Nothing Short of a Miracle.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

CURE MRS. J. S. FRANCIS OF General Debility, Asthma, Bronchitis, Weak Heart, Dropsy, Rheumatism, and Kidney Troubles.

"Neighbours and Friends Flock to See Me."

"Well," replied Mrs. Annie Francis, of Box Hill, Victoria, to our reporter, "I am only too happy to give you whatever information you require regarding my case."

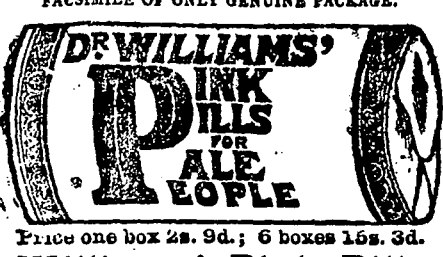

MRS. FRANCIS.

was impossible for her to enjoy sleep at night, and in order to help nature to produce a feeling of sleep, Mrs. Francis was accustomed to rest during the day and night in a rocking-chair. Gnawing rheumatic pains, especially in her arms, scarcely allowed her weary frame a respite from pain.

"Do you know," said Mrs. Francis, "that friends and others are flocking to see for themselves the truth or otherwise of my reported cure. Lady friends from Footscray, where I lived for some time, and am very well known, others from the city, all are astonished at the cure effected in my constitution by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They question me closely, and are fairly puzzled at seeing me actively engaged in household duties, able to do a day's washing, and such like."

Write to us to-day, describing your case. We shall answer you without delay, and tell you truthfully whether Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure you or not. For the sake of our reputation, we don't want any failures; thus you can afford to trust us. Please address—

A SWISS BUTTER COW.

The brown Swiss dairy cattle will probably be the next ones to be boomed. The Guernsey boom is on now. The Jersey boom has never burst from the time it began 80 years ago.

BROWN SWISS COW.

The cow in the illustration is Briens, owned in Illinois. This little brown Swiss wears the ribbon as the greatest butter producer ever entered in a public test.

Dairymen, Look at These Figures. I know a hardworking dairyman who works a place on shares and from a dairy of 10 cows gets about 200 pounds of milk per day. His labors in this taken to the cheese factory, brings him something like 70 cents every 24 hours.

Well, he has a hopyard of five acres, as most dairymen have here in connection with their farms. But how about the income from this source? He cannot hope for more than 4,000 pounds of hops and as hops are now worth 20 cents per pound his share would be something like $400.

Not a very cheerful outlook, is it? His hired man will make more clear money than he will, and will not have to work as hard. If hops are higher than 20 cents a pound next fall, he will obtain a correspondingly larger income, but they are likely to be even lower than the figure named. In any event, there is the prospect of a whole year's work for hard days' work with barely common pay.

But it does not fall to the lot of any agriculturist to have easy days' work, and they are not looking for that. Some of them, however, worry over the matter if they do not obtain a good rate of interest on the sweat they shed and the brains they expend in tilling the soil.

Worry is brain work, and as the American farmer is a very ingenious man when it comes to his business, the ambitious American dairyman who worries (just a little) is apt to derive the biggest income from his muscular work.

In the case that I have cited there has been too much apathy and too little worry in the past. The present tenant is not altogether to blame for this, but the owner is rather to blame for having a dairy of 10 cows on the place that yield only 200 pounds of milk per day in nearly the best of feed.

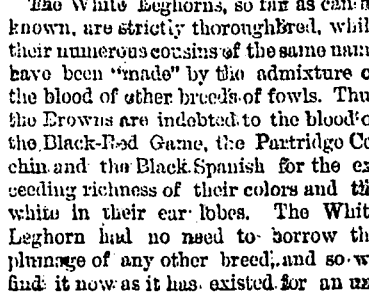

These 10 cows should be giving more nearly 400 pounds per day than 200, and they would if they were of the right stamp. I hear some readers exclaim: "Oh, pah! You fellows who write are always setting up an ideal standard that cannot be followed in practice." But listen, my friend. Suppose that we have been right there and know how it goes from experience, as the most of us do, cannot you believe that there is something in it then?

