Part Time Tram Lane Holmes Street Brunswick

Routes 1 and 8

March 2008

VRPIN02019

Improvement Works

In March 2008, as part of the Think Tram program, VicRoads is installing electronic signage and flashing road markers to highlight the existing part time tram lane in Holmes Street in the outbound direction between Balmoral Avenue and Moreland Road, Brunswick.

The part time tram lane operates between 4.00 pm – 6.30 pm Monday to Friday.

The electronic signs and road markers will flash during the hours that the part time tram lane is in operation. The signs advise drivers that there is a tram lane ahead and to merge into the left lane before the tram only lane.

Road Rules

Motorists are not allowed to travel in a tram lane during its hours of operation, except to:

- make a right hand turn
- avoid an obstruction (such as a parked car).

These exceptions apply as long as you do not delay a tram.

Parking or stopping is not permitted alongside part time tram lanes during the hours of operation.

VicRoads works with Victoria Police to ensure motorists comply with these rules. Fines of up to $220 are issued to motorists who do not obey these rules.

Part Time Tram Lanes

A part time tram lane is a length of tram track that is reserved for trams during certain hours. Part time tram lanes help trams stay on schedule by keeping cars off the tram tracks during peak hours on busy roads where trams are often delayed.

They are marked by a solid yellow line next to the tram tracks and the hours of operation are displayed on overhead signs. Motorists are not allowed to drive in part time tram lanes during the times specified on the overhead signs.

There are 24 part time tram lanes across Melbourne.
