VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.

If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling out, use "THE MEXICAN HAIR RESTORER," for it will positively restore its original color, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair grow in abundance, and restores the hair to its original color, and the hair grows again and again. It is a country paper kindly supplies this beautiful simile:—"You might as well try to shampoo an elephant with a thimbleful of soapuds as attempt to do business and ignore advertising."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you broken in your rest by a sick child suffering with the pain of cutting teeth? Go at once to a chemist and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor sufferer immediately. It is perfectly harmless and pleasant to taste, it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a butterfly. It cures colic, flatulency, wind, hiccups, and all the other ailments of infancy. Wholesale and Retail Chemists and Perfumers everywhere. Wholesale depot, 38, Farringdon Road, London, England.

THROAT AFFECTIONS AND HOARSENESS.

All suffering from irritation of the throat and hoarseness will be agreeably surprised at the almost immediate relief afforded by the use of "Brook's Bronchial Troches." These famous "lozenges" are now sold by most respectable chemists in this country. People troubled with a "hoarse cough," a "slight cold," or "hoarseness" cannot try them too soon, as similar troubles, if allowed to progress, result in serious Pulmonary and Asthmatic Affections. See that the signature of JOHN I. BROWN & SON is on every wrapper. Prepared by JOHN I. BROWN & SON, Boston, U.S.A., European Depot, 38, Farringdon Road, London, England.

SUPPORT LOCAL INDUSTRY, AND SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LOCAL PAPER, THE RIPONSHIRE ADVOCATE.

We ask that our efforts for the district's good shall be recognized. An increased circulation means still greater usefulness on our part. When a neighbour or friend asks for the loan of the local paper, tell him or her that for the small sum of it is obtainable direct from the office regularly.

3s per Quarter

In addition to complete and impartial reports of all local meetings, an interesting

14-Column Supplement

is presented to Regular Subscribers.

ORDERS FOR Plain and Ornamental JOB * PRINTING *

Executed with Neatness and Despatch.

Bear in mind that

ADVERTISING ALWAYS PAYS.

Business men should note that as the Local Paper is extensively read in the district, it therefore affords a splendid advertising medium.

HINTS TO FRIENDLY READERS.

You want to see the local paper a successful institution. Talk it over with your neighbours. Mention it to the shopkeepers with whom you do business. If they don't advertise in it, try and induce them to do so. If you are induced to buy anything from what you have read in its advertising columns mention the fact to the tradesman.

Don't lend your paper to any person who can afford to become a subscriber, but is too mean to support local enterprise.

TRIED MANY THINGS WITHOUT BENEFIT UNTIL I TOOK CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE.

Mr. F. E. Lewis, 46 Bridge Street, Row, Chester, writes:—"Just a line in support of 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.' I have been suffering from eczema for many years, and tried many things without benefit until I took your remedy. After the first bottle I was quite well again. Please accept this letter as a testimonial to the value of 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.'—June 15, 1905.

ECZEMA AND IRRITATING SKIN TROUBLE CURED.

Mr. W. G. Weston, care of Messrs. Knott, of 40, Eborac Street, King's-Langlaigh, N.E., writes:—"Gentlemen:—I feel it my duty to inform you of the great benefit in health I have received through taking your famous 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.' I have been a sufferer from eczema since my father being a horse dealer and jobmaster. He (my father) was speaking one day to a friend of mine who mentioned that he was being cured of eczema by 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and I was completely cured, and am now suffering from eczema for several years. I am able to follow my employment, and am very pleased to think that your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' is so readily obtainable for such a small sum. I should be pleased to answer any inquiries concerning my case."—July 17, 1904.

ANOTHER PERMANENT CURE OF BAD LEGS AND ABSCESSES.

Mr. James Waring, of Olay, Olay Lodge, near Rugby, writes:—"It is with great pleasure that I write to tell you of the benefit I have derived from taking 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.' For a long time I suffered with bad legs and abscesses. I was under a doctor for five months and not getting much better. I went as an out-patient to the local hospital for nine weeks. The doctor then told me I should have to go inside before he could do anything for me. I then started to take 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and after undergoing two operations I got a little better. Before I had been out of hospital a week I became worse than ever, so my wife told me to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.' I did so, and after taking five bottles and using four pots of your salve I was completely cured. I have waited twelve months to see if my legs broke out again, but they have not. 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' is a real blessing to me, and I am glad to say I have never been in my life. You can make what ever use you like of this letter."—Oct. 15, 1904.

