Why Men Hate Shopping .- The

male lack of enthusiasm, even revulsion, for shopping originates in those appalling boyhood moments common to the members of the state of the state davs on which they were taken into a crowded store and made to hold some article of clothing up against their shrinking bod-ies while their mothers chatted in loud voices about the wisdom of wool next to the skin. The utter shame of having to hole a vest against your chest while it is explained publicly that you are growing like a beanstalk, that your toes always work through the ends of your socks and that you come out in a rash if you wear winterweight pyjamas in the summer, is never forgotten. No wonder that men bear deep mental scars from those encounters and buy clothing in an almost furtive manner through their adult lives."— in their fine traditions

SHARE their rich rewards

Fine traditions and the national importance of his job are the things that bring to a man that deep sense of pride that only a Serviceman knows. These are the things that you can share-by serving Australia in the Defence Forces.

You can share also the generous benefits with which Australia rewards her Servicemen. You can, for example, make an entirely new career in an occupation suited to your talents and interests (there are over 100 different specialist occupa tions within the Services). You can gain a securfuture (continuity of engagement is assured. with a pension or gratuity paid on retirement) You can share in the great opportunities for advancement that an expanding Navy, Army and Air Force are constantly creating. And when you consider the special liberal system of pay and allowances you'll see that a service career compares more than favourably with most other occupations. Make a point of getting the full story-it's worth knowing.

AN IMPORTANT FACT ABOUT SERVICE PAY-

There is one basic fact that makes a substantial inorease in a Serviceman's income. The value of the "catras" over and above each pay. As an example, an 18-year-old Serviceman who has completed his basic recruit training (usually $ to 6 months) earns over £9/10/. a week and in addition he is provided with food, clothing, accommodation and medical and dental attention.
