buys when he would not have realised his need if he had not been put in mind of it.

The greatest aid you can give your newspaper is your job printing; if you do not feel able to run an advertisement, surely you can afford to give the newspaper your cards, doggers, bill-headers, letter-heads, envelopes, and all business printing, to execute. The newspaper man needs it, and it helps him to pay his printers for setting up the thousand and one free notices he gives you and your town; but don't give it to the printer or job printing office that can give you no such return, and is spending neither time, money, nor brains in helping you to build up your town. The time may come when a newspaper can live simply upon the revenue derived from advertising, and subscriptions, but no ordinary newspaper in any ordinary town can exist without the auxiliary support derived from job printing. Therefore, if you want a good newspaper—one that can still further help you and your town—give it your job printing.

Of you dry to do business without advertising, you will find yourself already like a boy trying to slide a hill down without snow. Besides there is less difference: you you don't get some show you get make 'em; but you can sometimes shrewdly always make off advertising some right away quick off, all day your rump, mit some moneys, — Joseph.

To our Readers and Patrons.

THE PROSPERITY OF A DISTRICT depends chiefly upon the support and encouragement that is given by the population to local enterprise and industry. Every venture is to more or less extent speculative; but each, whilst aiming at the success of the promoter, must offer certain returns to those whose support is necessary to achieve certain advantageous results on both sides.

BABCOCK

SOME BOSS HOGS.
Two Favorites, an Iowa Poland-China and a New York Cheshire.

CHESHIRE SOW.

The first illustration is copied from The Rural New Yorker. It shows a Cheshire sow from a well known New York herd. A Rural correspondent visited the owner, Mr. Coe, and interviewed him. The correspondent says he has yet to see a man who owned a full blood Cheshire who had anything but praise for the breed. Some changes have been made in these popular white hogs since 1870, Mr. Coe says. The nose is shorter than it used to be, and the ears are thin and erect. The Cheshire is the longest hog on record. A young boar in Mr. Coe's possession that weighed 180 pounds measured 4 feet from behind his ears to the back end of his body.

POLAND-CHINA BOAR.

If there are as many as even two breeds of hogs superior to the rest, we shall find it out in this hog raising World's fair year. But the Poland-China will certainly be among the favorites. This breed was developed originally largely by the shrewd and kindly Shaker brethren at Union Village, Warren county, O. Their favorite breed of porkers bids fair to survive the gentle Shaker sect itself.

Cleveland Bay in the South.
The Cleveland draft breeds of horses, such as the Clydesdale and Percheron, are too heavy, awkward and sluggish to suit the tastes and uses of our southern people and will never become popular here. We have long cherished the idea that the Cleveland Bay would suit our southern purposes better and could be bred with far better profit, being stylish, heavy, active, hardy. This breed is larger, stronger, more active, spirited, and has more lasting endurance than the majority of mules and horses that are deemed large enough and powerful enough to perform the heaviest draft work on southern farms that horses and mules are used for in this country. The infusion of thoroughbred blood in the Cleveland Bay gives additional value beyond mere size—it gives him speed, and it gives him good action, insures a degree of endurance for his size that is not possessed by the distinctive heavy draft breeds or the great majority of trotters.

The Cleveland Bay is but a cross between the thoroughbred and the heavy draft. In the days of stage coaches in England it became in time apparent that the heavy cart horse of Great Britain was too slow and cumbersome for coaching purposes. An animal was desired that would give not only good size but better speed, action and endurance; hence it was deemed wise to cross the thoroughbred on the heavy cart horse. This gave a horse that suited the special purpose well and in an animal of far superior style. This was, in fact, the origin of the Cleveland Bay.

We make war on no breed. All have their special uses. There is no "general purpose" horse as there is no "general purpose" cow. But the Cleveland Bay in our humble opinion comes as near filling the "general purpose" bill as any breed we have any knowledge of. We have no axe to grind in the matter, as we are not personally interested in any manner in the ownership or profits of any Cleveland Bay stock. We champion the cause of no particular breed for the special purpose of creating a prejudice in favor of one breed or against another. The field is large enough for all breeds, and all breeds have their special uses, and are distinguished by special merits. No one breed can embody all the virtues of the many useful breeds, and each man must choose for himself what would seem to suit his tastes, his special uses, his special climate and pastures and his special markets—which would seem best adapted to all these in combination.

The Cleveland Bay is very little known throughout the south, but few ever having been bred here; hence it is well enough to direct the special attention of our southern stockmen and farmers to the merits of this breed in the hope that enterprising and professional breeders among us may be induced to give the Cleveland Bay a fair and impartial trial.

—Edw. in Montgomery in St. Louis Journal of Agriculture.

Whenever any farm animals are so low in price that most people are selling off that particular class of stock long on to you. They are bound to be high before long. So it is with hogs.

The Blop is the source from which our systems are built up, and from which we derive our mental as well as our physical capabilities. If the blood is diseased, the body is diseased. Sufferers from Scrophulous, Scurvy, Eczema, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseases, Pimples, and Sores of all kinds are solicited to give Clarke's World-Famous Blood Mixture a trial to test its value. Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it. Sold everywhere at 25¢ per bottle. Beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

THE ADVOCATE

AN AFTERNOON WITH THE COWS.

If anything can be determined positively as to which is the best dairy cow, I thought to be this summer at the World's fair grounds. Such a thoroughgoing and extended trial was never before made in the records of cheese and butter history. Three breeds of cows—Jersey, Guernsey and Shorthorn—are each claimed by their advocates to be the best dairy breed. The associations of breeders of these respective varieties selected 75 of the best specimens of their cows from all over the country and entered them for this six months' test. Dr. S. M. Babcock of Babcock milk test fame is one of the commissioners to watch the cows night and day and see that all is done fairly. The commissioners witness the weighing out of rations for 75 cows three times a day, beginning at 6 o'clock in the morning. They must so witness the weighing of every pound of milk, the making of every pound of cheese and butter.

The cows entered were those calving at nearly the same time on the exposition grounds. The contention will be as to which breed of cows yields the most butter and cheese at the least expense of feed.

My afternoon with the World's fair cows was one of the most interesting of my visits at the exposition. They were in the morning. First I visited the Jerseys. The enthusiastic superintendent, Professor Caldwell of the Pennsylvania Agricultural college, kindly escorted me through the Guernsey stables. Here I saw some of Vice President Morton's cows from the famous Ellerslie herd that I visited last fall. The Guernsey people make this distinctive claim for the animal that they believe to be the coming cow—that she will make the most butter at the least expense of food. She is also larger than the Jersey, therefore of value for beef, they say.

They talk so eloquently you are almost disposed to favor them you visit a Guernsey cow. But meanwhile you pass to the Jersey stables, under the superintendence of that shrewd Yankee-Canadian, Mr. Valancey E. Fuller. He is best known in connection with the great St. Lambert cow family. Mr. Fuller whips out his paper and pencil and proves to you in three seconds that the greatest amount of net butter profit to a given amount of feed doesn't mean at all the greatest average per cent of butter profit that you can get out of a cow. Then you are all muddled in your mind and wonder, which of these honest, good, looking gentlemen—the Guernsey man or the Jersey man—is fooling you. Among the Jersey cows undergoing the test is a black and white one that you would stake your head is Holstein-Friesian. She is large and of the general form of the Holsteins. But she is the pure bred, registered Jersey Ida's Marigold, and one of the best cows in the test.

