SCHOOL PLEA BEFORE COUNCIL

Dept. hit

Expanding his call for a second Warrandyte prim-ary school (see story right) Cr. Robert White urged that it should include a community library.

"People in Warrandyte have shown a demand for a library," Cr. White said. "This is backed up by records from council's bookmobile during its weekly visit to War-randyte. randyte.

"We now have a chance to

"We now have a chance to make sure that as important a facility as a library is developed for the entire community."

Cr. White pointed out that a public library, included in the proposed new primary school at West Warrandyte, would not only provide a much needed community service at a cheaper cost for ratepayers, but it would be conveniently sited for residents of both Warrandyte and Park Warrandyte and Park Orchards.

Cr. White said he believed a public library should be incorporated in the school proposed new building.

We, as a council, should take immediate steps to see this facility is not just used during school

The education crisis facing Warrandyte is continuing to build up pressure in the community.

A Warrandyte ward councillor is the latest to take up the plea for new primary and secondary schools in the area.

His calls follows a long fight by the Warrandyte Primary School Committee, Warrandyte Secondary School Project Steering Committee, and concerned parents.

Almost two years ago, the Diary first predicted that serious school accom-dation problem was modation was developing in Warrandyte.

Despite the continuing efforts by Mr. Norman Lacy, State member for Ringwood, and a deputation to the Minister for Education, Mr. Thompson, nothing has been Addressing a recent Don-caster and Templestowe Council meeting, Cr. Robert caster White said:

"It appears that the Education Department is of the belief that children living in Warrandyte and Park Orchards will either never or when they do, it will be extra hard for them to receive secondary schooling. "Such a situation is to me

"Such a situation is to me as astounding as it is ludicrous. This year alone, Park Orchards Primary School will have 44 pupils leaving for secondary schooling, South Warrandyte 24, and Warrandyte 72 — a total of 140.

"And these children are being forced as far afield as

"Already, children from being Warrandyte are refused admittance Maroondah and Norwood High Schools, unless a brother or sister attends the school, because of space problems

Cr. White quoted the acting principal of Warrandyte Primary School, Mr. Barrie Borley, as saying: "Warrandyte children are a numerical expediency that andyte children numerical example randyte children are a numerical expediency that can be whisked around with the flick of an office pen."

Cr. White pointed out that he was not asking for a secondary school building to appear overnight, but felt council should ask the Education Department to take a progressive step and reserve land for a school reserve land for a school site

Calling for the long overdue commencement of the proposed West Warrandyte Primary School, Cr. White said that the existing school has 505 pupils, "170 more than Mr. Borley regards as satisfactory" satisfactory.

People leave a lot of funny things in (or, if space is tight, alongside) those rubbish trailers the shire leaves around North Warrandyte for our convenience.

And somebody took the "convenience" bit to logical conclusion by dumping just that in the last one left on the Bradleys Lane-Research Road corner.

There it sat in all its glory - a dunny seat draped in debris.

It had survived a couple of days before your columnist got around to sniffing out the story.

CHURCH SCHOOL PROPOSAL UNDERWAY

Church congregations in Warrandyte and Park Orchards are discussing a proposal for an inter-denominational secondary school for the district.

The Diary believes that the clergy and lay councils of the Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and Anglican churches at Warrandyte and Park Orchards have separately discussed possibility.

A sub-committee of representatives from the three churches will meet on Tuesday, December 10, to consider the opinions of their sider the opinions of their congregations.

Proposed as an "ecumenical community secondary school", the idea is seen as another attempt to solve Warrandyte's post-primary school crisis (see story, page 1)

It is believed there is

school in existence Australia, only one other ecumenical

The following points are being discussed:

• That facilities be developed which are both suitable to serve the needs of our community and also house a secondary school.

• That the school be an ecumenical christian school, where hopefully the atmosphere would be such as to encourage growth in the christian faith.

• That the school serve the families living in the geographical locations of Warrandyte and Park Orchards as its first priority.