IMPROVISED IN THE BLOOD.

"We have seen cases of blood poisoning in all conditions of people, in which the writers acknowledged the benefit they have received from 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' which as a curative agent cannot be too highly estimated, since it cleanses and clears the blood from all impurities, and restores it to its normal condition." This is a good testimonial from the Family Doctor, the popular medical weekly which goes further to say:—"It is certainly the finest blood purifier that has ever been brought to light, and we can with the utmost confidence recommend it to our subscribers and the public generally."

THE PROSPERITY OF A DISTRICT DEPENDS

chiefly upon the support and encouragement that is given by the population to local enterprise and industry. Every venture is to a more or less extent speculative, but each, whilst aiming at the success of the promoter, must offer certain returns to those whose support is necessary to achieve certain advantages result on both sides.

The "Riponshire Advocate" is the advertising medium for all Contractors, and notifications of the Shire of Nivon and the ONLY NEWSPAPER that is Printed and Published within the boundaries of the Shire, and as the advocate of the interests and of the welfare of this district, it has a claim for a considerably greater amount of support, and has a greater scope for extended usefulness than any other journal or journal within a given radius of the Shire Offices.

The Circulation of the Riponshire Advocate is Steadily Increasing.

And the Proprietor, recognizing the increased support in this direction, will use his utmost endeavors to merit and sustain the patronage accorded him by giving the latest possible Local and General News, and the best in the following and interesting information.

It was Benjamin Franklin who wrote—"What steam is to machinery, advertising is to business." And another wiser man has said—"He who in his 'bis' would rise, Must either 'bust' or advertise."

To Mr. Lazarus—When I went there on Tuesday I had no warrant. Defendant consented to my searching his room. I got the information from Mr. Jones that the whisky was stolen on a Sunday. I did not institute to Mr. Jones that he could be had for Sunday trading. It never occurred to me that defendant was shielding his employee. I have told you all the conversation that took place about the whisky in the room. I remember the young man saying he'd better see the boss, but not about the whisky. Defendant said, "I'll lose my bill if it's not searched in my room like this; I'd better see the boss."

"You can please yourself; it's you who are making the fuss," I said. "If there's any fuss made it will be you that will make it." That was previous to the amount being found. I applied for the amount on the same day. I did not have any conversation with Mr. Jones as to whisky being sold on Sunday; it was Mr. Jones who told me.

Elli Arthur Starkey, mounted constable of police, stationed at Beaufort, stated he had heard the evidence of last witness, which was correct as far as he knew. He was present when defendant returned from the railway station.

Cross-examined—I was present when defendant said "You had better see the boss." Senior Constable Nicholson said it was not necessary, or he need not see a fuss. Mr. Lazarus admitted that the whole facts negatively the supposition that defendant feloniously took and carried away the whisky. There was no case to answer.

If Mr. Jones, the proprietor of the trading hotel in Beaufort, thought the boy was a thief, he was seeing very inconsistently in keeping him on where he could steal a greater quantity. It was absurd to bring such a case against him, and there was not the slightest justification for it.

Defendant at first asked for the case to be sent for trial, but afterwards consented to be dealt with summarily, pleading guilty. He gave evidence on his own behalf, and said—My name is Benja Jones. I am defendant in this case, and am in Mr. Jones's employment. I took a bottle of whisky out of the bar on Sunday, but I did not take it to my room. I was a full bottle. Senior constable Nicholson found it under my pillow. He asked where I got it. I said I bought it made the bar before the accused. When he asked me possession of the whisky, I said, "I am going to tell Mr. Jones about it." He said it was not necessary to make a case about it. I asked him if he wanted me to go to the bar and get the whisky, and he said no. On my return he said he was trying to get up a Sunday trading case. I got the summons on Friday evening. I put the sixpence in the till, and heard it was the custom of other grocers to help themselves.

