BUSH FIRES

Prompt action by the Streatham. Westmere and Lake Bolac Rural Fire Brigades (reports the "Ararat Advertiser) limited an outbreak of fire at Streatham on Thursday, 21st Decr., to a small area. The fire broke out about nidday on the Rossbridge-Streatham road shortly after a tractor had passed by. From the roadside it spread into Mr F. E. Doery's grass paddokeck and travelled for half a mile to Mr Ivan Forbes crop. Mr Forbes was away from home at the time of the outbreak but the fire fighters had the blaze blankered down after a couple of hours' work and brought the fire to a standstill in Mr Forbes' wheat crop and within a quarter of a mile of his house. Mr Forbes lost 20 to 30 acres of stripped and stooked hay, 200 bags of oats and two acres of standing wheat. Mr Doery lost 60 to 70 acres of

The Ararat "Advertiser" reports that an extraordinary series of 10 grass fires occurred betweei 6.15 and 7.30 p.m. on Monday, Decr. 25th, between Buangor and Ballyrogan. Little damage was done, however, as reidents in the vicinity and the Buangor Rural Fire Brigade took prompt action. The last fire, on Mr Evan Cameron's property at Challicum Hills, was dangerous and could easily have got out of hand in the long grass. The first fire was noticed near Buangor brigade. Mr Pickford extinguished another fire at Buangor Park, whilst four acres were burned on Challicum Hills before the fire was brought under control. We understand that as a result of enquiries made by the police action is being taken.

CR. AND MRS HAROLD RODDIS ENTERTAINED.

On New Year's eye a delightful surprise party, organised by Cr. and Mrs Harold Roddis' son, was held at their home, "Glenview," to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. The guests of honour, quite taken by surprise, were delighted to welcome their many friends. An organised musical evening, interspersed with humotu speeches, was enjovably spent in rooms tastefully decorated with masses of phlox, roses and Christmas lilies. A highlight of the evening's entertainment was the much appreciated rendering of "The Holy City by Mr John McKay. During supper the old year was bid adieu, and the new year welcomed, and at the appropriate moment, the usual oasts were proposed by Mr Ellis Veoman and Mr Les Greenbank Both the bride and groom responded, and congratulatory telegrams were read. A decorated cake was cut: each guest receiving a portion. So enjoyable was the evening that it was not until the wee sma' hours that guests reluctantly joined hands to sing

"Auld Lang Syne" and wend their way homewards. CHRISTMAS TREAT. A Christmas treat was given to the children of the district by he Carngham branch of the C.W.A. A well-laden Christmas ree stood in the middle of the nall. The president of the branch (Mrs H. H. Roddis) presided, and expressed pleasure at seeing so many present. Items were rendered by the following:-

Misses M. Bruty and Fay Nunn, Mesdames Smith and Armfield. and Messrs. Len Bruty, T. Hilbert and John McKay, and C.W.A. and Snake Valley choirs. Later Christmas carols were sung by candlelight, and the lights of the main hall were switched on as Father Christmas entered to the delight of all the children. Each child received a SCHOOL BREAK-UP.

At the break-up of the local school the children were entertained by the school committee to ice cream and lollies. The scholars presented a short programme of songs and plays. The head teacher, Mr Howman, took the opportunity of making a presentation on behalf of the acholars and school committee to Miss M. Alford, who is leaving to take an appointment at Warragul. Mr Howman expressed re-ELECTRICAL SHAVERS, £4/15/. gret at losing Miss Alford, and wished her every success in her new school. Mr H. H. Roddis. chairman of the School Commit-A. H. HALL, Beaufort. | tee, also spoke.