Mr. Fuller does not believe in much cheese for Jerseys, especially fresh cows. He says a fresh cow is generally in a more or less feverish condition for the first week or so and that cornmeal aggravates this condition. His favorite food in the Jersey region is what is called hominy feed—that is to say, the refuse left over after making hominy at the factory. The best corn for both hominy and the cows is the southern hominy corn.

Among the big Shorthorns are one or two that have given the enormous amount of 60 pounds of milk a day. I learned incidentally when visiting the World's fair consume in weighing and measuring milk it is estimated that about two pounds of milk make a quart. Some of the Shorthorns weigh 1,400 pounds. They seem tremendous after looking at the slim little Jerseys. The animals are so carefully tended that they are not allowed to be disturbed even to the extent of making them rise when they are lying down. Some of the Shorthorns, however, had precious little of that kind of care before they were brought to the fair. One or two looked like real workhorses, with their ribs standing out indignantly. They were not shuddering well, but looked rugged and woolly and faded. The reason of it was that they had been wintered badly—not comfortably housed or fed enough through the cold weather. They had been crowded with food since their arrival, but it took a long time to bring them into condition. The contrast between these ferocious beasts and the sleek, pretty creatures around them was an object lesson not to be forgotten. The man who will winter a cow in that way ought to be half starved and made to wear his spring overcoat for a couple of winters in blizzard weather. Then he would find out how it goes himself.

The cheesemaking test was just finishing when I visited the cows. The modern theory of several gentlemen at the agricultural experiment stations and elsewhere is that milk which is richest in butter fat is also richest in all the other solids; hence the milk that makes the most butter will also yield the most cheese, if the theory be true. The result of the cheesemaking test promised to sustain this doctrine. In an inclosed case with a window in it to look through from the Jersey side, the next largest from the Guernsey milk, the smallest from the Shorthorn, although cows of the latter breed give great quantities of milk. To make one pound of cheese requires of Jersey milk 8.78 pounds, of Guernsey milk 8.21 pounds, of Shorthorn milk 10.63 pounds.

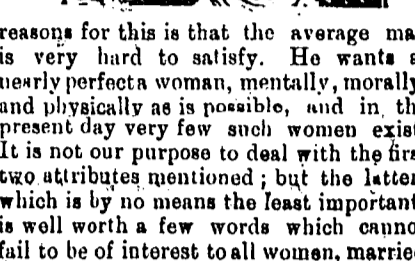

The final result of all, however, will be known when it comes to be summed up and averaged how much food the three breeds will consume in proportion to the yield of butter and cheese. That, of course, cannot be calculated for some time till toward the end of the exposition.

ELIZA ARCHARD CORNER.

WOMAN'S POWER.

"THE POWER BEHIND THE THRONE."

The power of a beautiful woman over men is a thing often commented on, but the woman must be beautiful. A woman is only beautiful and powerful under certain conditions. The most stringent of which is good health, a thing, unfortunately, which is very hard to find among women of to-day. Marriage is on the decline, we are told, and one of the chief reasons for this is that the average man is very hard to satisfy. He wants a nearly perfect woman, mentally, morally, and physically as is possible, and in the present day very few such women exist. It is not our purpose to deal with the first two attributes mentioned; but the latter, which is by no means the least important, is well worth a few words which cannot fail to be of interest to all women, married or single.

The woman of to-day does not give herself enough attention in the proper direction; a little time taken from the study of the latest fashions and complexion powders and given to the pursuit of medical works with regard to the female organs would do her a wonderful lot of good. Woman is so constituted that it takes but very little to disarrange the delicate organs of her composition. In consequence she suffers more or less pain, at least for a few days periodically, and in some cases all the time. Her sufferings make her morose and bad tempered, and thoroughly unfit to be a companion to her husband or mother to her children. An amiable wife is a constant source of enjoyment to her husband, helping him to bear the worry and cares of business, and cheering his waning spirits. A little care and attention will prevent or at least minimize greatly the sufferings many women go through. Great caution should be used as to the medicines taken; as many of the vile concoctions manufactured now as a cure for all female ailments are more harmful than otherwise, acting in a most violent manner. One of the great beauties of Bill Beans is the gentle manner in which they act, and no woman need fear taking them, as they perform the work in a most soothing way, and cause no inconvenience at all. They will greatly benefit all who suffer from female ailments, and often prove efficient in effecting a cure where all other remedies have probably failed.

All liver, stomach, and female ailments are cured by this wonderful remedy, and such complaints as biliousness, sick and nervous headache, indigestion, constipation, piles, female weakness, pale-faced girls, irregularities, bad breath, pimples, blotches, dizziness, all liver and kidney troubles, dyspepsia, heart palpitation, pain in back and side, fullness after eating, lack of physical tone, heart-burn, and that tired feeling, have been cured by them. The price placed there within reach of everyone. Price, 1s. 4d. per box. The Victorian agents are Roche, Tompsett, and Co., Flinders-street, Melbourne.

Remember when you want Bill Beans, be sure you get them, and not some inferior substitute the chemist makes more on.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH OF JULY.

FRUIT GARDEN.
Finish pruning as early as possible in the month, or before the sap begins to rise. Grafting may be commenced by the end of the month and should be finished before the sap rises. See that young, recently planted trees are properly supported. Dress apple trees infested by the cotton fly with the kerosene solution. Fork over the ground occupied by strawberries, and cover it with littery manure.

KITCHEN GARDEN.
Sow crops of turnips, carrots and other roots, onions, leeks, spinach and salad plants; though should the weather be so fine as to induce rapid growth, some of these might not be so well to sow in the open, but in a hotbed, and tomatoes, egg-plants, capsicums and any others that are rather tender may be sown on a hotbed. Also marrows, melons and other tender subjects. Another lot of early potatoes may be planted by the end of the month. Cabbage, cauliflower and lettuce may be transplanted. Spinach and similar crops must be thinned in due time.

The following seeds may be sown in July:—Asparagus, broad beans, brocoli, cabbage, cress, carrots, leek, lettuce, mustard, onion, parsnip, peas, potatoes, radish, rhubarb.

FLOWER GARDEN.
Seeds of petunias, verbenas and others, similar in nature, may be sown in heat, likewise the more tender annuals. The hardier annuals may be sown out-of-doors towards the end of the month. The pruning of trees and shrubs, and the planting of hardy perennials, roses, and other shrubs should be finished by the end of the month. Chrysanthemums may be propagated by means of either cuttings or suckers. Seeds of capans should be soaked in warm water until they burst, then placed in pots. Tree dahlias should be brought forward in heat. Buffalo grass may be planted. Old lawns may be replenished with old manure, bonedust, or superphosphates. Mixed grass seeds may be sown on spots that have become bare. Gladioli and autumn-flowering bulbs should be planted. Lycopodium may be propagated by layering.

PLANT HOUSES.

Start plants of suchias, abominas, glomias, and others similar in character, in heat. Shift young and older plants of all kinds as soon as they are in growth and their roots have penetrated the soil of their pots, including stove ferns and orchards. Cut down winter-flowering plants that are past their best. Seeds of begonia, gloxinia and other stove plants should be sown early in the month. Fumigate plant houses regularly, especially frames in which are such as cinerarias. Categorias should now be in their blooming pots. Tree carnations that have been in a warm place may now be propagated by means of slips.