To Senior constable Nicholson—I imagine I told Mr. Jones that I was a full bottle of whisky. The bottle was not full when I got it. I told Mr. Jones I had taken the whisky, but not before the police saw me. I had done the same as other grocers, having got drunk and put the sixpence of the till in the till. I can't say that Mr. Jones told me to do this. I wasn't afraid of you, as you had no warrant.

To the P.M.—I only had sixpence in my pocket. Defendant, who said his age was 21 years, admitted a prior conviction of 12 months, committed on 4th December, 1902, in connection with a case of 12 months at Ballarat on 3rd November, 1905, for larceny.

The P.M., in sentencing, asked a month's imprisonment with hard labor, said that had been his first offence he would have been let off very lightly with a fine of 10s or 20s, but with such a record he could not see his way to impose a fine.

CHIEF CLERK—A young unmarried woman named Mrs. Provost was charged with unlawfully doing her child, under two years of age, at Beaufort on 11th August. She pleaded guilty. Mr. J. E. M. Smith, sworn, stated that a chair in the court. All witnesses were ordered out of court. Senior constable Nicholson conducted the proceedings. The court was crowded, and ladies being present.

I am a married woman, the wife of Herbert Rose, and at Burke-street, Beaufort. I remember the night of 11th inst. Between 7.30 and 8.30 p.m. I heard a knock at my door. I was lying down in a dining room. I opened the door and saw a man. He came, and I went to the door myself. He got there I found the baby on the floor. I asked him what he was doing. He said he was a constable. I asked him what he was doing there. He said he was a constable. I asked him what he was doing there. He said he was a constable.

To Senior constable Nicholson—I have given other grocers permission to go into the bar and help themselves, but they paid for the liquor they had, or had it deducted from their wages. Defendant says he took some whisky and put sixpence in the till. I said, "There's a mighty lot of whisky there for sixpence." I asked him what he measured it with, and he said he did not measure it. I have already said he admitted taking a full bottle of whisky.

To Mr. Lazarus—He said he had intentions of paying for the balance out of his wages. To Senior Constable Nicholson—That was after the police found the whisky. Defendant did not mention anything about it before.

To the P.M.—I do not wish to press the charge. I mean to get defendant out of the case. I can get someone else—a more competent grocer. He has always been competent grocer. He worked for me.

To Mr. Lazarus—Other grocers helped themselves while I was absent and paid for it afterwards. Jas. R. Day, an employee at Wetherpoon & Co.'s, writes as agent merchant, sworn, stated: I am an expert tester of whisky, having done it for the firm for the past 18 years. I tested the whiskeys produced and found both equal in strength—18 & under-proof.

To Mr. Lazarus—I never bottled it; it could not be any whisky if it was. I got a full bottle was seized, but not the half bottle. Alexander Nicholson, senior constable at Beaufort, sworn, stated: On 21st inst. I went to defendant's room at the Golden Age hotel, Beaufort. I searched his room and underneath the mattress of his bed I found the half bottle of whisky (produced). I said, "Where did you get this whisky?" Accused said, "I bought it of course." I said, "Where did you buy it?" He said, "At the hotel." I said, "What hotel?" He said, "What hotel do you think?" I said, "It's not for me to think, it's for you to say." He then said, "At the Golden Age hotel." He left his room then, and went to the railway station. I saw him when he came back, and said, "From whom did you buy that whisky?" He said, "I don't like to tell you from whom or when I got it." I said, "I'll put you in a place where you will explain." That was the last I saw of him. I took possession of the whisky, and have had it in my custody, except for a day or two when it was at Wetherpoon's to be tested. It was half full when I got it. I saw the whisky tested.

It is impossible for the water to get into the creeks below the byways, as the byways were bedded into the creek there must have been 80 or 100 loads of clay taken out and deposited on each side of the works on the south side of the road, thereby stopping the water getting into

"SENTIMENTAL TOMMY."

BY SELMA A. ROSENTHAL.

It was a rainy afternoon in February—just the kind that makes every college girl long for her tuppence and the delight of roasting marshmallows over the drop-light. But seven maids were there whose mouths watered in vain for these delicacies. One after another took the cosy room and wended their way toward Assembly Hall—"Our Theatre"—until by a little past 4 the stage manager and the six players in the junior farce had all arrived upon the scene.

