Pirates of Kangaroo Island

It is difficult to realise that Kangaroo Island to-day, a prosperous pastoral community and tourist resort, was once a refuge for desperate escapees from the penal settlement of Van Die-man's Land and New South Wales. In the July issue of the "Australian Journal" Rex Grayson relates an exciting tale showing Alexander Tolwer, then Commanding Officer of the South Australian Mounted Police, faced with the almost insurmountable task of retaking a number of murderous villans who had escaped to this remote island sanctuary. This colourful and authentic story vividly illustrates a little-known phase of pioneering life in Australia, and gives a graphic picture of old-time troopers at work on land and sea, under difficulties which would startle a modern commando. Together with a truly grand elction of stories by local writers, all th usual features and the continuation of the bright serial "Knave of Hearts," by Barbara Cartland, this top

Arrangements have now been made to extend the Pensioners' Med cal Service to include Special Pharmaceutical Benefits for pensioners and their dependants in addition to he Life Saving Drugs already provided. Each pensioner must present his or her Medical Service Entitlement Card to the doctor, who will write two copies of the prescript on for the patient to take o any author sed pha macy which will be dispensed without charge to the

This means that age, invalid, widow, blind, tuberculosis and service pensioners, and their dependants under the age of 16 years, are now entitled to:

(a) Medical Treatment and (b) Special Pharmaceutical Benefits

in addition to Life Saving Drugs. Those who have not obtained their Medical Service Entitlement cards should make immediate application to the Commonwealth Department of Social

All enquiries regarding the Pensioners' Medical Service should be addressed to the Director-Seneral of Health, Canberra.

PRESENTATION OF SOIL CONSERVATION TROPHIES

Mr A. R. Beggs, of Buln Gherin, who won the Hanslow Cup, out of 31 • competitors in the Pyrenees Soil Conservation Competition, was on Thursday, 28th June, at a field day on his property, presented with the cup by by the Hon. R. K. Brose M.L.A., Minister for Conservation, who complimented him on the way he had improved his pastures. They were endeavouring to get landowners to improve their land and stop erosion. There was no need to tell Mr

Hon. E. J. Hogan presented tray from the Soil Conservation Authority, and said Mr Beggs was to be congratulated on the TARAX DRINKS ondition of his property and the ncreased production Mr Beggs said he was very pleased and proud to have won

Cr. C. Phillips presented Messrs. J. and W. de Winter. of Buangor, with a silver tray as winners of the Ararat Shire section of the competition; Mr J. Smith esponding on their behalf

Cr. G. C. Gordon presented : heodolte to Messrs. W. H Kaye & Son, of Elmhurst, win ners of the Lexton Shire prize: Mr G. Kaye returning hanks and stating that not taking steps to prevent erosion was a crime Cr. A. J. Hinton said he was delighted that the Hanslow Cup had come to Ripon Shire, and he congratulated Mr G. ### SOIL CONSERVATION

The Pyrenees Soil Conservation District Advisory Committee held its third meeting at Beaufort on 28th June, following the very successful Field Day on the farm of the Hanslow Cup winner in this year's Pyrenees Soil Conservation

The Committee was gratified to see a large attendance of district foly at the field day on Mr A. R Beggs' property, Buln Gherin. Beaufort, as it indicated an evergrowing interest in the very important matter of coil conservation. It is hoped that in future in the year.

Hon, R. K. Brose, the local member, Mr E. Morton, and the Chairman of the Soil Conserva- TARAX DRINKS tion Authority, Mr G. T. Thompson, attended the meeting of the Pyrenees Committee, and accompanied them next day on inspections in the Pyrenees District.

To assist the District Conservation Officer, Mr F. D. Runge, the Committee decided to group landholders who had requested inspections. Arrangements for inspections will be made by the landholder representatives of the Committee, and Mr Runge will carry out inspections of possibly three properties in one group andholders in a group will b able to accompany Mr Runge during inspection of other properties as well as their own, and thereby be able to gain an appreciation of their neighbours' problems and a better grasp of the implementation of soil conservation, as many soil erosion problems have to be tackled in different ways.

The recent stationing of temporary assistants and plant in this district has enabled the carrying out of an increased amount of work in the field; but even so, the demand on the services of the District Conservation Officer is far greater than he can hope to satisfy. This situation will continue until permanent assistants can be stationed in the Pyrenees District On Friday, 29th June, the Committee inspected the work recently completed by the Soil Conservation Authority plant, on the Buangor Co-operative Project. This co-operative project involved two landholders, the Victorian Railways and the S.C.A. All are highly pleased with the result of this, the first co-operative scheme implemented in this district
