COUNTRY WOMEN

BEAUFORT GROUP CONFERENCE AT BURRUMBEET.

The complete and excellent preparations made by the members of the Burrumbeet branch of the Country Women's Associ-ation, with a total membership of only 16 (writes the Ararat Mrs G. Advertiser"), was a revelation to the 70 odd country women who attended the Beaufort women Group conference in the Burrumbeet hall recently.

Mrs McLean (group president) was in the chair. Beaufort moved that a request be sent to the Australian Broad. casting Commission, asking for the inclusion regularly of ; verse or poetry session in their programme. This was seconded by Miss Alma Kirkpatrick, of Beaufort, who spoke strongly of the desirability of regular read. and carried a bouquet of pansier ings of classical and modern poetry and drama. Mrs Banfield (Ararat) and the group president both supported Beaufort's motion, which was carried.

Mrs Campbell (president of the Beaufort branch) spoke very feelingly of the physical and psych. ological danger which the world faced since the first issue of the atomic bomb, and moved that the CWA discuss the question of the control of the atomic bomb. Mrs Hinsch (Beaufort) second ed the motion, but as severa' speakers thought that this great international problem hardl-came within the scope of the CWA, it was decided that delegates should refer the matter back to their own branches.

A third resolution submitted by Beaufort that the names of branch secretaries should be in cluded in the annual State rcport. was carried unanimously Mrs McDonald (Skipton) spon ored Skipton's resolution that the State Scholarship (CWA) should be awarded as a result of a written competitive examina-The group president pointer out the difficulties of setting written examination for candi dates of different ages and sub jects and said that the modern

The motion was defeated. The Group President then ler G. Beggs scholarship, to be aw. heifers, Mr D. R. arded in 1947. It was decided or the proposition of Mrs Campbel and Mrs Hinseh (Beaufort) that cows, Messrs. H. K. and M. Skipton re ported that their branch had not yet decided what amount they were prepared to give, as their members had not clearly understood the terms of the scholar

After a number of those pres ent had spoken on the possibili ties of making a bursary a yearly one and of the practicability of awarding the full amount of the bursary to the candidate of of splitting up the amount, it was finally decided that the disbursing of the money availablhe left to the discretion of the se lection committee. Mrs. McLear said that entry forms would b prepared and available by Sep.

The proposal for a group exhibition and inter-branch compe tition on the lines of that held at Beaufort in 1940 was referred to the branches.

OBITUARY

FUNERAL OF MR. CHARLES LEWIS.

The remains of the late M1 Charles Lewis, of Beaufort (and formerly of Stoneleigh and Warra pingo), were laid to rest in the family grave in the Beaufort Ce. metery on Saturday afternoon; the funeral being attended by many old friends and representatives of pastoral and business interests. The coffin-bearers were Messrs. B. Neil, Tom and Jaci Whelan, H. Johnston, T. Lewis and Grosse. The chief mourners were Mrs Lynn Hamilton Lewis (wife), Mrs Hamilton (daughter) Miss E. Lewis (sister), Mr H Bremner Lewis (brother) and Major P. Russell (cousin).
Many beautiful floral tributes of sympathy covered the coffin, including wreaths from a number of local organisations, and a lovely bunch of flowers from the garder at Stoneleigh Estate, sent in b Mr Anthony Barber, and dropper into the grave on top of the cas ket by Mrs Lynn Hamilton Lewis Services were conducted at St. Barnes & Son, of Ballarat and Beaufort, carried out the funera' arrangements.

ADVENTURES WITH TIGERS How would you like to lie al night in the jungle, waiting for a man-eating tiger which had al ready accounted for nearly a score of victims? That is the kind of sport which appeals immensel to Arthur J. King, an Australia: mining expert, who has writte: an account of his Malayan ad ventures for this months "Aus trallan Journal." Mr King's ex ploits with the rifle have carned him the nickname of "Tiger King," but he writes as well as he shoots, and gives an enter taining and thrilling description of this most exciting form (big game hunting. Other Austra lian authors help to bring the September Journal well up to standard, both for the quality and the variety of its fiction This month the magazine celebrates its 81st birthday, but de spite eight decades, its popular ity is greater than ever, whilewhat is more surprising in these days-the price remains at six

CLAIRE MITCHELL TO CONDUCT NEW NATIONAL WOMEN'S SESSION

CLAIRE MITCHELL, formerly Food Preservation Instructor for the N.S.W. Department of Agriculture, has been appointed organiser and compere of the A.B.C. Women's Session — a newly-created position. The programme will be heard in five states.

Women's Session — a newly-created position. The programme will be heard in five States. Miss Claire Mitchell was born in West Maitland, While her parents were in India, she attended a boarding-school in Bathurst, and then became a student at St. Gabriel's College, Waverley, After leaving school she went to the East Sydney Technical College for four years, where she received her Diploma of Home (Economics; friezes for kindergarten, Once an from there she attended Sydney enthusiastic participant in amateur Teachers' Training College.