TURNED COWBOY TO WIN A BRIDE.

FATHER DID NOT WANT A DUDE FOR SON-IN-LAW.

A marriage recently celebrated in America in the "cattle country" was the culmination of an uncommonly interesting romance of the plains. The heroine of the romance was the well-educated young Western girl, the only daughter of a gruff old cattleman, and the hero was a handsome, impulsive, young college bred from the East.

A MATTER OF POLITICS.

BY B. C. EVERINGHAM, JR.

The blinds were closed at a little house about 10 minutes' walk from the Capitol. Within the small but daintily-furnished front room two figures were standing. One was a slender girl of perhaps 20, whose dark eyes shone brightly as she talked in an animated tone that bespoke infinite determination. The other was a tall, fair man, with a clean-cut honest face. He was attired in the fatigue uniform of a captain of militia, including gauntlets and side-arms. His brows clicked impatiently together as he moved about in the room, time listening to his companion's converse or interjecting a word of expostulation.

NEW DEPARTURE IN FLYING MACHINES.

CONEY ISLAND SHOEMAKER BELIEVES HE HAS SOLVED PROBLEM OF AERIAL NAVIGATION.

After many secret trials and experiments Rudolph Dressler, a Coney Island shoemaker, has perfected a flying machine on entirely new lines, which he declares will make the navigation of the air a simple and easy task. The first public trial of the machine will be given at Coney Island in the near future.

MEN WHO MOVED THE WORLD ALONG.

NEWTON AND THE LAW OF GRAVITATION.

To Sir Isaac Newton, the discoverer of the law of gravitation, belongs the honour of having made the sublimest generalization that was ever achieved by human intellect.

STUDIO FULL OF PUSSY CATS.

AND THE MANY MIRRORS IN JAN VAN BEER'S ATELIER.

Cats and mirrors nearly fill Jan Van Beer's atelier in Paris. The wealthy artist has opened his atelier on the Champs Elysees to visitors, who are simply amazed at it.

TO TEST SEEDS.

TO DETECT ADULTERATION IN SEEDS USE THE SIEVE, WATER, AND MICROSCOPE.

To detect adulteration in seeds use the sieve, water, and microscope. Hot water dissolves powder and dirt, and washes off the colouring matter. The sieve makes the separation of the true seed from the impurities, and the microscope discovers the shape, natural indentations, protuberances, and discolorations.

THE PRIMA DONNA AS A BUSINESS-WOMAN.

The modern prima donna and the modern impresario have very definite ideas regarding the business relations that exist between them.

Naturally, it would be supposed that when the prima donna opens her mouth...

The first matter settled between manager and prima donna is the amount she is to receive for each performance...

Regarding the number of appearances in the course of a season, there is a fixed clause in the contract.

It sometimes happens that another prima donna is taken ill, and that a singer who already is booked for two performances within the week...

It is not that the artist show herself more of a business woman than in her disinclination to sing more than is good for her voice...

Where an artist is so closely identified with a role that she practically is a new creature...

To become a great prima donna requires a certain amount of self-management which is akin to sound business sense.

On these the moulted lead is poured, and another brick is placed on top, which flattens the lead out to the required size and thickness.

MORE LIVES THAN A CAT.

There is no living creature that has a heart with so much vitality as a frog.

It is generally known that a frog will survive for months after the hind legs have been removed.

When I began to learn surgery, says an eminent surgeon, I laid the various parts of the body on a slab and discovered that the frog can live within a few hours in every organ, except the heart.

HOW ARTIFICIAL TEETH ARE MADE.

Once upon a time every dentist made his own supply of false teeth, but now nearly all artificial dentures are manufactured in great factories.

With the invention of porcelain, makers were enabled to do that which they never could with the old ivory teeth, namely, to colour them to match the natural teeth.

Before the finished teeth are submitted to the keen eyes of the eye examiners for the final test they have to pass through a succession of processes.

The colouring materials used in the making of the teeth are gold and its oxides, purple of Cassius, oxide of manganese, oxide of cobalt, platinum sponge or filings, oxide of titanium, oxide of silver, and oxide of uranium.