APPLICATIONS FOR MINING LEASES.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS.
Attention is called to the following regulations under part 2 of "The Mines Act 1890," twenty-third section:—
4. Every applicant for a lease to mine on private property shall apply for a lease in manner prescribed by these regulations; but during the seven days immediately preceding the day on which he leaves his application with the warden, he must do the following things:—

- (A.) Insert in a newspaper published in the district where the land is situated, or if there be no such newspaper, then in one published nearest the district, an advertisement or notice on the form in the appendix A thereto.
- (B.) Post similar notices at the office of the warden, and at the post office or police court, whichever is the nearest to the land.
- (C.) Deposit with the clerk of the warden the sum of £5 sterling, &c.

Objections will be raised to the granting of all leases where the above requirements have not been fully complied with.

HINTS TO FRIENDLY READERS.

You want to see the local paper a successful institution.

Talk about it wherever you go.

Mention it to the tradespeople with whom you do business.

If they don't advertise in it, try and induce them to do so.

If you are induced to buy anything from what you have read in its advertising columns mention the fact to the tradesman.

Don't lend your paper to any person who can afford to become a subscriber, but is too mean to support local enterprise.

THEY CHEEP ON US UNAWARES.

Thousands of the good people who read these articles have grey hairs in plenty. Are you one of them? If so, do you remember when you saw the first grey hair—on your head, or in your beard, or on your cheek? It was natural enough; time is a bleacher as well as a dyer; yet the majority were surprised, perhaps a shock to you. You did not see that grey hair coming. All at once—it was there.

Now behold how many worse things are like that, and how a valuable lesson. "Up to March, 1881," says Mr. John Murray, "I never had any illness in my life. Then, suddenly, as it were, I felt 'something was wrong' with me. First, I had a few bitter tastes in the mouth, and after eating I had a pain at the chest and a horrible sensation at the stomach, as if a hot iron were burning me. I vomited all the food I partook of, and sometimes I threw up blood. Nothing I ate would remain on my stomach more than a few minutes, and I was obliged to take my food. Even milk and soft breads did me no good. "Being unable to leave the house I sent for a doctor, who said that my stomach was altered. He gave me medicines of different kinds, and recommended applications; but nothing gave me any relief, and I grew weaker and worse.

"In spite of the soothing drops I took I got no sleep night or day. The pain was so severe I could not lie down in bed.

"After four months' suffering I was removed to the Graunov Hospital, where I had the best medical treatment and diet. I was fed solely on liquid food, and my stomach was inflated with air that I threw up most often. After five weeks in the hospital I was worse than ever and returned home. There I lingered on in great pain and weakness month after month. I was now near death, and so weak I could not draw out food after the other.

"I had given up all hopes of recovery, and was gradually sinking away, expecting no relief except in death, which I thought could not be far away.

"This was in February, 1882. It was then I first heard of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and made up my mind to see whether there could possibly be any virtue in it for so desperate a case as mine.

"Not being able to procure the Syrup in our neighborhood, my son wrote to London for a supply. It may seem hard to believe, but it is true; that the first few doses gave me 'wonderful relief.' Continuing to take it I was soon able to get up, and my food, and my strength, began to come back. After a little all pain left me, and I have never felt anything since; but can follow the heavy work of any kind of work.

"I am now as healthy as ever, and my Mother Seigel's Syrup known to me, for without it I should now be in my grave. I tell everybody that it saved my life. You are welcome to publish this to all the world. Signed, Mrs. Murray, Craymore Cottage, Abernethy (near Balmoral), Grantown, August 28th, 1893.

Mr. Murray is a man of high character, and well known in the district. He is in the employ of D. Jardine, Esq., of Rainier Lodge. His disease was acute inflammatory dyspepsia, for an attack of which (unconsciously to himself) his system had long been preparing. What seems a sudden illness," says an eminent physician, "is but the climax of a series of changes which have been going on for a considerable time, the slight warning symptoms not having been noticed by the patient."

So grey hairs come. So disease comes. So death comes. Watch for the early signs, and stop Mother Seigel's Syrup close at hand.

The Victorian Highland regiment proposes to be an equality in a very short time. The Minister of Defence was on Monday seen by Sir John Murray, M.L.A., who informed him that 170 Scotchmen had so far offered themselves for enlistment. Their average height is 5ft. 9in. Mr. O'Connell replied that he would instruct the military commandant to take steps to constitute the regiment without delay.

THE STANDARD OF QUALITY

GENERAL PRINTING AT LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES.
"The Advocate" Office, Beaufort.

NEWSPAPER LAW. YOU CAN AFFORD IT.
Very few are so poor now-a-days to take their country paper, and it is false economy to try and get along without it. Hardly a week passes but some thing or other does not appear in its columns that will be of direct benefit to the subscriber, and by the end of the year he had made or saved as won twenty times the subscription paid for it. The city papers don't take the place of the country ones, though some people appear to think they do. The city papers are all right in their way, but they do not give you that in which you are most interested—your country news. You cannot learn from them when and where your country meetings are to be held, who are dying or who are marrying, who are moving in or who are moving out, court proceedings, who wants to buy or sell farm or land produce, in fact hundreds of things of which it might be of particular importance for you to know. If you can afford to take only one paper, by all means take the one that is published in the country or district where you live. It will cost you less, and thereby you will be assisting yourself and keeping the money in the district.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, in writing, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until areas are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the post-office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they settle their bills, and ordered the newspapers to be discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, the subscribers are responsible.

5. The court have decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the post-office or leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud."

6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

A PRIZE POEM.

RE MINING LEASES.

A syndicate of Western (American) editors offered 100,000 lbs. for the best appeal to newspaper subscribers to pay up their subscriptions. The prize was given to the editor of the "Rocky Mountain Celt." This is the poem:—
Lives of poor men oft remind us
Honest men don't stand a chance;
The more we work there grow behind us
Bigger patches on our pants.
On our pants, once new and glossy,
Now are stripes of different hue;
All because subscribers linger,
And won't pay us what is due.
Then let us all be up and doing,
Send your coin, however small,
Or when the cold of winter strikes us
We shall have no pants at all.

THE Riponshire Advocate

SATURDAY, JULY 16, 1898.

The Fleury Cricket Lodge (Free Masons) held a musical evening in the Societies' Hall on Wednesday.

Persons interested in the holding of an Irish Stew are invited to attend a meeting at the Mechanics' Institute, Beaufort, on Thursday evening.

It is announced that there is to be a contest in archery at the forthcoming Shire elections. In the North riding, Jas. Cuthbertson, of Raglan, is mentioned as an opponent to Cr. T. Beggs; in the East riding, Mr Roddis, of Snake Valley, is reported as a candidate against Cr. D. Cameron; and Mr Hannah, of Snake Valley Hill, is also spoken of as likely to contend for the West riding seat against Cr. Geo. Lewis.

Messrs H. Oushing and F. Beaga, J's., P., presided over the Beaufort Police Court on Monday. Two debt cases were listed, but as neither of the summonses had been served, they were extended for a fortnight.

We have been asked to publish the following additional press in connection with the Grant-Slater wedding.—Mr and Mrs J. Madden, butler, dish; Mr and Mrs E. Stodart, cheque; Mrs Dennison, pillow slams and pickle jar.