If you are not convinced, go forth and list to the teachings of other dairymen about you, who are making more money than you are.—George E. Newell in American Cultivator.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY IN THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning gray or white, or falling out, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RESTORER," for it will positively restore in every case proper white hair to its original color, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair naturally beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the "cure" is not desired. Ask your Chemist for "THE MEXICAN HAIR RESTORER," sold by Chemists and Perfumers everywhere at 25¢ per bottle. Wholesale depot 51, Farringdon Road, London, England.

WHITE LEGHORNS.

The Most Popular of the Pure White Fowls Among the Smaller Breeds. The Leghorn fowl, be it brown, black or white, is deservedly popular especially where eggs are the chief object in view.

WHITE LEGHORN COCK AND HEN.

There is an impression prevalent in some quarters that White Leghorns are more prolific than their colored relatives in the matter of egg production. On this point Mr. Donnell is sure that at least the White variety is not surpassed by any fowls in the matter of filling the egg basket, and with them the highest record for productivity has been made.

Special purpose animals are at the front now for profit and poultry is no exception to the rule. Leghorns can be made to pay a larger profit on eggs alone, if proper care and shelter be given them, than any general purpose fowl will pay on both eggs and meat, and the reason is not far to seek. The eggs which an early hatched Leghorn pullet will lay in September and October at the excellent prices which prevail at that season give that fowl a big start in outstripping her larger but more slowly maturing sisters.

Coming now to the peculiar adaptability of the White Leghorn to this special production of eggs, it is to be said that the cockerels that are to be sold for the pullets. One thing should be kept prominently in mind by those who are keeping large numbers of Leghorns for profitable egg production—a strain should be secured that lays large sized eggs, and this trait should be kept up from generation to generation by breeding only from hens that lay eggs of generous size, for such will command a ready sale and better prices in the market.

W. B. Atwood, writing from the Virginia station, advocates manuring in the hill for tomatoes. He fertilizes as a rule, with compost around the plants as well as transplanted, and by this secure heavy crops of fruit. When he has no compost, a small quantity of chemical fertilizer is used in the hills, but it is thoroughly hoed in before setting the plants; otherwise it would burn them up, tomatoes being very tender in this regard. Applying compost around the plant gives the most satisfactory crop he has ever grown. It is the custom in his section to fertilize in the hill, and no one complains of small tomatoes thus produced.

On the County Road. A Tennessee farmer who grows millet and cow peas together with good results says that the cow peas is a warm climate growth and does not do well if sown too early. They should not be sown until the ground is warm, then the peas and millet will do splendidly together.

American Cultivator says that potash is best applied in the two common forms of kainit and muriate of potash. Where a soil is lacking in potash, it can be supplied in the cheapest form by applying these ingredients directly to the soil and not in any mixed form.

It has been advised for scabby leg on fowls to mix a teaspoonful of kerosene in a pint or a little more of skimmed milk and allow the fowls to stand in it. A beekeeper in Gleasons says that he greases the tops of watering troughs with any kind of oil grease with a little kerosene mixed with it and has not had a bit of trouble with bees in them since.

A new idea in the milk business is to "sell milk in the cow," by cutting out animals to townspeople. The editor of The Agriculturalist says: It must be evident to all that there is no particular need of self drivers in the spiky. The queen trap will do all the work.

Editor Hutchinson of the Review declares in favor of the queen trap as the most practical arrangement for managing bees at swarming time. A country paper kindly supplies this beautiful simile:—"You might as well try to slumpong an elephant with a thimbleful of soapuds as attempt to do business and ignore advertising."

ALCOHOLIC LIVER.

An Injurious Custom Induces Misery and Melancholy.

But now a Healthy Man Again.

The Case of ED. A. ERNEST BRAUN. (A Convincing Report.)

A severe and dangerous form of liver trouble often arises from the judicious use of alcoholic drinks. Men in certain occupations are almost forced by the necessities of their trade, to this harmful habit. The wine and spirit merchant, the hotel-keeper, and the commercial traveller, are all apt to fall victims to the courtesies of their trade.