MARSE JOHN'S OLD BLACK BILLY.

BY H. R. S.

Time had laid his hand lightly on the brow of John Farrington, and a most casual observer would mentally note that few of the clouds of life had those with silver linings.

better go powerful quick, 'kase I believe Marse John an' done gone mad awaiting foh yo'. Now, Papa John, you aren't angry, are you?"

BY AIRSHIP TO THE POLE. BY WALTER WELLMAN. Yes, I believe it is quite possible to reach the North Pole by airship.

THE ROMANCE OF JANE SHORE AND EDWARD HASTINGS. BY WARREN WELLS. Jane Shore was the daughter of Thomas Wainstead, a wealthy merchant of London.

SUCH IS LIFE. BY MAGGIE A. COX. Tom Banwick was in love—not in the old-fashioned, tragic way, but easily, lightly—with two girls at once.

VERY HURRIED. He certainly was not a graceful and accomplished cyclist. It was a sorry-sight to see him wobble along a few yards, fall down with a crash, and then pick himself up again and continue his unsteady career.

DO YOU KNOW, MADAM, THAT Ammonia painted over woodwork will darken it. Lemons will keep a long time if covered with water.

THE ROMANCE OF SWIFT AND STELLA.

In 1688, the wild, witty, satiric, young Jonathan Swift, having barely scraped through his university career at Dublin with a degree, found himself left destitute by the death of his uncle, who had hitherto provided for his education.

His mother, a charming woman, who kept herself cheerfully on £20 a year, advised him to apply to Sir William Temple, an old friend of hers who had retired from public life and lived in seclusion on his property at St. Albans.

But it is in his relation to that pathetic personality Hester Johnson better known by the name of Stella, that we now want to consider him.

TEACHING STELLA TO WRITE.

Almost at once Swift seems to have been drawn to the intelligent child, and he undertook her education, teaching her to read, and write in his intervals of leisure, and so on.

Was it perhaps the poignancy of these early recollections in after-happy years that made him pen that resolution for which he has been so reviled, "never to let a child come near me?"

But Swift's restless spirit, never settling down to any one station, could not rest in the kindly, pompous household. His writings were already making some mark; he had measured himself with the men of his time and found himself far above them.

This was contrary to his employer's desires, and as he persisted, they quarrelled and parted—he to go to a small living in Ireland, and Temple to remain alone at Moor Park in Surrey.

It was in 1710 that he was introduced to Stella, a young girl of about fifteen, who was the daughter of a friend of his.

Stella was not popular as a parson and he was ten times more lonely than when he was at Moor Park.

On his return he found the delicate child grown into a beautiful girl of fifteen; she is described in his words written on the night of her death: "She was looked upon as one of the most beautiful and graceful and agreeable young women in London, only a little too fat."

With this beautiful creature, in all the elusive charm and dexterity of finding womanhood, he thought of finding his ideal perfect friendship that he held ought to exist between the sympathetic man and woman.

After that he was darkened to him he had ever been an unhappy man; "to all men most unkindly" and his only moments of peace and quiet pleasure were those that were lightened by her smile.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE IN WEST FRONT.

Experiments which have been pursued since last autumn in wireless telephony, have solved the problem of this useful science, and the result is so simple that it is likely to create a sensation in the business world.

It was one stormy night a few weeks ago when the inventor had perfected his little receiver and set it up in his studio by the sea coast, that he sat wondering where he had better set up his sending apparatus.

Scene: Hallway of "Daily Breeze." Characters: Rustic Old Man, Fresh Hall Boy, Managing Editor.

Old Man: "Is this the office of the 'Daily Breeze'?"

Hall Boy: "Yes, sir, it is."

Old Man: "I want to see the managing editor."

Hall Boy: "I am the managing editor."

Old Man: "Why—what are you out in the hall for?"

Hall Boy: "Really, old man, that is my business, but I don't mind giving away the snap. I'm out here because it's cooler."

Old Man: "You're blooming young to have such a position."

Hall Boy: "This is getting to be a young man's country. Now, old man, what can I do for you? Speak up quick for my time is limited."

Old Man: "Writin' editorials, I suppose."

Hall Boy: "I suppose I am, but you needn't let it keep you awake. What do you want? Go'n to address the boarders?"