Master Willie Cochran, son of Mr J. B. Cochran, news agent, of Beaufort, met with a painful accident on Thursday. He had finished delivering papers, and on his way home, when passing through the railway gates on the Raglan road, a roller drove up the wheel of his bicycle. In trying to break his fall, Cochran put out his hand, and had his wrist fractured. Dr. Lethbridge attended to the sufferer.

The team to represent the D Company Rangers in the annual match between members of the A, C, and D Companies for the Battalion Shield will be selected from the following:—Liam, Dunlop, and Terry; Sergeant-Major Britton, Q. M. Sergeant, Marsh, Sergeant, Cannon; Lance-Sergeant, Corporal Wilson and Johnson, Lance-Corporal Myers, and Privates Kilberg, A. McDonald, George, Carroll, Taylor, and Mitchell. The match will be held on Wednesday, 27th inst., at Murtoa.

The St. John's Mutual Improvement Society met on Monday evening, 4th inst., in full numbers. The essay being presented, Dr. White proposed to spend the evening on a "Question Box." This was arranged for the evening of the 11th inst., and proved a very interesting and profitable way of filling up a spare evening.

Another rider had a blow out on the road. Which draught was it, I wonder, that made the peas a scorcher coming home—the borrowed farm horse, or the contents of the bottle in the pocket of that ill-fated fellow? Indeed the John Gilpin looked more like a Scotchman in his riding for dear life, with his bare legs panelling against the horse's ribs. I laughed till I cried. I did.

A very long time ago he was quite a model of a man, and on a Sunday school, was on the church committee, and handed round the collection plate. But he must have fallen sadly away from grace, for when he essayed to tell the parson a funny story, he was rather taken down a peg or two to hear, "Now, nothing naughty, Robert?" That parson must have known a thing or two. Of course this didn't happen in Beaufort. Oh, dear no!—many a mile away.

I saw a man suffering a recovery in the street the other day—not a strange thing with nine pubs about. But he was jolly dry for all that. And he had no beans left. He tried very hard to get a tanner out of me, but it wasn't pay-day, and I was pretty stony, too. However, I'd been to the store, and had a bottle of stout, and I was in a sort of a better mood for mutton chops. Well, took compassion on him, and says, "Here, old fellow, take a swill at this and cool your hot copper."

ADVISE TO MOTHERS!—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and buy of this SWEETENED SYRUP. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep, it soothes the child, it relieves the gums, it allays all pain, it regulates the bowels, and is a diaphoretic, whether arising from teething or colds. Mrs. Winslow's Sweetening Syrup is sold by Medicine Dealers every where.

ARARAT MINING BOARD. A special meeting of the above board was held at the Town Hall, Stavon, on Monday, there being present—Mr Brown (chairman), and Messrs. Williamson, Jones, Magee, Bath, Currick, Hodgetts, Humphreys, McKay, and Ahrends.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. From Mines Department, acknowledging correspondence from the law suggesting legislation in regard to the liability of shareholders in co-operative gold mining companies, and replying that the resolution would receive consideration.—Received.

From Acting-Secretary for Mines, in reply to a request made by the board that the Crown Solicitor's opinion be obtained in regard to two questions: residence areas, and stating in answer to those questions that (1) there is nothing in the 123rd section of the Land Act authorizing the taking up of land for residence areas on grazing areas, and (2) residence areas can, of course, be taken up on Crown lands, provided that such land is not excepted from occupation for residence purposes under miners' rights.—Received.

From R. F. Touthers, M.L.A., acknowledging receipt of the board's letter respecting the granting of licenses on auriferous lands being under the control of the Mines department, promising his attention.—Received.

From Maryborough Mining Board, with reference to a request that the board should co-operate to have the powers exercised by the Lands department in regard to the granting of licenses for all auriferous lands transferred solely to, and to be under the control of, the Mines' department, stating the board declined to take any action in the matter.—Received.

From Ballarat board, re same matter, promising co-operation, and stating in regard to the Ararat board's letter conferring plenary powers on the Minister for Mines under division 4 of Land Act 1890 in lieu of the Government-in-Council that the matter would be considered at a future meeting.—Received.

From Bendigo board, acknowledging letter re mining applications for assistance from the Mines' Development Act for report from mining board, and stating that the board were of opinion that advisory action without any control of the allocation of the necessary funds from the Mines' Development Act would be nugatory, vexatious, and disappointing to all concerned.—Received.

ORDINARY BUSINESS. Mr Magee moved and Mr Hodgetts seconded that the clerk be instructed to write to and solicit the assistance of the other mining boards, and of the goldfields members of Parliament, to the motion passed by the board re Government paying the compensation for a miner entering on private land to prospect for gold.—Carried.

It was decided, on the motion of Messrs Jones and Williamson, that copies of the correspondence referring to the liability of shareholders in co-operative gold mining companies, with the board's resolution thereon, be forwarded to the different mining boards, and also asking their co-operation in the matter. Mr Williamson moved that the Minister respectfully ask the hon. the Minister of Mines, in view of the early introduction into the House by the Minister of Lands of a new Land Bill, to take early steps to inform the various mining boards of the colony when the same is submitted for consideration, so that the boards may be in a position to advise the Minister on such portions as may affect the mining industry, it being of paramount importance that the rights and privileges of the mining interest should be fully protected.

The great road race is over and everyone appears satisfied, and barring one pretty bad accident, was a huge success. The promoters are to be congratulated on the result of their efforts, and it is hoped they will repeat it at some future date. To commemorate the great event I send you the following gold-leaf poem, which is jewelled in every line.

THE CYCLE ROAD RACE. 'T was a fair, but windy day, To start for such a day, And the crowd was so large, Turned up in all their gay.

When called by name they went, And for the signal word, And they knew that their hands would simply tempting fold.

And now they on their feet start, With faces set and bent, And the crowd was so large, Turned up in all their gay.

On still a along they sped, And the crowd was so large, Turned up in all their gay, And the crowd was so large, Turned up in all their gay.

And it came to pass that a fall of the hill led to the top of the hill, and the crowd was so large, Turned up in all their gay.

This following got wise in the hurry and bustle of last week, or, as the editor would say, crowded out for want of space.

THE SPEAKERS WHO WOULD SPEAK. And made the voice heard, And made the voice heard, And made the voice heard, And made the voice heard.

A friend of mine at Eran-bore owned a couple of horses—fine horses—so fat inside that their ribs got pushed out; full of good points—you could hang your hat on any of them. He thought a dose of medicine would do them good, so on Saturday he travels into Beaufort, and after a lot of thinking, he bought two packets of suna leaves. He took them home, crushed them up fine, and mixed them with bran—one packet to each horse. On Sunday morning he buried two good horses, and now uses bullocks.

THE DAIRY

BEST COW FOR THE MILK DAIRYMAN.

Opinion of a Man Who Makes the Milk Business Pay. "The milk business pays us very well. We ship to Philadelphia, the Farmers' Creamery company handling our milk. That company is doing good work, and I think will sooner or later drive out all the middlemen."

"What cows do you keep?" "Holsteins and Jerseys—mostly thoroughbreds, and some grades. We keep 30 cows in milk all the time." "Which is the better of the two breeds?"

