WEDDING BELLS

NUGENT - ROXBURGH.

A quiet, but pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lexton, on Saturday, 20th June, when Hazel Joyce. youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs R. Roxburgh, of Lexton, was married to William Michael, younger son of Mr and Mrs M. Nugent, of Dougall, of Beaufort, and Miss June Sandlant presided at the organ.

The bride, who was given away by her father, were a dainty gown of white net over taffeta; the tucked bodice had a square neck-line caught on either side by a spray of orange blossom, and the skirt was very full. An embroidered veil (lent by Mrs C. McErvale) was held in place by a topknot of white flowers. A white net must, to which was pinned a dainty spray of orchids, carnations and fern, completed a charming ensemble.

The bride's sister, Mrs R. Giles. was matron of honour, wearing a pink taffeta frock. The bodice softly rucked in front, was allied to a full skirt, which had tiny pocpresident presented the secretary kets trimmed with flowers. # BEAUFORT AND DISTRICT PRISONERS OF WAR FUND, ANNUAL REPORT.

In presenting the Statement of Receipts and Expenditure for the first twelve months of the Beaufort and District Prisoners of War Fund, I am pleased to be able to say the public of Beaufort and District have been most generous in their support.

The grand total of £777/9/6 has been raised, of which £713 12/1 has been handed to the Prisoners of War Headquarters in Melbourne, leaving a credit balance on hand of £61/16/8.

Our only expenses were for printing and stationery, amounting to £2/0/9, which shows the Committee were particularly careful to avoid unnecessary expense.

We take this opportunity of thanking all individual donors, whether in cash or kind, as well as all Clubs, Societies, and Public Bodies, who have given their support.

It is hardly necessary to bring under your notice the urgent nced that still exists to help those unfortunate men who cannot help themselves, and we appeal to you again to give your generous support for the coming 12 months.

The Opportunity Shop, recently opened on May 8th, has been the means of raising £125/5/8, or over £8 per week. This, in addition to the £64/4/ raised by the Beaufort Red Cross ladies, is our best means of revenue, and we would welcome help from everyone to assist in stocking this shop with any kind of saleable goods, eithgr new or secondhand, and our best thanks is due to the ladies who have so ably conducted and stocked this shop.

We have assurances from headquarters of the Prisoners of War Fund that the parcels sent by them are reaching our men in the Prison Camps, and they have numerous letters from the men expressing their appreciation of the parcels received.

We leave it to you to give us the support necessary to help our brave men, who have risked their lives, and are now suffering harddis: ships for us.

H. V. MARTIN, Hon. Secy. Beaufort and District Prisoners of War Fund.

EATING FOR HEALTH.

GOLDEN RULES.

(By Dr. A. G. Scholes, Organiser National Fitness Council of Victoria, 58 William Street, Melbourne, C.1.)

A successful athlete who earned the respect of his rivals once gave the following formula for success:

Well balanced meals in moderduring the day.

Digestive processes begin when son. food is taken into the mouth, where it is ground up by the teeth and mixed with the saliva. In the stomach food is mixed with the gastric juice and churned by muscular action until it is properly prepared to enter the small intestine.

WHAT CAUSES CONSTIPATION? This common trouble is due to insufficient bulk in food causing the intestines to become lazy, hasty eating, irregular meals, insufficient fluid at the right times, weak abdominal muscles. Correct faulty conditions of diet and other irregularities, including exercise and you will strengthen the muscles and improve your condition. Aim to control your elimination by food, water, and regular habits, instead of by medicine.

Fruit and vegetables are of the first mentioned):utmost importance to the human system. They contain not only vitamins but mineral salts, whilst the fibre acts as roughage, on which the internal muscles act in ensuring correct and regular elimination. Thus the internal muscles can be developed, and there is no need to depend on laxatives. Apart from cooked foods, fresh fruit and vegetables, should be eaten daily.

Apples are particularly important. They contain lime for building teeth and bones, phosphorous, a brain and nerve tonic; sugar in its natural form, for energy, and another element known as malic acid, considered one of the best digestive aids. Further, the bulk or fibre of the apple is not digested in the stomach but passed into the organs of elimination, thus ensuring internal cleanliness. Thus the eating of an apple or a piece of an apple after; every meal and last thing at night. teeth and provides the body with nutrition and health elements.