Old Man: "No, a bad idea, but I didn't come for that."

Hall Boy: "Well, what did you come for? Do you want to find out how to remove freckles without a knife?"

Old Man: "No I don't."

Hall Boy: "Well, maybe you've got an article on 'How to Keep Hogs to Home.'"

Old Man: "Mebbe I have. You might read it and ask for a holiday."

Hall Boy: "Don't get sassy, old man. What do you want?"

Old Man: "I want to find out why office boys are apt to be so pert as I see my son, the managing editor, is just comin' out of the office. I guess I'll ask him. Hello, son!"

Managing Editor: "Hello, father! Come inside."

Hall Boy: "Ugly Gae! I guess I'll go down in the composing room, cool off."

Ballarat Sheep Show.

The Ballarat Sheep Show was opened on Thursday under most favorable auspices, the attendance being large...

The exhibits included sheep from South Australia and New Zealand, and those of the Victorian breeders, which were very successful against the Victorian breeders of Leicester.

The show, from the point of view of quality, was a splendid one. Though the Ballarat Society has ever had a high standard, it was well up to the mark this year.

The principal exhibitor in English Leicester was Mr. D. Stewart, of Wangan, Skipton. Mr. Stewart is one of the most prominent breeders of this sheep, and his flock is drawn from the Scotch Clunes, where Mr. R. Carter is an enthusiastic breeder.

The following were the district awards: - Ewes, over 11 years - D. Stewart, Wangan, Skipton, 1 and 2. Ewe, under 11 years - D. Stewart, 2 and 3.

Fiery Creek Lodge

INSTALLATION OF BRO. W. J. BARTLEY, W.M., AND INVESTITURE OF OFFICERS.

The Installation of Bro. W. J. Bartley as Worshipful Master of the Fiery Creek Lodge of Free Masons, and the investiture of his officers, took place on Wednesday last in the Masonic Hall, in the presence of about 45 Masons, including visitors from Ararat and Learmonth.

The Grand Lodge was represented by Wor. Bro. Baird, P.J.G.W. and Wor. Bro. Sinclair, P.A.G.D.O. The ceremony of installing the W.M. in King Solomon's chair according to ancient custom, for the ensuing year, was efficiently and impressively performed by Wor. Bro. E. J. Muntz.

The address to the Master, Wardens, and brethren were delivered by Wor. Bros. Gough, Eastwood, and Green respectively. The newly installed W.M., Wor. Bro. Bartley, invested his officers in a very able manner, as follows:—Immediate Past Master, Wor. Bro. E. J. Muntz; senior warden, Bro. C. J. O. Baker; junior warden, Bro. A. L. Wotherpoon; treasurer, Wor. Bro. G. H. Cough; P.G.S., secretary, Wor. Bro. M. J. N. Brown; director of ceremonies, Wor. Bro. J. Eastwood; senior deacon, Bro. J. McE. Carroll; junior deacon, Bro. W. J. Stevenson; inner guard, Bro. A. Nicholson; chaplain, Bro. Rev. R. Yeo; Tyler, Wor. Bro. W. C. Pedder; stewards, Bros. H. Smith and T. Williams.

Before closing the Lodge, the newly installed Master said a very pleasing address to his brethren, in which he had also placed in the hall a monument in the shape of an altar, which although equalled in the State, could not be surpassed, and which when Bro. Muntz had reached the winter of his life, would remain to mark his most successful term of office. On account of the attention given to his duties, more particularly in the direction of visiting sister Lodges, the Fiery Creek Lodge's name had become familiar to every Lodge in the district, and in return many distinguished brethren had attended Fiery Creek, including M.W. Bro. Sir A. Pocock and Dr. Ball-Hughley, the past and present Grand Masters. The kindly feeling amongst the brethren of the Lodge, usually evident, had been more than ever apparent. He had very much pleasure on behalf of the Lodge in making the presentation.