"It is hard to say. The Holsteins will give more milk; of course they eat more, too, but I think the Holsteins will give a little more milk for an equal amount of food. Quality? There are some Holsteins that give milk as rich as any Jerseys, but others give much poorer milk, and the average is on the whole not so rich as Jersey milk. The color of Holstein milk is too light, and our chief reason for keeping Jerseys is to give our milk a higher color."

"How do you plan to color all the milk properly?" "We put two milkers on Holsteins to one on Jerseys, and all pour their milk together into the tank that supplies the cooler. Our milk is aerated and cooled as soon as drawn from the cow, and when in this way it is strained directly into the tank all together it is well mixed and colored."

"Have you tried Guernseys?" "We are just beginning with them. I have bought a good bull and am now after some good cows. Across of Guernsey bull and Holstein cows ought to give about the right milkman's cow, with a large flow of well colored milk."

"What do you feed?" "I do not raise anything but clover for hay, with corn, oats and wheat for grain. Wheat is sold. We grind equal parts of ear corn and oats for cow feed and add a little flaked meal. Cotyledon meal has not paid us. Interview in Rural New Yorker."

Good Butter in Warm Weather.

The question often arises how cream should be handled during warm weather to get the best results with the butter. It must be remembered that correct flavor costs 50 cents, and here is where the most important work is done. Every day's cream must be made by special study. The observant butter maker will notice three very marked stages in the ripening of cream—viz. a flat acid, a sharp acid and a sour acid. The first acid has a flat, insipid taste, with very little odor. At this stage the cream should be thoroughly stirred, setting the air through it as much as possible. With the gradual thickening of the cream there approaches the borderland of the second stage of acid.

Now the skill of the butter maker is put to the test. He must so develop the acid and regulate the temperature that his ideal churning point is reached and have the cream in the churn and under motion within 15 minutes after he enters the creamery in the morning. No exact rule can be laid down for every man to work by. The danger now lies in overripening, not in too little. What is wanted is a rich, heavy, smooth cream, but not to the third stage where it has a disagreeable taste, forming in small chunks and showing whey around the sides.

The market reports say a great deal of butter lacks body and shows hot water. Remember that the body of butter is in the hands of the butter maker. Cool cream, cool churns, cold water, well cooled worker and tubs, haste in washing and handling, exposing the butter to the warm air as little as possible, then a cold cooler, the dairyman who has plenty of ice and water and a good room in which to keep the milk and who knows how to use the ice properly is the man who is going to succeed in the business of the butter market. By careful study any dairyman can acquire this knowledge, and then the exercise of it does the business.—Exchange.

Dairy and Creamery.

Cows and heifers naturally and normally come in heat every third week. If a cow has the beef temperament instead of the milk temperament, the more you feed her the fatter she will get and often actually shrink in milk as she lays on beef.

Whenever else you ship on your trip to the World's fair do not omit to visit the Jersey cows. They are finer quarters than some cow milkers have for themselves. During the cold weather the barns were heated by stoves. The walls are built of tightly cleft boards, and the buildings are lighted by electricity. Nothing is too rich for the Jersey and Guernsey blood.

Let the trade in bottled cream increase. In summer when butter is down and ice cream is in demand a profitable use for the surplus cream can be found here. Bottled cream is healthy and delicious. Creamery men should find out how to sterilize it; then it will be a grand go. Figs and chickens will use up all the skim milk.

The oleomargarine monster is still rearing his greasy head in various parts of the Union. Healmless over newspaper correspondents at Washington and entices them into publishing as news a great puff of the hog butter, telling all his readers how clean it is, how wholesome and how much better than average dairy butter. This trick was played during the past winter.

Here is the Boyden milk condenser's seventh commendation: "Thou shalt thy neighbor as thyself and keep thy Sunday's walk at home, and that the sweet butter for thy family, and that the milk factory and all who labor therein may rest and the employees may work according to the dictates of our glorious every Sunday."

CHEAP SHEEP DIP.

Nothing Like the Kerosene Emulsion For Sheep, Cattle and Hogs.

I have already shown by experiments that kerosene emulsion is a cheap and effective remedy for the destruction of lice that infest cattle and hogs. During the past summer I was enabled to test kerosene emulsion as a sheep dip. It has been customary each year just after shearing to treat the sheep upon the farm where I experimented with one of the standard sheep dips sold from the market, so the sheep were very free from ticks. But as there can be no doubt as to the power of the emulsion to kill the ticks it was thought to be well worth while to determine whether or not it could be safely applied to sheep as well as to cattle and hogs for the destruction of parasites.

Forty large full blooded Shropshire sheep and 18 early lambs were treated. The applications were made June 23, at which time the wool upon the sheep was a half inch and the wool upon the lambs fully 1 1/2 inches in length. These conditions made the test a severe one, as the chances of removing the fleeces or otherwise injuring the sheep were far greater than if the treatment had been made at shearing time. The emulsion was also made strong, 8 per cent of the whole being kerosene. This is probably twice as strong as is necessary to kill ticks on sheep.

During the treatment a man stood in the dipping vat with the emulsion nearly waist deep to begin with, and he thoroughly drenched every sheep put into it. On account of the men being ready to dip the sheep before the emulsion was prepared, the latter was made rather too hurriedly, and it was noticed that a thin layer of free oil rose to the top of the emulsion before the first sheep was put in, which with a good emulsion would not have occurred. The old sheep were dipped first and the lambs afterward. The result was that three or four of the first sheep put in lost patches of wool from their backs and sides, amounting in all, as near as I could estimate, to one-third of the wool of one sheep. Aside from this no harm was done. The lambs with fleeces heavy enough to be sheared lost no wool whatever.

The man who stood in the vat to dip the sheep experienced no unpleasant results from having stood in the emulsion for an hour. The actual amount of the dip used in treating these 58 sheep and lambs was about 80 gallons, the cost of which was $1.11. This would be an average of a little less than 2 cents for each sheep. Had the sheep been treated at shearing time, much less material would have been used. A 5 per cent emulsion would undoubtedly be strong enough to destroy ticks or other parasites upon sheep. Such an emulsion, with kerosene at 16 cents a gallon and soap at 10 cents a pound, would cost 67 1/2 cents for 100 gallons. This would make the cost of the emulsion, when used as above, 1 1/2 cents a sheep.

This emulsion is effective in destroying all of the insects for which dipping is resorted to. The scrub parasite, ticks, lice and maggots all succumb to the destroying power of the kerosene. The dip is not a permanent one in the sense that it remains in the wool after dipping and prevents the lodgment of insects for all time to come, as is claimed for some of the commercial dips, but this is not necessary where dipping is done every year, as it is in all well regulated flocks.

The precautions to be observed in using the emulsion dip are to not make it too strong and to see that it is perfectly emulsified. If too much kerosene is used, it is likely to take off the wool, and the result will be the same if the emulsion is imperfect. An emulsion made at the rate of 3 gallons of kerosene, half a pound of soap and a gallon of water, churned together and added to 80 or 40 gallons of water after churning, will be strong enough to accomplish all that is desired.—Professor C. P. Gillette.

Live Stock Points.

Fly time is at hand. You add immensely to the horse's comfort by putting a fly net on him when he is on the road. A good way to keep the flies off a horse or any other animal is to wet a sponge in dilute carbolic acid and wash with it the parts where flies congregate.

Insect pests have as much fondness for Persian powder and the odor of carbolic acid as cotton is said to have for holy water. Breed sows for September pigs the last of May or first of June. The men who raise really fine cattle for market are not kicking about the prices they get.