"Did you not try any remedies for your disease, Mr. Braun?" enquired the newspaper man. "Try remedies! Why, I tried hundreds of different things. If you notice, when you are sick nearly everyone you meet has got some certain panacea that will be sure to cure you. This was the way with me, I was always being told of certain cures for my sufferings, and I always took them and suffered just the same. But it happened that in the store where I was employed we handled a good many cases of Clements' Tonic; this led me to think that a medicine that was in such great demand must have some special virtues of its own.

"I hope you have no objection to this statement appearing in print, Mr. Braun?" enquired the reporter. "No, it's just the truth, and you are welcome to do what you like with it. Clements' Tonic has done all I have said in my own case, and I have no doubt it will help others suffering in the same way. I publish as often as you like."

STATUTORY DECLARATION. I, A. E. BRAUN, of 411 Crickshaw-street, South Melbourne, in the Colony of Victoria, do solemnly and sincerely declare that I have carefully read the enclosed document, consisting of three pages, and that it contains and is a true and faithful account of my case, and that I give voluntarily, and without receiving any payment, and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act of the Parliament of Victoria, empowering persons making a False Declaration punishable for wilful and corrupt perjury.

A PRIZE POEM. A syndicate of Western (American) editors offered 1000 dollars for the best appeal to newspaper subscribers to pay up their subscriptions. The prize was given to the editor of the "Rocky Mountain Celt." This is the poem: Lives of poor men oft remind us of the birds that starve in winter; They are the birds that we behold us; Bigger patches on our pants. On our pants, once now and glossy; Now a shabby, ragged hue; All because our pockets linger; And won't pay us what is due. Then let us all be up and doing; Send your mite, however small; Or when the cold of winter strikes us— We shall have no pants at all.

The story of the massacre at the Peking foreign legation has been confirmed. A Chinese bank official states he was present when the first storm of the legation took place. The ambassador killed their wives and families to prevent them from falling alive into the hands of the Chinese. News has been received from the German legation in Peking to the effect that the legations were "all right" on the 21st July.

Of you dry to do yourself mischief advertising, you will find yourself already like a boy dying to shide a hill town without show. Besides there is no difference as you don't get some more you gain make 'em; but you an sometimes shudderly always make an advertising come right away quick. All day year you get, nice some money. -Joseph.

YOU CAN AFFORD IT.

Very few are too poor now a-days to take their country paper, and it is false economy to try and get along without it. Hardly a week passes that something or other does not appear in its columns that will be of financial benefit to the subscriber, and by the end of the year he had made or saved or won twenty times the subscription paid for it. The country press don't take the place of the country ones, though some people appear to think they do. The city papers are all right in their way, but they do not give you that in which you are most interested—your country news. You cannot learn from them when and where your country meetings are to be held, who are dying or who are marrying, who are moving in or who are moving out, court proceedings, who wants to buy or sell farm or land produce, in fact hundreds of things of which it might be of particular importance for you to know. If you cannot afford to take only one paper, by all means take the one that is published in the country or district where you live. It will cost you less, and thereby you will be assisting yourself and keeping the money in the district.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, in writing, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions. 2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until arrears are paid. 3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the post-office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they settle their bills, and ordered the newspapers to be discontinued. 4. If subscribers move to other places, without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, the subscribers are responsible. 5. The court has decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the post-office or leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud." 6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

HINTS TO FRIENDLY READERS:

You want to see the local paper as successful institution. Talk about it wherever you go. Mention it to the tradespeople with whom you do business. If they don't advertise in it, try and induce them to do so. If you are induced to buy anything from what you have read in its advertising columns mention the fact to the tradesman. Don't lend your paper to any person who can afford to become a subscriber. But is too mean to support local enterprise.