Wor. Bro. Muntz thanked the W.M. for many kind things spoken, and the members of the Lodge for their kindness in making him the presentation, which he would value all his life. He had had a very pleasant term of office. The work of the Lodge had gone on splendidly, and necessarily by the case with such an enthusiastic band of P.M.'s, and a set of officers as efficient as would be found in any Lodge in the State. Any man who took a reasonable interest in the working of the Lodge could not fail to do well. Many things that had happened for the benefit of the Lodge during his term of office could be attributed to the accident of office, rather than to himself, and would really be attributed to him was done freely and with great personal pleasure. That night he retired into the ranks of P.M.'s, sometimes called obscurity, but he promised the brethren that he would still give his services. Now that he was relieved from office and had some one to keep him within due bounds, he would try and improve some things that required attention and which he had in mind. Of all things that had happened during his term he valued most of all the strong feeling of mutual kindness and brotherhood which existed among the members. One of the great aims of the institution of Freemasonry was in this direction, and he hoped that it would be continued and increasingly evident in the character of every brother in the Lodge. He regretted that his term had come to an end, and hoped that the new master would receive from the brethren the same kindly consideration extended to him. He congratulated the members on their choice of a master. Bro. Bartley had been initiated in the Fiery Creek Lodge and from the start had proved a most enthusiastic member, and from past experience he expected him to be equal if not better than his predecessor. In conclusion, he hoped that he would long continue to wear in the Lodge the jewel which had been so kindly presented to him.

SOCIAL.

The installation was afterwards celebrated by a social in the Societies' Hall, which was attended by about 65 couples. The stage had been very prettily decorated with pot plants, flowers, evergreens, art curtains, flags, etc. The beautiful decoration of the stage was done by Miss Sinclair and Mrs. Wotherpoon, assisted by Mesdames Baker and Nicholson, and several brethren of the Lodge, and the main hall was very tastefully decorated by Mr. J. Lilly, the caretaker. The flags were lent for the occasion by Messrs Snow and Co. of Ballarat, free of charge. Dancing commenced at about 9 o'clock to the exhilarating strains of Jackson's String Band, and as the music was all that could be desired, the dancing was very much enjoyed. A special item on the programme was a Masonic Lancers, the chief feature about it being that the ladies donned the regalia and wore the jewels of the brethren. The costumes of the ladies were pretty and becoming, there being many handsome dresses worn. At midnight an excellent supper was partaken of; the catering of the ladies giving unbounded satisfaction. After the W.M., Bro. W. J. Bartley, had thanked all who had assisted to make the gathering a success, particularly mentioning those ladies who had assisted with the decorations and supper, three cheers were given for them. The general opinion was that it was one of the most successful gatherings ever held by the Lodge. The arrangements for the supper were well looked after by the following ladies:—Mesdames McKelch, Harris, Breen, Eastwood, Muntz, and Miss W. Wotherpoon. Songs were rendered during the evening by Miss Jean Rorke, and Messrs J. R. and A. Wotherpoon. The gathering wound up at about 2.30 with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Wedding.

MR. ERNEST S. BUCHANAN TO MISS LILY H. McNIISH. A picturesque and interesting ceremony was conducted by the Rev. R. McGowan in the Methodist Church, Raglan, on Wednesday, Sept. 5th. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. Ernest S. Buchanan, son of Mr Wm. Buchanan, of Beaufort, to Miss Lily H. McNish, only daughter of the late Mr Geo. McNish, of Raglan. The church was prettily adorned with flowers and evergreens, the large arch, which was erected in front of the pulpit, giving a finished appearance to the decorations. This work was largely the labor of the Misses Drew, to whom great credit is due for the artistic effect with which the church was invested. Whilst the choir sang "The Voice that breathed o'er Eden," the bride entered the church leaning upon the arm of her brother, Mr T. McNish. She was attended by Miss Delia Pope (cousin) Miss Lizzie Buchanan (sister of bridegroom) as bridesmaids; Miss Aggie McNish and Miss May Ballantyne, as train-bearers, and Messrs Jacky and Percy McNish as pages. The dress was cream crepe-line, trimmed with silk insertion and lace. The bridesmaids and train-bearers apparel was of similar material, whilst the pages wore black velvet suits with white vests. The usual wreath and veil were worn, and beautiful bouquets were carried by both bride and bridesmaids.