The farmer who breeds scrub animals and then half starves them is dead sure there is no money in live stock raising. In the hot weather it is best to pasture your horses at night to protect them from the heat and flies. A fine horse is better off in a roomy box stall in a comparatively dark stable during the daytime in hot weather.

If you want cows to come in fresh in February, breed them in May. A light lined cluster upon a valuable horse in the stable will keep both flies and dust off him. Large nostrils in horse or man show good wind.

A lady correspondent of The Horseman strikes some vigorous blows at the increasing practice of making not only fraudulent pedigrees for horses, but also fraudulent racing records. She declares it is more difficult to get judges who will decide fairly in speed contests than in criminal courts, and she is at least half way right. She particularly objects to the so called races against time, to which only a few favored spectators are admitted and the horse owner's personal friends act as judges.

A pedigree to a horse is what a coat of arms is to a person, and there are plenty of people ready to manufacture both. Colonel Coburn says that if swine are to be bred up and kept up to the standard of robust health, they must be fed on a rational ration, and to find out what this rational ration is the most pressing present need among the hog raisers.

For the past quarter of a century there has been one continuous flow of letters bearing testimony to the truly wonderful cures effected by Clarke's World-Famous Blood Mixture, "the finest Blood Purifier that science and medical skill have brought to light." Sufferers from Scrofula, Scurvy, Eczema, Bad Legs, Skin and Blood Diseases, Pimples and Sores of any kind, are solicited to give it a trial to test its value. Sold everywhere at 25 cents per bottle. Beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

A WRETCHED EXISTENCE.

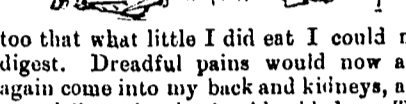

CHANGED TO A LIFE OF JOY AND VIGOROUS HEALTH.

TWELVE YEARS OF SUFFERING FROM INDIGESTION, HEADACHE, PAINS IN KIDNEYS, AND FEMALE WEAKNESS.

CURED BY BILE BEANS.

To a woman of a naturally energetic and ambitious disposition, it is a great misfortune to be in a continual state of ill-health for years at a time. Hamilton, Newcastle, however, has a lady in the person of Mrs J. Colman, of Beaumont-street, who has passed through this experience, and it is in gratitude to the remedy that ended her misery after over a dozen years of continual suffering that this article is written.

In describing her case, the lady in question, who I might be mentioned is 57 years old, says—My first symptoms were in the head. At times I would be seized with most excruciating pains at the base of the skull, followed by retching and periodical pains in the temple and back of the head. I became restless at night, and suffered from a total loss of appetite, only taking a cup of tea occasionally. I had several of the best doctors in Newcastle in attendance on me from time to time and tried many kinds of patent medicines; but I could get no permanent relief. It became a common thing for me to get out of bed and sit for an hour or two at a stretch. It seemed, too that what little I did eat I could not digest. Dreadful pains would now and again come into my back and kidneys, and especially under the shoulder-blades. The pain in the shoulder seemed to stab me like a knife. Then, too, I used to feel utterly helpless; to merely walk about the house was hard work for me, and I always felt sick. My eyes grew dull, nearly everything had a blurred look, and I really felt 'like a log of wood.' The least exertion prostrated me. I could not stand for ten minutes without getting restless and fatigued, my feet becoming numb as if pins and needles were being stuck in them. I would often exclaim to my daughter early in the morning, 'Oh, Emma, my head! You will have to stay at home to-day.' And after a day's washing I would be prostrated for several days. This sort of thing went on for over twelve years, as I have told you, and a short time back I decided to give Bile Beans a trial, though I must confess I had little hope of their doing me much good. Well, after a few doses, I noticed a change, and in a few days there was decided improvement; since then I have steadily improved, and to-day I can truthfully say I've not been in as good health for 20 years. The various ailments disappeared gradually. My brain got clearer, and I can now sleep well at night without ever feeling a headache or any pains. My appetite is splendid. I am always ready for my meals. My daughters are astonished sometimes at what I can eat."

"How long have you been taking Bile Beans?" queried the reporter. "It is now about eight weeks, I think."

"Do you attribute your cure solely to Bile Beans?" the reporter asked. "I do, absolutely," was the emphatic reply. "I have used no other remedies lately. Of the beneficial effect of the Beans I cannot speak too highly. They have done me a wonderful amount of good in every conceivable way; in fact, I am today quite a new woman. I have not the slightest objection to my name being publicly referred to in connection with this matter, because I realize that the facts should be known by those who have suffered as I have."

All liver, stomach, and female ailments are cured by this wonderful remedy, and such complaints as biliousness, sick and nervous headache, indigestion, constipation, piles, female weakness, pale-faced girls, irregularities, bad breath, pimples, blotches, dizziness, all liver and kidney troubles, dyspepsia, heart palpitation, pain in back and side, fullness after eating, lack of physical tone, heart-burn, and that tired feeling, have been cured by them, and the price places them within reach of everyone. Price, 1s 1/2 per box.

Victorian agents are Rooks, Tompitt, and Co., Rindlers-street, Melbourne. Remember when you want Bile Beans, be sure you get them, and not some inferior substitute the chemist makes more of.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH OF JULY.

FRUIT GARDEN.

Finish pruning as early as possible in the month, or before the sap begins to rise. Grafting may be commenced by the end of the month and should be finished before the sap rises. See that young, recently planted trees are properly supported. Dress apple trees infested by the cotton fly with the kerosene solution. Fork over the ground occupied by strawberries and cover it with littery manure.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

Sow crops of turnips, carrots and other roots, onions, leeks, spinach and salad plants; though should the weather be so fine as to induce rapid growth, some of these might run to seed and require to be re-sown. Cucumbers may be planted on a hotbed, sad tomatoes, egg-plants, capsicums and any others that are rather tender may be sown on it; also marrows, melons and other tender subjects. Another lot of early potatoes may be planted by the end of the month. Cabbage, cauliflower and lettuce may be transplanted. Spinach and similar crops must be thinned in due time.

THE FOLLOWING SEEDS MAY BE SOWN IN JULY:

Asparagus, broad beans, broccoli, cabbage, cress, carrots, leek, lettuce, mustard, onion, parsnip, peas, potatoes, radish rhubarb.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Seeds of prunias, verbenas and others similar in nature may be sown in heat, likewise the more tender annuals. The harder annuals may be sown out-of-doors towards the end of the month. The pruning of trees and shrubs, the planting of hardy perennials, roses, and other shrubs should be finished by the end of the month. Chrysanthemums may be propagated by means of either cuttings or suckers. Seeds of canna should be soaked in warm water until they burst, then placed in pots. Tree dahlias should be brought forward in heat. Buffalo grass may be planted. Old lawns may be replenished with old manure, bonedust, or superphosphates. Mixed grass seeds may be sown on spots that have become bare. Gladioli and autumn-flowering bulbs should be planted. Lapegerias may be propagated by layering.

PLANT HOUSES.

Start plants of eucliaris, achimenes, glounia, and others similar in character, in heat. Shift young and also older plants of all kinds as soon as they are in growth and their roots have penetrated the soil of their pots, including stove ferns and orchards. Cut down winter-flowering plants that are past their best. Seeds of begonia, glounia and other stove plants should be sown early in the month. Fumigate plant houses regularly, especially frames in which are such as cineraria. Callaeas should now be in their blooming pots. Tree carnations that have been in a warm place may now be propagated by means of slips.