The greatest aid you can give your newspaper is your job printing; if you do not feel able to run an advertisement, surely you can afford to give the newspaper your cards, dogtags, bill-boards, letter-heads, envelopes, and all business printing to execute. The newspaper man sends it, and it helps him to pay his printers for setting up the thousand and one free notices he gives you and your town; but don't give it to the printer or job printing office that can give you no such return, and is spending neither time, money, nor brains in helping you to build up your town. The time may come when a newspaper can live simply upon the revenue derived from advertising and subscriptions, but no ordinary newspaper in any ordinary town can exist without the auxiliary support derived from job printing. Therefore, if you want a good newspaper—one that can still further help you and your town—give it your job printing.

Business man—"You remember that 'ad. I had in your paper, and took out two months ago? Well, I want to have it put back again." Editor—"Why, I thought you said no one noticed it while it was in." Business man (humbly)—"They didn't seem to until I took it out." The mere fact of your advertising lets people know you are still in business; also that your business is sufficiently important to stand advertising. If you are in business you cannot afford to do without advertising, as it is too much of an admission to the world at large.—Extract from an interview with a man who has profited by newspaper advertising.

A BOARD WIRE FOR HAYSTACKS. four large No. 8 wires over board, down side of stack, long enough to reach down as far as you want roof to extend; staple wire to top board. The wire should then be coiled up loosely, so that the ends may not be in the way.

Crop Bound Fowls. Fowls are often troubled with a watery stool, though this is not so usual as the ailment known as crop bound, where the crop hardens and swells from the indigestion of the dry food the bird eats.

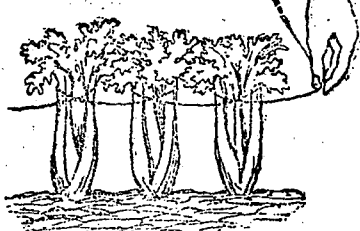

Treatment of the Asparagus Bed. The best time to apply manure to the asparagus bed is late in autumn, the few inches added keeping the ground warmer during winter.

Valuable Discovery in the Hair. If your hair is turning gray or white, or falling out, use THE MEXICAN HAIR RESTORER. It will restore the hair to its original color, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most restorers.

FARM AND GARDEN

HANDLING CELERY.

A Plan Suggested by Professor Green of the Ohio Experiment Station. When the celery plants are large enough for handling or firming, they may be done either in the old way, by drawing soil around the base of each plant, or winding a string once around each...

HILLING CELERY.

each, as recommended by Professor Green. Here is what he says about it in a manual on celery culture published by the Rural Publishing Company, New York:

In handling we tried string by winding once around each plant and then going on to the next, keeping the string taut enough to hold the stalks in place. This was a decided improvement over the way of holding the stalks in place by earth until the rest of the soil was put in, but when it came to taking the string off the soil would be tramped around the plants, and the leaves and upper part of the stalks would be torn off.

The final blanching may be done with boards, and this need not be excessively wide either. Use good, clear 1 1/2 inch pine lumber, which point on one side. Lay down one board along comb of truck, stretch about

HEPATITIS OR LIVER TROUBLE Effectually Cured.

The Case of Mrs. ANNIE KEMP.

From the Christian World.

When persons of a naturally vigorous constitution fall into bad health there must have been a predisposing cause, for nothing comes by chance. In sickness or health we are the creatures of circumstances. It was with no thought of what was in store that Mrs. Annie Kemp, now residing at 12 Chesel-street, Clark-street, South Melbourne, removed years ago from her country home and outdoor life near Brighton to the confinement of a city house and surroundings.

come in my ears, a sort of beating noise, that made me, for the time, quite deaf. But this trouble would go away as it came. Without any cause as far as I could tell, I suffered at times from neuralgia in the side of the face; it would start in the neck and then spread all round my jaws, and sometimes a choking feeling, as if my throat and throat. I could hardly breathe; it was as though my lungs were closed up, and I was going to be stifled for want of breath.

YOU CAN AFFORD IT.

Very few are on their knees today to take their country paper, and it is unnecessary to try and get along without it. Hardly a week passes that something or other does not appear in its columns that will be of financial benefit to the subscriber, and by the end of the year he has made or saved or won twenty times the subscription paid for it.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, in writing, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions. 2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until express notice is paid.

