Lancey secretary, and Misses Cuthbertson, Grant, Drew, and Messre I. Grant, and J. Wilkinson as members of committee. There were if persons present. An invitation to join a district association was not accepted, owing to the inability of the olub to get ready in time. No doubt before long the club will make an effort to form a court. In the mean-time, it has been invited to use the Misses Drew's court. Some farmers have started hay-curting. There are some good crops in the neighbourhood, though some of them are patchy. The Carngham Church has a past, which should be an inspiration to those carry-ing on the work. Experience, testimony, and records bear witness that its elders and managers were men of faith, men of prayer, and men of practical piety, and special reference was made to the interest taken in the cause from the outset by the late Hon. Philip Russell, and how, some 28 years ago, he presented to the locality and to Philip Russell, and how, some 28 years ago, he presented to the locality and to the Presbyterian Church of Victoria, one of the most handsome country charches in the State, a shurch which cost £10,000. He also built a manse costing £1200, and left to each of the three local churches a legacy of £1000 for the maintenance of public worship. Reference was made also to the church's indebtedness to its Snulay School

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

While in London on a holiday, a visitor went to have a look at the Thames There was a steam shovel at work out in the river, and he was standing watching it.

Suddenly he felt a tap on his shoulder, and turned round to find a Londoner standing behind him.

The visitor felt that he wanted someone to talk to, so he opened up the conversation. "London is a wonderful place," he usserted.

"You're roight about that, mate," replied the Londoner.
