A PIONEER OF THE GOLDFIELDS DIES, AGED 80

The dwindling ranks of goldfields' pioneers lost another of its members following the death of Mr William Maher. (80) of Burt Street, Boulder. The late Mr Maher who was born in Victoria, followed the gold rush to the gold fields in 1895. He worked as a miner at Broad Arrow until about 1900 when he came to Kalgoorlie where he worked as a lorry driver travelling between Kalently, the H. A. Harris of goorlie and Kanowna. Mr Maher later entered the firm The bride, who was given of Paulcey Bros. with whom he away by her uncle, Mr Norman was still emplyoed at the Marshall, wore a redingote time of his death. Although gown of lace and tulle over he took no active interest in blue taffeta. The bodice, with sport he was a keen follower lits square neckline and lily- of bicycle riding and footpoint sleeves, merged into the running and often recalled the death.