HINTS TO FRIENDLY READERS:

You want to see the local paper as successful institution. Talk about it wherever you go. Mention it to the tradespeople with whom you do business. If they don't advertise in it, say and induce them to do so.

Scientific and Medical Testimony in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Nerve Troubles Through Overwork. AN EMINENT SCIENTIST CURED.

Amongst the earnest, hard-working scientific men of the world, Mr. Oswald Metcalf, of 91 Camp Hill Street, Highbury, holds a high position. For 11 years he has laboured assiduously investigating the cause of speech impediment.

Violent attacks of heart palpitation, want of appetite, intense weariness and weakness, loss of memory, apoplexy, insomnia and headaches became frequent. Physicians prescribed nerve tonics without effect. At last, when attacked by sciatica, he used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and was soon rid of that ailment also.

Hospital Nurse Recommends Them. DECLARES THEIR VALUE BEFORE THE MAYOR.

NURSE FALKNER, of the "Home of Hope" Hospital, Newtown, Sydney, is a highly efficient and careful administrator of the duties devolving upon her. In a statutory declaration made before the Mayor of Balmain, Henry Mills, Esq., J.P., on September 8, 1899, she says: "I, Nurse Maud Falkner, engaged professionally at the 'Home of Hope,' Stanley Street, Newtown, of 16 Anne Street, Balmain, in the Colony of New South Wales, do solemnly and sincerely declare that during my professional experience as a nurse I have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a valuable medicine of undoubted curative properties.

Her Sister Cured of Neuralgia.

Miss BITNEY (Nurse Falkner's sister) suffered excruciatingly from Neuralgia. Sometimes an attack would last for six weeks together. Brandy was used every night to dull the pain, but it was only do so for two or three hours. Then she would wake up with jumping pains and a fearful headache.

Hospital Mal'ron Cured.

In colonial hospital circles no couple is more highly spoken of than Mr. and Mrs. J. Agnew of Hillsborough (Ochilvie), N.Z. Formerly they held the respective positions of warder and matron of the Gympie and Herberton Hospitals, Queensland. Mrs. Agnew has had an extended experience in nursing sufferers from all forms of disease. She regards Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as the most valuable medicine ever introduced to the world.

DISTINGUISHED PHYSICIANS TESTIFY.

What DR. BOURCHIER, M.D., F.S.Sc. (London), says: Few medical men in Australia possess a higher degree than J. G. Boucher, M.D., F.S.Sc. (London), J.P., late Government Medical Officer N.S.W. His knowledge in all matters of medicine is therefore to be regarded with respect and appreciation.

What DR. LIMES, M.D. (Board of Surgeons), says:

Dr. J. L. Limes, M.D., Secretary of the Board of Surgeons, Kansas, is an eminent American physician with a particularly large practice. He also highly praises Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and writes: "Since I began prescribing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have never had cause to regret it. I have used them in a number of cases of nerve troubles, Rheumatism, etc., and in every case have been exceptionally well pleased with results.

North Riding Election.

CR. M. FLYNN'S CANDIDATURE.

Cr. M. Flynn, the retiring member for the North Riding of Riponshire, addressed the ratepayers last evening in the Golden Age Hall, Beaufort.

Mr. Flynn said it was now nine years since he had the honor of addressing the ratepayers on this platform on the self-same subject. He was sorry that the audience was not great, but supposed that the inclemency of the weather was responsible for the attendance not being larger.

Mr. Flynn said that he had called the meeting and would do his part—give a resume of his stewardship for the last nine years, which he thought he was duty bound to do. If the ratepayers were not here to hear it he was not to blame.

Mr. Flynn said that he had called the meeting and would do his part—give a resume of his stewardship for the last nine years, which he thought he was duty bound to do.

Magisterial Inquiry

A magisterial inquiry was held by Mr. J. Sinclair, J.P., at Jaesch's Travelling Hotel, Trullawalla, on Wednesday, the 22nd inst., in connection with the death of an old man named William Neville Eastwood, who died suddenly in the travelling hotel at Trullawalla on Monday night last.

