THE MAN-EATING PANTHER. -----

A man-eating tiger is supremely bad; but a man-eating panther, bardened in, is superlativel worse. A really bad man-cating par ther has been known to make way into a hut and kill every one of the inputes on exactly the same minute as a for in a chicken-ruy Finally the beast will teach his troteny to follow in his own wicked ways and unless the whole line is extirpated, a district may continue indefinitely to suffer wholesale deprehations, involving the loss of hundreds of lives.

THEFTS THAT AMAZE.

When two men were fined at Atherstone, in Warwickshire, for stealing the ring from the nose of a bull, it was stated that such a charge was achieve in the annals o

But during recent years there have been some amoning in tances in which men have stolen articles for which they could have no possible

One man was found in possession of a coffin he had stolen, but as the notice could not trace the owner the man was not prosecuted.

It requires audacity that is little short of sublime to steal a houseful of furniture in broad davlight. Ye this is what happened to the late Mr. Wilson Barrett, the actor, some years ago. The author of "The Sign of the Cross' was on tour in the provinces, and his London house was left in charge of a housekeeper. One day some men drove up with a pantechnicon, and the "foreman" presented to the housekeeper a note which she had no doubt was in Mr. Barrett's handwriting. It gave her instructions to allow the men to remove the whole of the furniture to a depository, and added that I (Mr. Barrett) would explain all when he returned from tour on the f lowing Sunday. Acting in good faith, she allowed pictures which the actor-manager her gathered from various parts of th world They did it right under the eves of the police, and Mr. Barrett returned to an empty house. No receiver of stolen property would be bold enough to purchase from a thief such a thing as a fire-engine. Yet one was stolen some time ago from a village near Birmingham.

The local rulers of the community were sharply divided as to whether a new fire-engine should be purchased or not. The "nots" won the day after a heated debate, and about a week afterwards the official fire-engine was missing. The matter was placed in the hands of the police, search was made high and low, but the mystery was never solved. The council had to purchase a new engine, and to this day it is believed that the thief was one of the councillors in favour of its purchase. But proof is still lack-The theft of a grocer's shop and

WHAT DOES SPENDING COST ?

How much does it cost you to spend £100 ? The answer is £100 down, and at least £4 per annum for the rest of your life. Yet what man would knowingly spend £100 that put him under obligation to pay £4 per year for life. None, perhaps, but many do it unconsciously when they spend money that might otherwise have earned interest at 4 per cent. indefinitely

Every pound you spend has attached to it an invisible string of pennies which you spend with it. Keep your money in a Savings Account and earn, not spend, 4 per cent, interest per annum.

librarian was very upset at the report of the last committee meeting with reference to a statement by a member of the committee that he ad found a book that was "planted," and asked him if Mr Parker was the member referred He said he was not. She a mitted that she had kept books for members, and when he told her that her instructions were that she must not do so, she said that she must, or the Institute would lose members, adding that she did not know an Institute in which it was not done. He told her that the committee's instructions were that the books were to be placed on the shelves when they came in, and as far as the subscribers were concerned, it was to be first come, arst served. Miss McNaughton then said if that was the case, she could not carry on. The secretary told her the committee must deside the committee of the committee of the termine of termine of the termine of termin first served. Miss McNaughton then the committee must decide that. The chairman said if he asked for a book when it came in and somebody else when it came in and somebody else wanted it in the meantime, and it That came back earlier than anticipated, it would leave a loophole for holding the book back. He highly commended the excellent services of the librarian, and stated that he had travelled from one end of Victoria to the other, and had never seen a better kept library. Where would they get another wo-'man who would tip cues and brush the billiard tables for them? If they lost Miss McNaughton as librarian, they would lose 50 per cent. of their subscribers. Even if they only lost five subscribers, it would be very hard to make them up. Mr Ashley thought a great deal of the difficulty would be got over if a list of new books was regularly published. The secretary said that Mr Parker was not to blame for that, as either the librarian or he had forgotten to send the lists to him to publish. The secretary was instructed to post a list of new was instructed to post a list of new books in the library. As there was only a bare quorum present, and the president was absent, it was consider-ed advisable to postpone the discus-sion until next meeting; the opinion being expressed that all subscribers should have an equal right to obtain new books through a selection from the shelves, and that any complaints, either by the librarian or subaribora either by the librarian or subscribers, should be sent to the committee in Protect them against many writing. BOWLS.

