SCHOOL PLAY.

Ballarat Queen's C.E.G.G.S. girls staged the play, "The Ivory Door" and two Beaufort girls are mentioned in the "Courier" report. This states that the boy, Prince Perivale, was played by the only junior in the caste, Pamela Stowell, who entered well and naturally into the spirit of

Barbara Skene as Old Beppo, with excellent make-up. GRAMMAR SCHOOL BOY'S

On Aug. 24 Ballarat Grammar School Dramatic Club gave a performance of Shaw's play, "The Apple Cart." There was, states the "Courier" report, some effective doubling by J. D. Stowell (Reaufort) He sketched Some effective doubling by J. D. Stowell (Beaufort). He sketched a neat portrait of Nicobar, Foreign Secretary, and did not forget to add lifelike touches, even when not speaking. As Orintha, he had a speedy and complete change of character, and extracted the maximum effect from the difficult scene he had to play with King Magnus.

WATERLOO AND CHUTE

SEASONAL NOTES.

Very dry conditions have set here and in many other parts of Victoria, and with the heavy frosts the grass has gone off very much; but with rain in the future (there have been showers since time of writing), conditions could be restored. Many shorn sheep are to seen in the district; a number of landowners being earlier than other years with their shearing. This may be to get an early sale of wool while prices are good. If rough weather had

SHEARING STARTED. Shearing has started in some necessary owing t scarcity of shearers later in th season, but operations will 1 be general till the middle of the month. Owing to the exception ally dry season to date, some ewes rearing lambs, and weaners are losing condition where hand feeding has not been re-sorted to. Water both for stock and domestic purposes is also a unless a goo a low level, and fall of rain is experienced in the near future, the outlook will b serious. Crops, in most cases, al though backward, are holding out well, but here, too, a good fall of rain is needed to assure like a normal the Ararat Shire Council on 9th September, Cr. Heard said it was with great pleasure he offered the hand of welcome to the new councillors — Crs. Pickford and Weatherley. He sincerely regret ted the loss of ex-Crs. Brebner and Doery, but although they and the Council had suffered a loss; it had at the same time gained something in the new councillors. He also sincerely welcomed Crs. McDonald and Leyonhielm back to the Council table. Crs. Laidlaw, King, Phillips and Vanstan supported Cr. Heard's remarks, and Crs. Pickford, Leyonhielm, Weatherly and McDonald suitably responded. — Ararat "Advertiser."

COUNCIL WITH CHAIR.

EARLES.

The death took place in Melbourne on Friday, 9th Sept., of Miss Emily Earles, a very old and respected resident of Skipton. Miss Earles was born in Skipton 84 years ago, and carried on business in the general store now owned by Mr Alan McDonald, who bought the business about eight years ago, when Miss Earles very reluctantly decided to retire and live with her sisters in Melbourne. Miss Earles always led a very active life. Apart from her business ætivities she was keenly interested in golf and tennis, and took part in these two sports until an advanced age. She was Men Melbourne and Mr J. Stephens divided 2. Section 2 — Mrs W. Gillingham, 1: Mrs E. Day, 2.

Just when conditions seemed too dry splendid rains fell, and too dry splendid rains fell, and changed the outlook altogether; Chute having about 2½ inches and Waterloo very little less. The fall was widespread, as Mt. Lonarch had 2½ inches and Amphitheatre 3 inches, but the fall at Lexton was much lighter being 1 inch. The countryside aling 1 inch. The countryside already has a different appearance, and with more rain from