James Rodgers, laborer, at present residing at 20th inst., first saw deceased at the travellers' hut at Trullawalla Station between 8 and 9 p.m. He did not complain of being unwell, and got up next morning as usual, and at about 12 noon on 21st inst. he started away from the hut, saying he was going to Mr. Emma's house, but he did not return.

George McCracken, publican, Beaufort, deposed: I have seen the dead body in a room at the Travelling Hotel, Trullawalla, at 10.15 a.m. on 22nd inst. I saw the body of a man lying on a bed in a room at the Travelling Hotel, Trullawalla, at 10.15 a.m. on 22nd inst. What to Do in Case of Emergency

What would you do if taken with cholera or cholera morbus when your physician is away from home and the drug stores are closed? After one such emergency you will always be glad to have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in your home; but why wait until the horse is stolen before you look the stable.

A Convincing Answer

"I hobbled into Mr. Blackmon's drug store one evening," says Wesley Nelson of Hamilton, Ga., "and he asked me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with which I had suffered for a long time. I told him I had no faith in any medicine as they all failed. He said: 'Well if Chamberlain's Pain Balm does not help you, you need not pay for it.' I took a bottle of it home and used it according to the directions, and in one week I was cured, and have not since been troubled with rheumatism." Sold by J. R. WOODRUM & Co., Beaufort.

This is only an Outline of a few out of many cases. Day by day fresh reports of cure come in. It is impossible to publish every case, even in short summary. All over Australia live, healthy men and women, once hopelessly ill, have been made well and active by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Below are very brief summaries of several cases in all parts. A fuller account will be sent post free to any address.

THEY WERE ILL, AND ARE WELL!

Thousands of photographs attest the benefit received by people who were ill—many of them hopelessly ill, as they believed; many Confirmed Invalids, Consumptives, Cripples, Rheumatic and Bronchitis Sufferers, Dyspeptics, who, thanks to—have recovered their lost health and are now quite well.

Internal Agony.—Insomnia.

Mr. J. O'Keefe, 96 Westgate Street, Fitzroy, Melbourne, was formerly on the Darling Creek, St. Albans, India. Whilst on the Darling Creek, he suffered greatly from insomnia, loss of appetite, and suffered greatly from internal agony. He consulted many doctors, but without permanent benefit. The internal growth caused without permanent benefit. The internal growth caused without permanent benefit.

Disordered Liver. Dizziness.

Mrs. Rosa Mulgrave, 73 Chapel Street, Fitzroy, Melbourne, suffered greatly from disordered liver, dizziness, and general debility. She had been on a diet of milk, but even this did not agree. A heron on a diet of milk, but even this did not agree. A heron on a diet of milk, but even this did not agree.

Nervous Prostration.—Loss of Appetite.

Mr. Oswald Metcalf, 91 Campbell Street, Hobart, was engaged in studying the cause of speech impediment for 11 years. Excessive study had done his health, disorganised his nerves, brought on heart palpitation, and less of mental ability. Doctors prescribed nerve tonics without apparent effect. His nervous headaches and nervous prostration continued. He was taken to the hospital, but without benefit. He was taken to the hospital, but without benefit.

Gout and Rheumatism.

Mr. George W. Carey, talented comedian of Messrs. Williamson & Musgrove's Co., interviewed by a Quin and the Larmer, reported at the Grand Coffee Palace, Hindley Street, Adelaide. Mr. Carey was in pain for 16 years with gout; always severe pain; had to use a stick when walking. He was completely run down. His friends advised him to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He took them, and he is now stronger and in better health than he has been for 16 long years. Hearty praises Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a remedy for gout and rheumatism.

Husband and Wife Cured.

When both husband and wife testify to the value of a medicine, established beyond all doubt, the value of a medicine, established beyond all doubt, the value of a medicine, established beyond all doubt.

Dyspepsia—Headaches.

