ALLEGED CRUELTY TO HORSE.
Senior-constable Ellis proceeded against Wm. Dickman, junr., on a charge of being, on 23rd July, the driver of a horse and waggon on the Waterloo road, when he used such horse under circumstances which involved cruelty.

Defendant pleaded guilty to driving a horse with sore shoulders.

Senior-constable Ellis, sworn, stated that on the 23rd July, at about five in the afternoon, he saw two horses in a waggon on the Waterloo road, near Beaufort. Witness examined the horses, and he admitted that it was his team, and that he was driving it. Witness examined the horses' shoulders as on its off shoulder—a raw sore shoulder-s and the horse in the shifts had a sore on its off shoulder—a raw sore shoulder-s.

witness examined the horses' shoulders, and the horse in the shafts had a sore on its off shoulder—a raw sore about the size of the bottom of a small saucer. There was a smaller sore lower down on the horse's neck. The one on the shoulder seemed very painful, as every time witness went to raise the collar, the horse flinched and kept tossing its head about. He asked defendant how long he had been using it, and Dickman said he bought it three or four menths ago from a man named Hutton, that the shoulder was worse then than now, and that he had been trying to cure the shoulder and had been trying to cure the shoulder. Witness told defendant that it was the second time he had warned him, and defendant said he would stop carting. Witness replied that there was no need to do that, but he must not drive a horse with a sore shoulder. Witness took defendant to the railway station with the team for Constable Evans to see it. He then told defendant to take the horse home. There was "chambering" in the collar, but it was pressed fight on the horse's sore. The P.M. said the application would be struck out. If applicant were merely carrying from the consignor to the railway, he was a carrier. Probably it would be a good idea to have something done to get an alteration in the legislation. Now there were no personal licenses to drivers as in the digging days. Supt. Nicholson said they could test it in this case.

Motor Cyclist Fined.

Henry Thos. Senior-constable Ellis gave evidence that on the evening of 19th July, at about five minutes to six, he was standing in Havelock street near the public library. He saw a horse harnessed to a gig with a woman in it gallop, along Neill street in a westerly direction. The horse went dowa Livingstone street and turned towerds the railway station, but was pulled up a little further on At the same time as the horse bolted, he saw a man riding in the same direction.

He had been going to fine him £2, but was taking his position into consideration. CRUNK WHEN IN CHARGE OF VEHICLE. Senior-constable Ellis charged Lachlan Grant with being drunk while in charge of a horse and gig at Beaufort on 27th July, at about 5.30, he saw defendant on the Park road, Beaufort, near Schlicht's store. Grant was very drunk and noisy. He had been going to fine him £2, but was taking his position into consideration.

The many friends of Constable J. and Mrs McDougall, of Buangor, will regret to learn that they suffered a sad bereavement on Wednesday in the death of their son, John Alexander, a bright lad nine and a half years of age. The sufferer was brought into the Ararat Hospital on Monday evening, when it was found that he was suffering from laryngitis. goals 4 behinds. In the third term the game was again very much like a rough scramble. In ten minutes the teams were on even terms, and thereafter Waubra got busy. Singles and "sixers" came in quick succession, and by three-quarter time the visitors had the substantial lead of 12 points. In the first, second, and third terms, Davis, Martinez and L. Stevenson occasionally did good work for Beaufort, and Percy Stevenson, as usual, was a reliable full back man. Wallish, Haebieh, King, Hay, Muntz (2), Norman, and Miles were Beaufort's foremost players; and F.

Bourke, and Fisher rendered yeoman service for Wauhrs. The scores at the end of the third term were: —Wauhrs, 5 goals a behind; Beaufort allied early in the closing quarter and played better football. Bloorly after the bounce, E. Muntz notched a behind; Wallish giving him the scoring, but Miles (who had been doing time work throughout) came to Beaufort's rescue with a magnificent mark. Halpin, in the scoring, but Miles (who had been doing time work throughout) came to Beaufort's rescue with a magnificent mark. Halpin, in the scoring and the string with a lightning-like dash, penetrated a strong Beaufort attack, which was repulsed by the Wauhrs backs. The visitors, with a lightning-like dash, penetrated a strong Beaufort's territory, but Miles again distinguished himself by thwarting their efforts. A free kick to Hay, and the leather was again close to Beaufort's goal, where it was bounced owing to rough play. With a linky kick off the ground, Bob Simpkin relieved the pressure, and washer and sent it to Hay. It sped onward to Nicholson, and out of bounds near goal. After the throw-in, J. McDonald markad half-forward and sent the ball close to the sticks, where Harry Norman secured it and registered a goal. Wauhra was now only six points in the lead, and the game was becoming exciting. Soon fater, Wauhra observed the pressure, and of the game was becoming exciting. SHIRE ELECTION MEETING. The assertion is sometimes made that the public take little or no interest i municipal affairs, but judging by the attendance at local meetings during the week State questions have to play second fiddle to "parish-pump politics" in at least one town in Victoria. On Tuesday night Mr S. Young, the reform candidate for a North Riding seat in the Ripon Shire Council, addressed a meeting. Mr J. George, who presided, referred to Mr Young as a good townsman, a good "sport," and a straight, true man in his profession. No one could say anything against Cr. Beggs personally. Mr Young spoke for about half-an-hour on similar lines to his opening speech at Middle Creek (reported in NORTH RIDING, SHIRE OF RIPON.

which had only 19 votes. These men desired to see Beaufort go forward, and he was proud to have their support. He asked no more for the soldier than a fair deal, and would give every man a fair deal whether he were rich or poor. In concluding his address, the candidate said he had stated his case publicly. He wished to see progress, for it meant that they would all progress. The same me their sup-votes that were polled against the late on 25th inst. Mr W. C. Thomas when he had a mill in Beaufort would be polled against them now. That vote had put in the late Admiral Bridges against a man who was a great man for the town and gave much employment. He urged them to think well over what he had said, and to vote one way or the other. If they did not leave any votes unrecorded, he would be satisfied. (Loud and long conwould be satisfied. (Loud and long continued applause). The chairman thanked them for the fair and patient hearing given Mr Young, for which he forgot to ask them, as he thought there would be trouble. He urged the Beaufort people to return Mr Young with the same majority as Middle Creek people returned Cr. McDonald. Mr A. H. Sands (who made complimentary reference to make complimentary reference to make the continued of the continued applause). turned Cr. McDonald. Mr A. H. Sands (who made complimentary reference to the candidate, and said that as the result of Mr Young's work they had 91 returned soldiers settled on Trawalla to-day) moved a vote of confidence in Mr Young. This was seconded by Mr H. Buchanan, supported by Mr J. B. Cochran (who claimed to be the oldest ratepayer in the district) and Mr D. Troy (who said Mr Young got nothing out of the Trawalla movement—not even a block—and would get nothing out of the council,

Perhaps in three years' time, if he were elected, they might say he had not carried out his promises. He might not be able to carry them out, but he would endeavor to do so. If he were elected, and other men came forward at subsequent elections with the same views, they should see to it that they put them in, too, so that he would have some support, be-