County Council. While working there she conducted each day for five years a "Banish Drudgery" session for a commercial station. During the war, in January 1942, when teachers were urgently needed, she resigned from the council to take up teaching again. Then, after two years, she was offered the position of Food Preservation Instructor for the N.S.W. Department of Agriculture, which she accepted. This job entailed travelling all over the state to lecture on food preserving. She comments: Although city and country women ead such different lives, I have ound that generally they are inrested in the same things."

Although she enjoyed working for the Department of Agriculture, Miss Mitchell says that she has always been attracted to radio. "I believe that women appreciate help, and in radio one can be in touch with so many women!"

At present the A.B.C. Women's Session is devoted each day to a different subject. Miss Mitchell would like to vary the programme so that each day there will be some-MISS CLAIRE MITCHELL thing to interest everyone. She will conduct the session from Sydney, but she says that the best of the material from other states will be incorrected in the new session. be incorporated in the new session. She is specially interested in cooking, and would like to help to evolve a national cookery for Australia.

A voracious reader, Miss Mit-chell likes all types of books from political history to murder stories. She is also interested in travel books. In her spare time she helps Teachers' Training College.

Miss Mitchell began her career plays while teaching in the country.

She says that now that she is and then branched out as cookery stationed in Sydney she would like demonstrator with the Sydney to revive this interest.

HIS is the extent to which Australian primary producers have Under Labor's policy of assured markets and payable prices, returns to primary producers are now about £40,000,000 a year higher than before the War. As a direct result of the same policy, bank indebtedness of primary producers has been reduced by £60,000,000.

These are REAL and vast benefits, arising from government by men who do not promise more than they can fulfil, but who honor every promise made. Woolgrowers, wheat farmers - all primary producers - have prospered under Labor's administration. See that prosperity continues — don't trade a Labor background of deeds and pledges fulfilled for a Liberal-Country Party programme of extravagant promises and a record of broken undertakings.

Here are vital points to be remembered:

• The Labor Government abolished the Bank Board, destroyed the power of the private banks. Prime Minister Chifley will not hesitate to use the powers under the new Commonwealth Bank Act to finance primary producers should the need arise.

• Labor, when returned again to power, will carry further its policy of stabilisation of all primary industries, guaranteed prices, assured markets.

• Under the same leadership of J. B. Chifley, Australia has avoided the disastrous inflation which has caused untold hardship and loss in the United States and other countries. There will be no mad inflation in Australia while Prime Minister Chiffey is in control. Labor asks to be allowed to carry through the job it has started. It asks you to accept its

SCHOOL SPORT. On Thursday, 20th Sept., the senior boys and girls of the Buangor, Raglan, and Middle Creek schools once more visited Beaufort to play basket ball and football against the Beaufort Primary School children. The weather was delightful, and gave added zest to the games. The visitors won the football by 8-2 to 5-6.

THE LOVELY DUCHESS OF DEVONSHIRE

Thirty years ago, an American criminal named Adam Worth staged a spectacular and amazing robbery! Cutting his way through the walls of a famous British art-dealer's establishment, he stole from its frame, the picture of the lovely Duchess of Devonshire, which had been sold for fifty thousand dollars. It was not that he wanted the picture for art's sake. Mr Worth, had a friend who was at tha time languishing in gaol. He could be released on a bail o two thousand pounds, and once the picture was in his hands. Worth wrote to the proprietor ea Instead, they ignored the note. and Worth sailed for America with the painting deposited at the bottom of his trunk. The New York art dealr's, Agnew's later, Mr Worth's friend was re- committee. leased. Immediattly he went to New York and announced that it Mr Worth was released, he would return the Devonshire portrait. He was put on the next boat for goal. A week later, he shuffled in groups of children, rather than to Agnew's, and deposited a roll stand up and teach. The lectured-up parcel on the counter Then he quickly disappeared.

THE COURAGEOUS SIX HUNDRED

Almost one hundred years ago six hundred and seventy Britisn soldiers charged the whole Russian Army at Balaclava, in the Crimean War. For someone had blundered—one of the most futile blunders in warfare. Lord Cardigan, who led the Light Brigades, left a statement after his death that gave the story of the famous; but futile charge. Lord Lucan transmitting the orders from Lord Ragian, directed the Light Brigade to attack the Russians in the battery. Cardigan pointed increased prices to be paid by out that there was a battery in the British Government for meat front, a battery on each flank, and the ground was covered by mencing 1st October next, should the Russian riflemen. But Lord be withheld from meat pro- Lucan only reiterated the statement that Lord Raglan's positive order was for the Light Brigade to attack the enemy. To disobey would mean mutiny, dishonor and death, and so the charge was made, and the price was paid Afterwards there was a shocked Australian meat producers outcry, and a decision to find the should receive the full amount reason for the blunder.