Miss Annie Barnard, of Adelaide Street, near Central Railway Station, Brisbane, is a milliner at a drapery establishment in the city. For three years she suffered greatly from dyspepsia, terrible pains in the chest, head, and back, sleeplessness, and debility. She was completely run down. She was advised to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She took them, and she is now stronger and in better health than she has been for 16 long years.

Lumbago, Sciatica, Gout, Dizziness.

Mrs. F. Ford, of Vevey Grove, Queensland, suffered from lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, dizziness, and general debility. Under medical advice for a long time, but was not cured. Ever change of weather long time, but was not cured. Ever change of weather long time, but was not cured.

Sciatica and Paralysis.

Mrs. Johny Annew, of Hillsborough, near On-hungas, was formerly a milliner at a drapery establishment in the city. For three years she suffered greatly from sciatica, terrible pains in the chest, head, and back, sleeplessness, and debility. She was completely run down. She was advised to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She took them, and she is now stronger and in better health than she has been for 16 long years.

YOU CAN AFFORD IT.

Very few are too poor now to afford to take the country paper, and it is false economy to try and get along without it. Hardly a week passes that something or other does not appear in the columns that will be of financial benefit to the subscriber, and by the end of the year he had made or saved or won twenty times the subscription paid for it. The city papers don't take the place of the country ones, though some people appear to think they do. The city papers are all right in their way, but they do not give you that in which you are most interested—your country news.

You cannot learn from them when and where your country meetings are to be held, who are dying or who are marrying, who are moving in or who are moving out, court proceedings, who wants to buy or sell farm or land produce, in fact hundreds of things of which it might be of particular importance for you to know. If you can afford to take only one paper, by all means take the one that is published in the country or district where you live. It will cost you less, and thereby you will be assisting yourself and keeping the money in the district.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

I. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary, in writing, are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their newspapers, the publisher may continue to send them until arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the post-office to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they settle their bills, and ordered the newspapers to be discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publishers, and the papers are sent to the former direction, the subscribers are responsible.

5. The court has decided that "refusing to take periodicals from the post-office or leaving them uncollected, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud."

6. Any person who receives a newspaper and makes use of it, whether he has ordered it or not, is held in law to be a subscriber.

HINTS TO FRIENDLY READERS.

You want to see the local paper a successful institution. Talk about it wherever you go. Mention it to the tradespeople with whom you do business.

If they don't advertise in it, try and induce them to do so. If you are induced to buy anything from what you have read in its advertising columns mention the fact to the tradesman.

Don't lend your paper to any person who can afford to become a subscriber, but is too mean to support local enterprise.

The greatest aid you can give your newspaper is your job printing; if you do not feel able to run an advertisement, surely you can afford to give the newspaper your cards, doggers, bill-headers, letter-heads, envelopes, and all business printing to execute. The newspaper man needs it, and it helps him to pay his printers for setting up the thousand and one free notices he gives you and your town; and don't give it to the printer or job printer; office that can give you no such return, and is spending neither time, money, nor brains in helping you to build up your town. The time may come when the revenue derived from advertising and subscriptions, but no ordinary newspaper in any ordinary town can exist without the auxiliary support derived from job printing. Therefore, if you want a good newspaper—one that can still further help you and your town—give it your job printing.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep, it soothes the child, it softens the gums, it loosens the bowels, and it is a most valuable remedy for dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup is sold by Medicine Dealers everywhere at 15 1/2 per bottle.

Business man.—"You remember the 'ad.' I had in your paper, and took out two months ago? Well, I want to have it put back again." Editor.—"Why, I thought you said no one noticed it while it was in." Business man (humbly).—"They didn't seem to notice it, but I did. The mere fact of your advertising lets people know you are still in business; also that your business is sufficiently important to stand advertising. If you are in business you cannot afford to do without advertising, as it is too much of an admission to the world at large. An admission to the world with a man who has profited by newspaper advertising."

Of you dry to do penance without advertising, you will find yourself already like a boy drying to slide a hill down without snow. Positives are less differences: you don't get some know you got make 'em; but you can sometimes shrewdly always make ter advertising come right away quick if, all your year round, with some money. —Joseph.