This means that preference for entry into the school be given to children who live in this area, above either academic or financial con-siderations, as they may to children living in apply to children living in areas beyond. The hope and intent is that the school should build and enrich our communities and not divide

• That control of the school be vested in the hands of the three denominations, drawing personnel from the five local congregations. gations.

• That the facilities, buildings, grounds, etc., be made available to the wider community (not just the church community) for adult education, cultural, sporting and social pursuits.

• That with reference to the community centre, initial and continuing consultation be invited from members of the wider community, local council, and the State and federal governments. The federal governments. The end result of this process to be the establishment of for the establishment of facilities which are genuinely tailored to the needs of this community and which would be immediately and continually available for utilisation by community groups

• That as far as possible, the total project be so shaped as to attract the maximum possible financial support from parties known be interested in such

School council open

The form of Warrandyte Primary School's governing body is still to be decided.

A public meeting last month could not decide between several alternatives and instead elected a sub-committee to further discuss the matter and bring forth a proposal.
This committee has since

Into committee has since met, explored the subject at some depth, and come up with four concrete recom-mendations.

A major plank in the recommendations is that a School Association should be formed, open to all parents, teachers and other interested members of the community.

The School Association is seen as possibly replacing the existing Mothers' Club, with with sub-committees res-ponsible for such functions as the canteen, fund-raising and social activities.

"It should also be seen as providing an opportunity for community participation in educational matters," a spokesman for the subcommittee states.

"It is suggested that the School Association should have full representation on the proposed new school council. Others on the council could include representatives elected by parents, staff nominees, the school council and a school council could include representatives elected by parents, staff nominees, the school council could be described to the school council coun principal, and a representa-tive of the Minister for Education."

The matter will be discussed at a further public meeting to be held in the school library on Monday, December 9, commencing at

For years I've paid my rates and I'm blowed if I'm going to support the Collins cockies of What's this farm rate business? Warrandyte these days is just an outer suburb. The chook farmers and orchardists have chopped up their land and got out.

Why should the Cinderella Ward cop the rate increase biggest

When we were screaming for a separate municipality the councillors came around pouring on the oil. They and the local papers didn't tell us about the secret 'farm" rate.

No wonder some of these people are still thinking about hopping over into the Eltham Shire.

ENVIRONMENT ALERT!

If workmen are cutting or lopping trees indiscriminately, or are otherwise interfering with the environment, try discus-sing the matter with the fore-man, or phone the authority concerned (see elsewhere on this page) or contact the War-randyte Environment League, 844 3086. Prompt action on your part can often be most effective in helping to protect our unique surroundings.

Netball close

senior Warrandyte's netball girls must be wondering if they'll al-ways be the "bridesmaids".

For the second season in a row, they have made — and lost — the final of the Heidelberg netball competition.

This year, they were beaten by just one goal.

The Warrandyte juniors have swept all before them in the Park Orchards spring competition.

Four Warrandyte teams have made the finals—three of them undefeated.
The Under-14s, Under-12s (Team 2) and Under-10s (Team 1) went through the qualifying rounds without loss.
The other finalists are the Under-10s (Team 1).

GUIDES WIN BIG EVENT

The Warrandyte Girl Guide company took the honors at the recent field day at Zerbes's Reserve, East Doncaster.

JOURNAL UNDER WAY

"Bampi", the annual agazine of Warrandyte magazine of Warrandyte Primary School, is about to go to press.

Composed entirely of stories, poems and pieces written by the children, the magazine is being published in the attractive "poster" format that proved so popular last year.

DIARY INCENTIVE SCHEME PLAN TO BOOST FOOTBALL HOPES

Warrandyte Football Club seniors coach John Tuckwell is so keen for the club to make the 1975 finals that he has begun training the side for next season.

And the committee is supporting him to the hilt with a cash bonus incentive for best players.

In his first season with Warrandyte last year, Tuck-well helped lift the club out of the doldrums. The side won seven games for the season which was more than they had won in the previous two seasons.

"We have got to get keenness and fitness back into the side," Tuckwell told the Diary this week. Apart from the Sunday morning training runs Tuck-well is in constant touch with the committee on training and recruiting.

Already several promising new players have indicated they will be coming to play with Warrandyte next