The color competition between the Reds and Blues of the Beaufort Bowling Club is exciting a good deal of interest. During the past week the Reds turned the Blues' majority of 26 to a minority of 5; and on Saturday in a 4-rink match the Reds were 33 up-88 to 55, and therefore increased their majority to 38.

On Tuesday night the Reds were 20 up, and increased their lead from 88 to 58, by scoring 73 to 53 in a 4rink match. The contest was very keen in three rinks, two being equal and the Blues winning by one point in another; but Halpin's rink was 21 up-30 to 9-and gave the Reds their majority.

Mr Wotherspoon, the president, exhibited Mr C. Campbell's silver cup. and urged members to compete for it in a singles handicap. The cup is now on view in Messrs J. R. Wotherspoon and Co's. shop window.

On Saturday, 5th April, handicap pairs will be played for the president's trophy. The final match between the Reds and Blues took place on Thursday night, and was keenly contested; the Reds scoring 40 in thursday Reds scoring 40 in three rinks and a pair against 37 by the Blues, and winning by 3 points. With the previous majority of 58, the Reds there-fore won the competition by 61 points. Mr Laird, the leader of the Blues, congratulated the Reds on their vic-tory. and Mr Harris, the leader of the Reds, responded. Cheers were given for both teams and their lead-Handicap singles will be played to-day (Saturday) for Mr C. Camp-bell's silver cup.

Workers! Think of the Profits! Then deal with the Profiteer!

Now Compare THESE FIGURES The Victorian Year Book shows the number of men employed for every £1,000,000 of output in the following industries: Aerated Waters 1062 employees Agricultural Implements . . . Bootmaking, etc., 1924 Confectionery 1170 Clothing 2445

Brewing only 462

For an output of £2,605,204, Victorian Breweries employed only 1169 people.

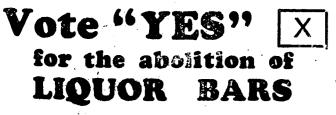

In the other industries shown above, from 2,500 to 6,000 would have been engaged in each case.

Enormous Increase in Employment when Breweries change to Factories

In U.S.A. workers got tired of earning big profits for brewers, so dozens of Breweries have been changed into Factories. Here are three of them:

Name of Brewery "Rainier" "Pacific Coast"	Workers Employed As Brewery	Werkers Employed as Fastory
"Rainier"	156	1,600
"Pacific Coast"	123	2,500
"Portland"	100	600

This Policy meant 4,321 more jobs ! Try and imagine how much more pay ! Now what has become of the "unemployment" bogey ?

Public Opinion upon the Question of Prohibition. Citizens should note this :

that Official Liquor Propagandists are seek-ing to mislead Voters by suggesting that the approaching Poll is a Pschibition Poll:

Let it be Clearly Understood: That although Prohibition is splendidly effective in grappling with and destroying many of the evils created by the legalised liquor traffic. vet

the immediate objective in Victoria is not Prohibition, but the Abolition of Liquor Licences!

Shakespeare Was Right:

The immortal bard said: "How oft the sight of means to do ill deeds, makes ill deeds done" Even so, the incessant invitation and incitement to drink, provided by the open bar, leads to much foolish and wasteful drinking.

attributes serious tooth and gum disorders

Widespread dental discoveries in the care of teeth and gums have recently been made.

Tooth and gum troubles were found to come largely from a film coat that forms on teeth, absorbs food discolourations and breeds bacteria

Run your tongue across your teeth and ou'll feel a slippery coating. That is film. Old-type dentifrices won't successfully combat it. That's why your teeth now re-main "off-colour" regardless of what you

Now, in a new-type dentifrice called Pepsodent, those conditions have been met -you can clear that film off. Teeth whiten amazingly. One's whole appearance thus is often quickly changed.