APPLICATIONS FOR MINING LEASES.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS.

Attention is called to the following regulations under part 2 of 'The Mines Act 1890,' twenty-third schedule:—

4. Every applicant for a lease to mine on private property shall apply for a lease in manner prescribed by these regulations; but during the seven days immediately preceding the day on which he leaves his application with the warden, he must do the following things:—

(A). Insert in a newspaper published in the district where the land is situated, or if there be no such newspaper, then in one published nearest the district, an advertisement or notice on the form in the appendix A thereto.

(C). Deposit with the clerk of the warden the sum of £5 sterling, &c.

Objections will be raised to the granting of all leases where the above requirements have not been fully complied with.

HINTS TO FRIENDLY READERS.

You want to see the local paper a successful institution. Talk about it wherever you go. Mention it to the tradespeople with whom you do business. If they don't advertise in it, try and induce them to do so. If you are induced to buy anything from what you have read in its advertising columns mention the fact to the tradesman. Don't lend your paper to any person who can afford to become a subscriber, but is too mean to support local enterprise.

THEY CREEP ON US UNAWARES.

Thousands of the good people who read these articles have grey hairs in plenty. Are you one of them? If so, do you remember when you saw the first grey hair—on your head, or in your beard, as the case may have been? It was natural enough; time is a bleacher as well as a dyer; yet the discovery was a surprise, perhaps a shock to you. You didn't see that grey hair coming. Now behold how many worse things are like that, and learn a valuable lesson.

"Up to March, 1891," says Mr. John Murray, "I never had any illness in my life. Then, suddenly, as it were, I felt that something was wrong with me. At first I had an awful bitter taste in the mouth, and after eating I had a pain at the epigastrium and a horrible sensation at the stomach, as if of a hot iron burning me. I vomited all the food I partook of, and sometimes I threw up blood. Nothing I ate would do me any good, and I was unable to eat, and I was afraid to take any solid food. Even milk and slops distressed me.

"Being unable to leave the house I sent for a doctor, who said that my stomach was ulcerated, and he gave me medicines of different kinds, and recommended applications; but nothing gave me any relief, and I grew worse and worse. In spite of the soothing drops I took I got no sleep night or day. The pain was so severe I could not lie down in bed.

"After four months' suffering I was removed to the Grosvenor Hospital, where I had the best medical treatment and diet. I was fed solely on liquid food, and my stomach was so inflamed and sore that I threw up most of it. After five weeks in the hospital I was worse than ever and returned home. There I lingered on in great pain and weakness month after month. I was now pale as death, and so weak I could not draw one foot after the other.

"I was gradually wasting away, expecting no relief except in death, which I thought could not be far away. "This was in February, 1892. It was then I first heard of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and made up my mind to see whether there could possibly be any virtue in it for so desperate a case as mine.

"Not being able to procure the Syrup in our neighborhood my wife wrote to London for a supply. It may seem hard to believe, but it is true, that the first dose gave me welcome relief. Continuing to take it I was soon able to take nourishing food, and felt my strength coming back. After a little all pain left me, and I have never since had any ailment. "I thank my Creator for making Mother Seigel's Syrup known to me, for without it I should now be in my grave. I tell everybody that it saved my life. You are welcome to publish this to all the world. (Signed) John Murray, Grosvenor Cottage, Grosvenor (near Edinboro), Glasgow, August 29th, 1892."

Mr. Murray is a man of high character, and we know him in the district. He is in the employ of D. Jardine, Esq., of Ralston Lodge, for disease was acute inflammatory dyspepsia, but an attack of which (unconsciously to himself) his system had long been preparing. What seems a sudden illness," says an eminent physician, "is but the climax of a series of changes which have been going on for a considerable time, the slight warning symptoms not having been noticed by the patient."

So grey hairs come, so disease comes. So death comes. Watch for the earlier signs and keep Mother Seigel's Syrup close at hand.

I notice the editor last week makes a pathetic appeal to subscribers to discharge their liabilities.

Is a Test of the Class of Fowl, Not of the Quality of the Egg.

The idea entertained by some people that a brown shelled egg is richer than a white shelled egg is a very old and a very common error.

The color of the shell does, however, give us a pointer as to the kind of hen that laid the egg. There are two distinct classes, or varieties, of hens of which there are many different strains and many intermediate grades.

To the intermediate class belong such pure bred varieties as the Plymouth Rocks and Wyandottes, better known as the American breeds. Hens of these two varieties lay light brown shelled or cream colored eggs.

Unlike the shell, however, the yolk of the egg is a pretty good indication of its richness. Hens that have plenty of yolked eggs, whereas those deprived of green food and meat lay eggs with pale yolks that are thin in albumen also and not very nutritious.

Items in Asparagus Culture. Mr. E. S. Carman, with favorable conditions, would not plant asparagus closer than three by four feet, and it is his belief that in six or eight years a greater distance, say six by three feet, would be seen to be real economy.

Varieties of Cotton. In 1892 the five varieties of cotton giving the highest yields per acre at the Mississippi station were: Warren, 335.74; Jones' Long Staple Prolific, 332.83; Drake's Cluster, 327.43; King, 320.63; Smith's Standard, 320.51.

The five varieties giving the heaviest yield per acre were: Warren, 335 pounds; Drake's Cluster, 327 pounds; King, 320 pounds; Jones' Long Staple Prolific, 321 pounds. Of these, all except the Jones are very short, and even that is given as 1 5/16 inch.

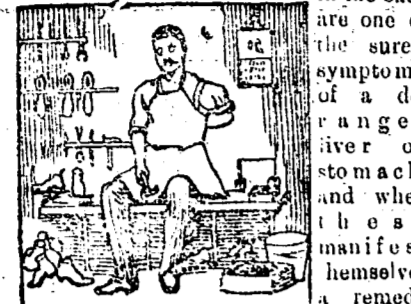

The Japanese Persimmon. The Kaki or Japanese persimmon is comparatively recent introduction. It is not tender north of Virginia, but it has been found that although tender while young the Kaki grows more hardy as the tree matures.

The Cotton Crop. A prominent New York cotton commission house estimates the cotton crop through nearly 2,000,000 of its correspondents scattered all through the cottoning States by figures based on the estimated crop by States gave a total of 6,550,000 bales.

Clark's World-Famed Blood Mixture. The most searching blood purifier that science and medical skill have brought to light. Sufferers from Blood Diseases, Scoury, Eczema, Skin and Blood Disorders, Pimples, and Sores of all kinds, its effects are marvellous.

A NOBLEMAN SHOEMAKER.

Noblemen of various countries have been found in many queer positions, and we have no doubt that some have been shoemakers before this.

For a time at least hostilities in connection with the Cuban difficulty have ceased. After a deal of haggling the surrender of Santiago de Cuba has been agreed to by the Spanish authorities.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH OF JULY.

FRUIT GARDEN. Finish pruning as early as possible in the month, or before the sap begins to rise. Grafting may be commenced by the end of the month and should be finished before the sap rises.

KITCHEN GARDEN. Sow crops of turnips, carrots and other roots, onions, leeks, spinach and salad plants; though should the weather be so fine as to induce rapid growth, some of these might run to seed and require to be re-sown.

