Emerson, whose well-directed energy and enthusiasm were clearly manifest in the methodical and capable way in which he organised the show and carried out the secretarial duties. He has long been recognised for his excellent qualities as a sportsman, and has now shown that he is a first-class organiser as well. He had the hearty co-operation of the highly-esteemed president (Mr W. Lynch), and being able to arouse the interest of the younger generation in the show, a hardworking team of young and enthusiastic farmers, as well as that loyal band of veterans, who have carried on the society for many years. During a recent egg appeal for the Ballarat Base Hospital, the Lake Goldsmith school children collected and

Waterloo and Chute

considered it was a great success.

It is learned with regret that Mr and Mrs Packham are at present not in the best of health. A speedy recovery is hoped for. Several locals were seen in action in the show ring at Beaufort, with mixed success.

Messrs. Chas. Vowles and N. Smith have returned to their accustomed occupations after many weeks away in the shearing sheds. Mr Vowles has been kept very busy since his return, in preparing and shoeing show horses. Many of the ponies tested his ability as a farrier, but he survived all tests with flying colours, although the walls of his shop show many marks of flying heels.

The grass is fast changing colour and water quickly drying up. The matter of water supply appears as though it will be a serious one before long.

Geoff. Foreman had the misfortune to fall and have his groin punctured by a spike. Medical aid had to be secured. and friends are pleased that he is progressing satisfactorily.

Helen Smith had the ill luck to badly gash her foot on some broken glass.