The organist (Mrs McGowan) played the "Wedding March" as the party left the church. About fifty relations and friends partook of the wedding breakfast in the Raglan Public Hall. When the inner man had been satisfied, the Rev. McGowan, in an appropriate and graceful speech, proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom. He said that both parties came of old, respected residents, and he hoped they would enjoy long, happy, and prosperous lives. The bridegroom suitably responded. The other toasts honored were "The Bridesmaids," responded to by Mr H. J. Buchanan; "The Parents," responded to by Mr T. McNish and Mr W. Buchanan, supported by Mr T. Stevenson. Lovers of dancing were afforded ample opportunity of indulging their taste at the evening party given by Mrs. McNish in honor of the occasion. Although the weather was somewhat unfavorable, the district, and a large gathering resulted. Splendid music was provided by Miss S. and Mr R. Jackson, of Beaufort. During the evening, Mr. Sinclair, in a humorous speech, congratulated the happy couple, and wished them all sorts of good things, his call for three cheers met with an echo-awaking response. The bridegroom briefly returned thanks. Musical items, which added greatly to the pleasure of the gathering, were interspersed throughout the evening. Mr and Mrs E. S. Buchanan journeyed by the morning express to Melbourne and Castlemaine, where the honeymoon was spent.

The presents received were numerous and handsome, and included the following:—Bridegroom: mother of bride, photo, engravings; father of bridegroom, cheque; Messrs T. and A. McNish, clock; Mr and Mrs G. McNish, wine set; Mr and Mrs J. McGowan, Bible; Mr and Mrs J. Murray and family, case of handsome fruit knives and forks; Mr A. and Miss J. A STORY FOR WEARY AND Downcast Sufferers.

The Case of Mrs. C. RUSSELL.

(By a Melbourne Reporter.)

This is the story that many a weary and downcast mortal will read with interest...

"For years I had been ailing from various distressing complaints, and I was singularly unfortunate in not being able to get anything to do me good."

"More than likely," asserted the writer, "But what were your troubles mainly composed of?"

"Well, I can say in all sincerity that ever since I was born I have been ailing from various ailments."

QUITE A LIFETIME.

For 35 years "BONNINGTON'S IRISH MOSS" has held premier place as a Cough Remedy.

A STRANGE SIGHT AT SEA.

It has frequently been observed that a row of penguins standing on the seashore have a remarkable resemblance to a regiment of British soldiers.

CONTENTMENT IS HAPPINESS.

There is a moral lesson for us all in the following:—Terrance, a good-natured, powerful Irishman, was one of a number of workmen employed in erecting a new building.

HOW ANIMALS BEAR PAIN.

One of the most pathetic things in the manner in which the animal kingdom endures suffering, is the case of the horse.

THE DISCOVERY OF COFFEE.

Towards the middle of the 15th century, a poor Arab was travelling through Abyssinia, and finding himself weak and weary from fatigue.

He: "They have dropped their anchor."

In every person who comes near you, look for what is good and strong; honor that which is good, and as you can, try to imitate it.

The Man Who Doesn't Advertise

Breathes there a man with soul so dead, That to himself he hath not said, "My trade of late is getting bad, I'll try to get a better trade."

To such a man the noisy din Of traffic may not enter in, For bargains he makes by the score, Shall pass not heed his open door.

The man who never asks for trade By local line or ad. displayed, Is more for rest than worldly gain, And patronage but gives him pain.

And when he dies, go plant him deep (That night may break his dreamless sleep, Where no rude clamor may dispel The quiet that he loved so well)

Give your order for J.P. FRITTING to the newspaper in your district, because it prints thousands of reports and notices for those who receive no payment whatever.

TRANSVAAL CONSTITUTION.

The shame of a Majuba Hill. Lies heavy on our line. But here is shame complete still, And England makes no sign.

At a great price you loosed the yoke 'Neath which our brethren lay— (Your dead that perished ere 'twas broke)

Back to the ancient bitterness. You ended once for all— Back to oppression none can guess

What is their sin that they are made? 'Tis in their sin—their old betrayed—

But we—what god shall turn our doom? What blessing dare we claim—

Now, even now, before men learn How now we broke our trust,

The tallest "skyscraper" in New York will soon be dwarfed by the erection of a giant structure of 100 stories or more.
