BCC / BPG Interclub 2019

On the evening of Saturday 21st September the Ballarat Camera Club hosted the annual Interclub competition at their clubrooms in Barkly street. Considering the inclement weather and conflicting event (White Night), the night was generally well attended by both clubs. The night was officiated by well-known local photographer and judge Peter Kerverac who did a splendid job at providing a helpful critique of images. The competition was fairly even throughout the judging process with Ballarat Photography Group winning 2 categories (large prints and small prints set subject) and Ballarat Camera Club winning the other 2 categories (EDI and small prints open). But alas when the aggregate points were tallied up it was Ballarat Camera Club that came away with the win. Full details are as follows.