FLOWER GARDEN. Seeds of petanias, verbenas and others similar in nature may be sown in heat, likewise the more tender annuals. The harder annuals may be sown out-of-doors towards the end of the month.

PLANT HOUSES. Start plants of cucurbits, achimenes, gloxinia, and others similar in character, in heat. Shift young and also older plants of all kinds as soon as they are in growth and their roots have penetrated the soil of their pots.

How is it that CLARK'S BLOOD MIXTURE has obtained such great popularity? The answer is, that it is unquestionably the finest blood purifier that science and medical skill have brought to light.

Clark's World-Famed Blood Mixture. The most searching blood purifier that science and medical skill have brought to light. Sufferers from Blood Diseases, Scoury, Eczema, Skin and Blood Disorders, Pimples, and Sores of all kinds, its effects are marvellous.

THE POLICE MAGISTRATE'S FIXTURES.

The following are the fixtures of the Police Magistrate, Mr R. E. Johns, for the month of August, 1898. Creswick, 2nd August, at 10 a.m. Gordon, 3rd August, at 2 p.m.

SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

President McKinley has warmly thanked General Shafter and the American army for the heroism and endurance displayed in the operations at Santiago.

On Sunday the United States flag was hoisted at Santiago. The city wore an aspect of gloom and solemnity, the departure of the Spanish troops being signalled by the tolling of the bells in the cathedral and other churches.

Yellow fever is spreading in the American army at Santiago, 600 men being already prostrated by the malady.

Both towns of Guantanamo and Caimanera, situated about 40 miles east of Santiago, surrendered when they were notified of the fall of Santiago.

On the 10th June the Chief Justice of South Australia sentenced two men, Frank and William Smith, to terms of imprisonment with hard labor (the latter, however, being released by the clemency of the Judge under the First Offenders Act) for selling counterfeit Pink Pills as the well-known Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and for thus obtaining money under false pretences.

APPLICATIONS FOR MINING LEASES.

NOTICE TO APPLICANTS. Attention is called to the following regulations under part 2 of "The Mines Act 1890," twenty-third schedule:— 4. Every applicant for a lease to mine on private property shall apply for a lease in manner prescribed by these regulations; but during the seven days immediately preceding the day on which he leaves his application with the warden, he must do the following things—

(A) Insert in a newspaper published in the district where the land is situated, or if there be no such newspaper, then in one published nearest the district, an advertisement or notice on the form in the appendix thereto.

HARD WORK AND EASY WORK.

There was a time very lately when Mr Donato, Arnold found it hard to keep up with his work. Not that there was more to be done than usual, but he didn't feel like working at all.

At that time cold, clammy sweats began to break out over me, and as I walked my footsteps were uncertain. Sometimes my legs gave way under me, as if they were too weak to bear the weight of my body.

Then I bought one of a medicine I had heard highly spoken of—Dr. Williams' Curative Syrup. I said to myself, I will try it. I am thankful I did. After taking only two bottles all the pain was gone, and shortly I was well and strong as ever.

Dr. Williams' Curative Syrup does for the human body what it does for the wakened nerves and for his uncertain footsteps.

The Naked Truth

A Book for MEN ONLY by Charles Astley Webster, Specialist, 41 Exhibition Street, Melbourne. Posted free on receipt of 6d. in stamps.

PROFESSOR WEBSTER is the greatest and most successful specialist the world has ever known. Nothing will cure him; and he will give a WRITTEN GUARANTEE to cure every case he undertakes. Professor Webster will, on receipt of 6d. in stamps, forward free and embossed, his famous book, "The Naked Truth," a treatise on the causes, effects, treatment, and cure of all private diseases, weaknesses or infirmities of man, such as the evil effects of both folly, lost manhood, nervous debility, spermatorrhoea, impotence, nocturnal emission, gonorrhoea, &c., acute or chronic. Every man, married or single, young or old, should read "The Naked Truth." The reader who has not read this, will learn how much he does not know. "The Naked Truth" is an interesting, reliable guide to the healthy and the weak; but to the unhappy sufferer from sexual weakness, the light of its truth is surely but the dawn of brighter days to come. A copy posted for 6d. in stamps.

NOTICE.

We have resolved to reduce the Subscription to "The Riponshire Advocate" (with which is published a 14-column supplement containing well-selected reading matter) to the per quarter, and trust that this concession will be largely taken advantage of.

The Advertising Rates have also been considerably reduced, and advertisers will find it to their benefit to avail themselves of the columns of "The Riponshire Advocate," which is the only newspaper that is printed and published within the boundaries of the Shire. As the advocate of the interests and for the welfare of this district, it has a claim for a considerable amount of support, and has a greater scope for extended usefulness than any other journal or journals within a given radius of Beaufort.

Job Printing, plain and ornamental, of every description, is executed with neatness, accuracy and despatch, and on the most reasonable terms.

We take this opportunity of thanking our patrons for past favors, and while respectfully soliciting a renewal of support, desire to state that increased attention will be given to all matters of local and general interest. As a record of news we will always endeavor to make our columns as comprehensive as possible. In all departments, in fact, we will aim at improvement, and, therefore, confidently appeal to the public for increased support.

To our Readers and Patrons.

THE PROSPERITY OF A DISTRICT DEPENDS chiefly upon the support and encouragement that is given by the population to local enterprise and industry. Every venture in a more or less extent of speculation, but each yielding a return, is the success of the whole support is necessary to achieve certain advantageous results on both sides.

Therefore, Support Local Industry and Local Enterprise.

The law of exchange was never satisfactory in its working; thus it was that the custom of buying and selling using a standard currency, was introduced. One form of this currency is now a "paper money" and of paper money there is more than one kind. All kinds are useful, but not every kind remains its original value. The "paper" money most valuable to a newspaper proprietor is that which is sent him by "Subscribers and Advertisers."

and he will do his utmost to entitle him to a good share of it.

"The Riponshire Advocate" is the Advertising Medium for all Contracts, let, and notifications of the Shire of Ripon and is the ONLY NEWSPAPER That is Printed and Published within the boundaries of the Shire.

And as the advocate of the interests and for the welfare of this district it has a claim to a considerably greater amount of support, and has a greater scope for extended usefulness than any other journal or journals within a given radius of the Shire Office.

The Circulation of the Riponshire Advocate is Steadily Increasing.

And the Proprietor, recognizing the increased support in this direction, will use his utmost endeavors to merit and sustain the patronage accorded him by giving the latest possible Local and General News, and the most interesting and instructive information.

"The Advocate," PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, CIRCULATES in the following districts:—Beaufort, Stockyard Hill, Lake Goldsmith, Sailor's Gully, Main Lead, Raiglen, Chute Waterloo, Erambee, Buanoor, Middle Creek, Shireley, Traralgon, Skipton, and Caranzhang.

With every issue of the Paper is given a FOURTEEN-COLUMN SUPPLEMENT, containing an interesting Serial Tale, amusing Anecdotes, Pastoral News, Poultry Farming, Agricultural Intelligence, Gardening Items, Etc., Etc., Etc.

It was Benjamin Franklin who wrote—"What steam is to machinery, advertising is to business."

And another wiser man has said that—"He who in his 'bit' would rise, Must either 'bust' or advertise."

And advertisers cannot do better than make the Riponshire Advocate the medium for their announcements.
